

HOLY NAME SOCIETY TO BE ORGANIZED AT ST. VIATOR COLLEGE

Enthusiastic Reception Accorded Proposal

At the last regular meeting of the College Club, held in the Club room on Monday evening, December 3, the idea of organizing a local branch of the Holy Name Society was broached. The plan originated from the attendance of the two College Club delegates, Mr. Allen Nolan and Mr. Jarlath M. Watson at the Catholic Sodality Conference at Loyola University some weeks ago.

At the meeting in Chicago many varied plans for student organization along religious lines were brought up and discussed. Of the numerous sodalities and unions outlined, few of them seemed to come up to the standards set forth in the constitution of the Holy Name Society.

Mr. Nolan Introduces Subject

Mr. J. Allen Nolan, at the request of the chairman, presented to the members of the club his views on the proposed society, his reasons for backing its introduction at St. Viator College, and as much of its aspirations and purposes as he was familiar with. Mr. Lawrence O'Shea followed Mr. Nolan with a speech in which he praised the aims of the organization, relating the benefits and good works resulting from its many branch chapters throughout the country. These remarks were further added to by the president, Mr. Watson, who then asked that the individuals of the College Club express themselves upon the matter.

Plan Unanimously Adopted

Everyone who voiced his opinion was heartily in favor of the project. A vote was taken, and the affirmative result was practically unanimous. A motion that a president be elected for the society in order to hasten its organization and to insure its proper direction from the start was passed. Mr. G. Raymond Sprague was nominated, and, following a discussion on the capabilities of the nominee, the choice was made unanimous. Mr. Sprague was instructed to proceed immediately to lay plans preparatory to attaining a chapter of the Holy Name Society.

The Holy Name Society had its inception under the guiding influence of Dominicans. In 1274, Pope Gregory of St. Dominic, head of the order of X, in order to promote a universal respect for the Holy Name, asked that the order of preachers under the direction of St. Dominic help to spread zeal and devotion for the Name of Christ.

Blessed John of Vercelli, then Dominican General, led the Order in carrying out the will of the Holy Father with scrupulous diligence and untiring zeal. Devotion spread rapidly and in 1432 the organization was given its present name. Now it is universal and is recognized as one of the largest and most influential of Catholic Societies.

Briefly, its purpose is to maintain and to increase man's faith in the divinity of the Savior and to promote a respect and honor for His Name. An organized body of men striving heart and soul to make Jesus the Man-God better known and better loved—this is the Holy Name Society and its aim.

RESIGNATION OF PRESIDENT WILSON ENDS EUREKA STRIKE

College Students Jubilant Over Victory

The student strike at Eureka college officially ended Friday night when Bert Wilson resigned, stating that it would be impossible for him to continue.

His resignation was the result of a conference that had lasted from 9:00 o'clock in the morning until 7:30 that night. Upon his unconditional resignation, Richard Dickinson, chairman of the board of trustees, was named acting president of the college. The executive committee appointed a committee to select a successor to President Wilson.

Trouble has been brewing for some time. It was brought to a head when a meeting of the officers took place, in which it was decided that expenses must be cut down. This would, it is understood, necessitate the removal of some of the professors. With this action, a student council that has been acting secretly in opposition to President Wilson, came out openly, and demanded the removal of the president. Practically the entire student body subscribed to the petition that was sent to the board of trustees. A special meeting of the board of trustees took place, in which President Wilson's proffered resignation was refused. The student strike officially began on Wednesday, November 28, lasting until Friday of last week.

Among the many rumors spread during the strike was one to the effect that the college was to be removed to Springfield and called Abraham Lincoln college, also that the removal of several members of the faculty and the student strike leaders would be demanded if the resignation of President Wilson was accepted. Various financial difficulties and the doubtful futures of many small colleges was pointed out in a statement by President Wilson during the strike.

A midnight mass meeting, following the afternoon football game in commemoration of Dad's Day, brought out the fact that the student body were backed by the alumni and faculty.

The student statement and the Former Student Makes Magnificent Donation

Oscar L. Malo '95, recently presented to the Cathedral School, Denver, Colorado a new gymnasium building costing approximately $40,000, as a memorial to his eldest son who died while attending the school in August, 1921. The corner stone was laid on November 28th.

The new gymnasium is to be fully equipped and the large room will be so constructed that theatrical performances can be given there. Mr. Malo's son, in whose memory the building is to be erected, had a formidable record about the school as an athlete.

Mr. Malo, a former resident of Kankakee, has resided in Denver for some years. He is president of the Colorado Milling and Elevator Company. He is well known as a philanthropist, having donated large sums to Catholic education.

Little "19" Conference Representatives Meet

A convention of Little Nineteen College representatives was held at the Sherman Hotel, Chicago, last Friday. Very Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, c. s. v., A. M. and Coach Sam McAllister represented St. Viator College at the meet.

Father Maguire was instrumental in securing the "Little Nineteen" swimming meet, which was inaugurated here last year, again this year. The date was set for March 16.

Coach McAllister managed to practically complete the baseball schedule for 1929. A list of fourteen games were contracted for. A dual swimming meet with Millikin was arranged for Feb. 16, here. Lake Forest was added to the St. Viator baseball schedule. A football contract with Lombard, who was reinstated by a vote taken at last Friday's conference, was signed by the Lombard and Viator mentors.

president's resignation are given as presented by the board:

"We, the students of Eureka college assembled in mass meeting at the college chapel on morning of Friday, Dec. 7, 1928, desire to express as a group our position with reference to the present disturbance on the campus.

ACADEMY LITERARY CLUB IN AMATEUR NITE AT MUSIC HALL

Plans for Practice in Dramatics Outlined

You never know what you can do until you are put to the task. To its surprise, the Academy Literary and Dramatic Club found this a fact last Tuesday night when each member was pledged to perform an original stunt at its open meeting.

When, at a previous meeting, an amateur night was proposed, quite a murmur arose in opposition because of a prevalent lack of abilities among the members in the arts of acting, singing, speaking, story-telling and what-nots of general indoor entertainments. But like the loyal soldiers when confronted by the enemy, or like the zealous politician who must, at the price of deposition, defend the cause of his party, every member to a man arose to his own defense at the last meeting.

After the usual business of the regular meeting was put into the minutes, individual after individual was called upon to contribute his share to the evening's entertainment. Some prepared poems; others gave dialogues; several individuals told stories; another sang a song; while a few attempted the extemporaneous. Probably the most outstanding feature of the entire evening was a short sketch written and dramatized by Barton, McFawn, and Duffield. These three aspiring young playwrights betook themselves to the music rooms during the afternoon of the fateful day and improvised a stage, setting, curtains and lighting effects. When these were completed, they decided to write and rehearse their act. In about one hour the act was finished and presented that same evening to the audience. The plot held fascination, mystery, and suspense right up to the climax which came as a surprise to the audience. This performance started something. Now the three would-be actors have organized the "Fourth Corridor Stock Company" and expect to present a one act drama of their own conception each week at the regular meeting of the club. They said "all you need is a will to try and you will find out what you can do."

MONSIGNOR QUILLE HIGHLY HONORED BY EUCCHARISTIC CONG.

He Becomes a Member of the Permanent Committee

The Permanent Committee of International Eucharistic Congresses has announced the election to membership on the Committee of an Alumnus of St. Viator College, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. C. J. Quille, of Chicago. This appointment is a well merited recognition of the services of Monsignor Quille as General Secretary of the XXVII International Eucharistic Congress. For months and months before the actual opening of the Congress he was engaged in supervising the tremendous work of organization necessary for the Congress. Monsignor Quille was on the Official Committee that journeyed from Chicago to New York to welcome Cardinal Bonzano, the Papal Legate. During the days of the Congress Monsignor Quille was the busiest man in Chicago. Even after the event had closed he worked on, supervising the preparation and distribution of the Congress Motion Picture, an official record of the gigantic celebration.

Until the appointment of Monsignor Quille, the Permanent Committee of Eucharistic Congresses, with a personnel of twenty-six men, has had but one American member. This Committee is in general charge of all Eucharistic Congresses, decides where they shall be held, and other important questions.

Monsignor Quille is at present working for the welfare of young working people in Chicago. He is in charge of the homes for the working girl known as Rita Clubs, and assisted by his brother, the Rev. A. J. Quille, also an alumnus of St. Viator College, he conducts the Mission of Our Lady of Mercy. This Mission, with a yearly attendance of about 450, includes The Working Boy's Home, the Child Saving Union, a Juvenile Court and a House of Correction.

Christmas Party Plans Go Forward

Hang up your stockings! Place a quarter, two-bit piece, on the hearth and find yourselves laden with wonderful Christmas presents, joys, thrills and surprises, for Santa is going to be very generous Wednesday evening, December 19, at eight o'clock in the College gym.

The reason for all this preparedness is that the high school students are preparing a Christmas party as a pre-holiday event. There will be a dramatization of Dicken's Christmas Carol by the first year students with singing and other Christmas novelties by the upper classes. As a finale to the evening's entertainment, one hundred beautiful and valuable gifts will be presented to those patrons who happen to be lucky enough to have their names drawn from the box and someone in the audience will in addition go home richer by a two dollar and a half gold piece, which is given as a prize. Every person entering the auditorium will have a chance at this grand prize. As there may be many changes in the cast, we cannot, at this early date, publish the entire list of personnel.

Christmas

On the twenty-fifth day of December is celebrated the world's most important and most prominent birthday anniversary. Christmas, commemorating the birth of Christ, rivals Easter in the joy that it brings to the hearts of Christians. Easter reminds the world of the Resurrection of the Redeemer, the re-birth of the world's hopes for salvation, and the restoration of faith in Divine Providence. But Easter would not exist if Christmas had not preceded it. Christ had to be born into the world before He could die in it.

This act of the Savior's set a precedent which still is characteristic of the holy feast. He gave Himself to a needy people and the world, in a humbler and more unpretentious way, has continued the practice of giving since that time.

As the years have passed the spirit of Christmas has steadily grown until today all nations pause to hail the yet living Redeemer. Each country retains its quaint and customary manner of observing Yuletide, yet over each celebration hovers the spirit of the First Great Giver Who set the standards for a wearied and unhappy universe.

Ducky O'Malley

For the past three years the "red-head" has paced the corridors of Viator's halls, has trod the paths that cut the college campus, has raced the length and breadth of the playing fields and the hardwood courts with a silent mouth, a pair of clear, blue eyes and a heart that promises to beat forever to the interests of his college and his college mates. And during these three long and eventful years, he has been the hero of the small boys, the partner of his teammates and the friend of everyone.

Now, in his senior year, "Ducky" is justly reaping the fruits of his past idealization of superior and incomparable principles. Unheralded and unsung he has "played the game" for Viator and today every sports critic in the State without a single exception acclaims him the best center in the "Little Nineteen Conference." Truly, the lanky Irishman could rest on his laurels. But that is not his way.

For the past two seasons has has been named on the second All-Conference basketball team, losing first choice by the narrowest of margins in each case. This year he is on his way to his last and best try for the position. Only a miracle man will have a chance to beat him. And some day in the near future the major leagues will be vieing with each other for his services in guiding the destinies of their center garden position. A careful vote is unnecessary in determining the extent of "Ducky's" popularity at St. Viator.

Alumni Notes

The Viatorian regrets that in the last issue the title "Reverend" was omitted from the name of our loyal and distinguished priest-alumnus, the Rev. Andrew J. Burns, of Sterling, Illinois.

The Rev. Thomas O'Brien, of the class of 1911, is building a splendid new $70,000 Grammar School for his parish in Rochelle, Illinois.

The Very Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, c. s. v., on his recent trip to New Orleans, called on two old students of St. Viator College: the Very Rev. F. D. Sullivan, S. J., President of Loyola University, there, and Mr. John Connors, who has been recently made head of the School of Commerce at the same institution.

News has reached us that John T. Ellis '27, will visit at the College for a few days before the beginning of the Christmas holidays. Mr. Ellis is working for a Ph. D. at the Catholic University, Washington, and in addition is an instructor in Public Speaking at the Sulpician Seminary there, as well as private secretary to another of the alumni, the Rev. Fulton J. Sheen.

Gabriel Legris, who was also of the class of 1927 sailed from New York November 28 for Europe. He has gone direct to Paris, from whence he will tour France, Italy and Switzerland, expecting to be abroad for about six months. Before sailing he visited in New York with his classmate, Joseph Harrington.

Mr. Patrick A. Marcotte visited at the College twice in the last month. He is now a representative of Seidel & Sons Manufacturing Food Chemists, Chicago. He is now living at 325 Franklin Ave., River Forest, Ill.

In answer to an invitation to attend the recent inauguration ceremonies at the College, the Very Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, c. s. v., received a letter of congratulation from an alumnus whom no one has heard from for many years, Al B. Schick, of the class of 1907. Mr. Schick is now living in California, where he says the climate best agrees with him, for he has been an invalid since shortly after his graduation. He would be very much pleased and very grateful if any one of his old friends would write to him at 718 Olive Ave., Long Beach, Calif.

George Lopartz, Jr., who registered at St. Viator's in 1911 from Joliet, is now the owner and manager of a hotel in Jacksonville, Illinois.

Phil J. Sherer, another product of Joliet, and who attended school here in 1918, is now the Assistant Superintendent at the U. S. Steel Mills, Joliet.

The Rev. Thomas Shea '18, Chancellor of the Peoria Diocese, recently spoke to the students of Bradley Polytechnic Institute, pleading that they make a thorough investigation of charges made against the Catholic Church, and that they do not allow themselves to be swayed by unfounded and anti-American prejudices. Father Shea gave this address following popular indignation over an address delivered recently at Bradley by a non-Catholic clergyman. The daily press states that Father Shea's address was very enlightening to the non-Catholic students of the Institute.

Recent visitors at the College were Father Francis Cleary, Watseka; Francis Bell, Joliet; and Arthur A. Armbruster, Bloomington.

As this issue of the Viatorian was going to press notification of the election of St. Viator College to the position of Treasurer in the Chicago Archdiocese Student's Spiritual Conference, was received. Ballots were cast by mail, each school in the Conference having one vote. The Hare Preferential System of Voting was used. Loyola University, Chicago, received the highest number of votes which gives the Jesuit school the offices of President and Secretary. St. Viator College was second. The three vice-presidents are from DePaul University, Chicago; Longwood Academy, Chicago; and Rosary College, River Forest, Ill.

The President of the Spiritual Union at St. Viator College acts in the capacity of Treasurer for the Conference.

Campus Briefs

Each day the crash of falling rocks reminds us that the old gym is disappearing from sight. Memories of happy days there still linger in the minds of those who recollect good times in Brother Boisvert's masterpiece.

The Senior Big Five under the guidance of Coach "Johnny" Herbert and Manager "Lefty" Laenhardt is planning an extensive schedule for the basketball season. Saturday night the Seniors met Tom Doyle's "Terrible Juniors." The adjective terrible is no aspersion of the ability of the Juniors—just a name.

Have you noted the snappy jackets which the dignified (?) Seniors are wearing about the campus? The elderly gents tell us that they are warm but too easily confused with those of the other members of the class.

Now that old King Winter has slipped upon us again the boys seem to have that old "zip." Gone is the desire to decorate the corners with collegiate personalities and the rooms of Roy are again the most popular spots hereabouts.

The daily mail seems to be heavier. O! Yes, Christmas is coming. Perhaps there is a Santa Claus. For proof see Mr. Delaney or Mr. Herbert. They rate no less than two a day from the girls at home.

No doubt the Howling Hundred will function at the Varsity games this winter. Don't forget the Academy either. Though they are small they deserve lots of credit for their real "Irish" fight.

Rumor hath it that Mr. Vallyey, our eminent musical genius, has it in mind to compose a marching song for the "Irish." "Go to it Louie" you write it and we will sing it and Viator's teams will march thru 'em.

A certain member of the Senior class has a novel way of saving. Instead of going to K. K. K. to a show he simply overeats and the resultant nightmare provides him with plenty of amusement.

Won't be long now. Just a few days and the exodus of homeward bound college boys will begin. The festive season is at hand and for those who have never been away from home before the idea should afford genuine pleasure. But for the old-timers it is more than going; sleep, food and clothing. Anyway, home, it's a recapitulation period new or old, it's Merry Christmas.

President's Resignation
Ends Eureka Strike

First, a petition recently presented to the board of trustees bearing the signatures of 143 of our group and requesting the removal of President Bert Wilson came as the culmination of an unhappy situation which has prevailed among us for a considerable time. In view of the fine spirited statement made last evening by President Wilson before a group of trustees, faculty, alumni and student representatives, we instruct our leaders to withdraw our petition.

Second, we confirm the statement made before the executive committee and before the entire board of trustees by our leaders in this matter that it was not our intention to cast any reflection upon the moral character of President Wilson. Any such interpretation does not reflect our attitude in this affair.

Third, we are wholly aware of the fact that questions of such vital importance in the life of the college are those set out in the petition must be decided by the board of trustees. We do not presume to dictate what their action shall be in any matter affecting the policies and programs of the school.

Fourth, we love Eureka college and are loyal to her traditions and deeply interested in her future. In this spirit we pledge our whole-hearted support of all measures adopted by the trustees and students in the best interests of the college.

"Impossible to Continue"

The president's statement was as follows:

"The situation that has preceded makes it impossible for me to continue with any satisfaction to myself or with any possibility of effective results for the college. Other avenues of service are open to me and the burden will be lifted from my shoulders if tonight I know that I am free from any further connection with this unfortunate situation. As for the students I have known them all by name and the town from which they came. I wish everyone of them the best that the future has in store. I am still a firm believer in the idealism and the integrity of the present generation of American youth and for all of these years at Eureka. Since Christmas time is approaching I say to them in the language of Little Tim, "God Bless You, Everyone."

During the strike, students were scattered throughout the town, busy with any tasks they could find, or with their studies. They declared that they had much to lose if a strike action resulting in the closing of the school for the rest of the year resulted. Only 12 of the 220 students were attending class Friday, but many were keeping up their work with the aid of instructors.

Opinion was divided amongst the townspeople, but it was believed that the majority were in favor of accepting the resignation of President Wilson, whether he was right or wrong. Discussion centered chiefly about the future welfare of the college. Many friends of the college were in favor of a change because they feared that prospective students might be lost if they did not know more about the college than the fact that there had been a controversy.

It was also feared that if the board insisted upon removing some of the students, the greater majority of the students would abandon their classes in sympathy, as it would be difficult to name the leaders.

It was stated by representatives of the student body, that though they stood to lose most by the petition and movement, that they were only acting for the best interests of the college.

ILLINI STUDENTS SET UP DECALOG FOR SPORTS FANS

Ask Spectators To Apply Golden Rule

Champaign, Ill.—The climax of the campaign of University of Illinois students for better sportsmanship by spectators at athletic contests, especially basketball, was reached today when four hundred students met and adopted the following "Illinois code of sportsmanship," which read as follows:

"A true Illini sportsman:
Will consider all athletic opponents as guests and treat them with all of the courtesy due friends and guests.
Will accept all decisions of officials without question.
Will never hiss or boo a player or official.
Will never utter abusive or irritating remarks from the side line.

Will applaud opponents who make good plays or show good sportsmanship.

Will never attempt to rattle an opposing player, such as the pitcher in a baseball game or a player attempting to make a free throw in a basketball game.

Will seek to win by fair and lawful means, according to the rules of the game.

Will love the game for its own sake and not for what winning may bring him.

Will 'Do unto others as he would have them do unto him.'

Will 'Win without boasting and lose without excuses.'

Will 'Win without boasting and lose without excuses.'

Will 'Win without boasting and lose without excuses.'

Seniors Triumph Over Juniors in Hard Battle

In a fast and thrilling basketball game in the college gymnasium a team representing the Senior class barely managed to outpoint a quintet composed of the brain and brawn of the Junior aggregation last Saturday night. Playing the curtain raiser to the St. Viator Academy-St. Anne game, the college basketball team staged an entertainment that all but eclipsed the scheduled attraction of the evening.

The game followed a challenge presented to Junior Class President Doyle by Manager Laenhardt of the traditionally dignified outfit. Duly signed and witnessed, the auspicious contract took a prominent place on the bulletin board and was instrumental in drawing to the gym practically the entire student body who made up the major part of an interested and enthusiastic audience.

The Senior five was composed of such luminaries as football captain John Herbert, "Lefty" Laenhardt, ex-varsity basketball man, Tom Hanahan, star Viator lineman and last year's high point man in the Senior League, athletic manager John Smith, runnerup in point average last year and basketball man extraordinary, and "Eddie" O'Neil, former star forward on the Viator Academy team.

The Junior "Underdogs" had for their mainstays "Grizz" Donaghue, former leading "track" man from Gifford, "Fat" Carroll, once-great Academy guard, Joe Logan, one of the famous Fort Wayne faction and stellar varsity guard, "Curly" Gallagher, a superior satellite from the English Drama class, and Jay Watson, formerly the center pole with the St. Paul, Odell, Ill., championship volleyball tossers.

The game started off on the run and slowed up only at intervals in which the hardworking Juniors edge, no advantage, wants his opponent to have a chance. Athletes of the Big Ten generally display this attitude. I think you are taking a step that will cause that standard to be forever maintained."

Director Huff told the students that the standard of sportsmanship in the western conference had long been high, that it had continued to advance until about two years ago. Since that time, he said, there has seemed to be a backward trend, especially in basketball.

found it necessary to resort to the pulmotor. The sharp eye and steady nerve of the massive "Grizz" kept the fighting undergraduates even with the challengers. The half ended with the score knotted at 12 all.

The second half was a repetition of the first with both teams going full tilt. The Seniors forged slowly ahead in the fourth quarter and a desperate rally by the Juniors failed to head them.

John Conley was substituted for Jay Watson in the closing minutes of play and revived the dying hope in the Junior breasts with two buckets in quick succession. But the onward march was halted with the "under-puppies" just three big points short.

For the winner, Smith and Hanahan led the attack, while the accurate pot-shooting of Donaghue and the incomparable defensive work of Carroll deserve headlines for the losers.

Delaney and Evard should come in for their share of commendation in the very excellent manner in which they engineered the contest.

"O'er A Lowly Stable, Beaming"

By Joseph Drolet

Shine! O shine and glow still brighter,
Brilliant watcher of the night.
O'er this cave, shine thou the brighter,

Star of Heav'n arrest thy flight!

Shepherds waking, rise and hasten
Toward this prodigy—the light.
All the skies in splendor glisten,
Breezes whisper their delight.
Angel choirs sing their greeting,
Happy tidings to men bring,
In men's hearts their joy completing.
Hill and vale with echo ring.

"Glory to Our God in Heaven,
Peace on earth to men! O sing!
Sing sweet hymns o'er this poor haven;

Sing Hosanna to Our King."
O'er a lowly stable, beaming,
Stands the miracle—the star;
In and around that cavern gleaming,
Guiding shepherds from afar.

To the Angels' beck complying,
Shepherds enter and behold
Cherubs singing, Seraphs flying
Round a manger, worn and old.

VIATORIANA

Viatoriana

John Joseph Johnson was a noted autobiographer. In fact he was more than noted; he was famous. He had written so many "autobiographies" of great men that his own character had become immersed in the characters of others until you might say that he had no character at all. He had written biographies of statesmen, prize fighters, actresses, world flyers and everyone else that had any reason at all for writing on "life." Things went on smoothly for him until one day a careless horse kicked him in the head. He was unconscious for three days. When he awoke in the hospital he found that he had forgotten even his identity. What's more he had forgotten the identity of the man for whom he was writing his latest book. He was still struggling to recover his memory when the nurse walked in. "How is the patient this morning?" she asked.

"He was coming out of his corner charging like a wild bull. I met him in the middle of the ring with a right to the head."

"Oh," said the nurse, "then you are a pugilist?"

"Yes," answered Johnson. "We children of the rich never have the real hardships of life, I am often sorry that I was born of noble parents. I recall one time in Hollywood—"

"Then you are a movie actor," said the nurse.

"We have a beautiful home in Hollywood," answered Johnson. "Flowers growing around the door; sunshine streaming in the windows. Oh how I hate to leave it for the war."

"What! You a soldier?" asked the nurse.

"I have only one regret in my life that is, that I did not partake in the last war. But it was Uncle Sam's will that I stay and amuse the soldiers by my card tricks."

"But who are you?" interrogated the nurse.

"I," said Johnson, frowning, "am King George."

Since war has been abolished forever the nations are now building battleships to take the sailors for a ride.

The papers say that South America is ready for a big boom. We have lots of slightly used ones that we will sell cheap.

At last! The great problem of how to play hooky from the correspondence school has been solved. Send them an empty envelope.

A modern philosopher has said that this world is a great place because of the change. It is if you have enough change.

As our contribution to modern parlor games we offer: "Tid-ly Winks With a Puppy Dog." The game is played in this manner; seat yourself facing a dog on the floor. Then blow gently in the dog's face, pulling his tail at the same time. Use your own judgment from then on.

Eight more days until Christmas vacation.

At The Majestic

Dec. 16, "Midnight Taxi," Helen Costello and Antonio Moreno. This program is quite different. It is a synchronized feature. The two stars haven't been seen on the screen in a long time. The story is good. Regular three acts of Orpheum-Keith Vodvil.

Dec. 17, 18, 19, "Women They Talk About," with William Collier, Jr. What is it they talk about? Who is it that talks? Who, what and when? That's for you to see and to hear. With the Vitaphone.

Dec. 20, 21, 22, "Tenderloin," Conrad Nagel and Miss Costello. This is an unusual underworld story. Conrad Nagel portrays the big crook out for big money only. With the Vitaphone it's a living story; don't fail to see as well as to hear it.

At The Luna

Dec. 16, "Nothing To Wear," Jacqueline Logan. Imagine the poor girl's embarrassment with nothing to wear. How could she step out? How could she entertain with nothing to wear? See for yourself!

Dec. 17, 18, 19, "The Goodbye Kiss," Johnny Burk and Sally Eilers. Goodbye, the parting word. The lips that kissed and said goodbye. A colorful tale. Unique!

Dec. 20, 21, 22, "The Haunted House," Barbara Bedford, Thelma Todd and Chester Conklin. The title would give anyone the creeps. You who like mystery; here's a dish for you. The best seats in town at the Luna but you'll not use them from excitement. Those with weak hearts had better not attend. Chester Conklin is a scream in this mystery play.

RESUME OF 1928 FOOTBALL SEASON SHOWS VIATOR SHORT OF 500 AVERAGE

Numerous Injuries Previous To Important Tilts Blamed For Rather Poor Showing

The football season is over but the memory of it still lingers in the minds of the players and the followers of the team. Eventful happenings during the season will be told and retold and it is only fitting that a summary of the season be given.

Prospects were bright for a winning team but before the season started, the bad luck that trailed the team throughout the season appeared. The first blow to the squad came when "Bill" Todd injured his shoulder while practicing blocking. This injury put the red-head on the casualty list for practically the entire season. Almost simultaneously with this bad luck came the news that Laenhardt, last year's star kicker and half back, was forbidden to play by the doctor's orders. In perhaps no other season was Viator so handicapped by injuries as it has been in the season just past. Joe Hoog suffered an injury to his ankle in the first game which put him out of the lineup for nearly the entire season. There followed in quick succession injuries to Meis, Delaney, Herbert and Hanahan. Although these men were out for only a few games their loss was dearly felt by the entire team.

The schedule of games showed that many formidable and powerful teams were to be met. Among those were Marquette, Notre Dame Reserves, Bradley, John Carroll and Millikin. Against these teams the players gave an exhibition of hard, clean football. Every man played as hard as he could and the fighting spirit displayed by the team made them worthy of their name "The Fighting Irish."

Viator Loses Seven Players

The passing of football this year brings to a close the gridiron career of seven Viator athletes. Foremost among these was John O'Malley. For four years "Ducky" has been a mainstay in the forward wall of Viator's grid machines. During the past three years he established a record of playing nineteen consecutive games without missing a play or calling time out. His great work in the line this year has made him unanimous selection on the All-Conference team.

Captain John Herbert, like O'Malley, has played a line position during his career as a Viator gridman. Captain John by virtue of his hard playing and leadership proved to be an inspiration to his teammates. Unfortunately Johnnie suffered an injury to his leg which prevented him from participating in several games. The loss of such a stellar linesman as Johnnie was keenly felt by the team.

Mike Delaney terminates his grid career after four years competition on the varsity. Mike is all that a triple threat man should be. His long and accurate passes have been instrumental in bringing many victories to Viator. His running and plunging makes him feared by his opponents while he is able to hold his own with or outdo many rival kickers. Mike has been the main-spring in Viator's backfield and his playing has stamped him as one of the best backs in the conference.

Linus Meis, Viator's stellar end is another man whose loss will be severely felt next season. All during the season he drew much comment from spectators and critics alike for his playing. He is skilled at receiving forward passes, alert on offense and defense and his speed in going down under punts made him a marked man. He would have been certain of All-Conference recognition had it not been for an injury which kept him from playing for a short period.

Don Laenhardt, a backfield man like Delaney deserves much praise for his fighting qualities. Forbidden to play by the doctor's orders, Lefty ignored them and came out when the season was drawing to a close. His brilliant playing has stamped him as a backfield man of merit. There is perhaps no man in the conference who can outkick Lefty. His loss this season was felt, especially in this department of the game.

Don McCarthy is another lineman who is deserving of much credit for the showing of the team. Mac earned the name of the "Fighting Irishman" in past years and he certainly did justice to that name this year. Mac is one of the scrappiest guards ever to wear a green uniform.

Although Tom Hanahan has played but two years, since he came here in his junior year, he has shown us plenty of football in that time. Tom originally was an end, but at the beginning of this year he was shifted to a tackle position and later to guard. His hard, clean playing has been a valuable asset to the team in the past year.

The Season's Outlook

The season opened with the powerful Marquette University team as our opponents. Capt. Swede Gebert of Marquette showed mid-season form in scoring Marquette's first three touchdowns on flashy end runs and line cutbacks. St. Viator was never in a scoring position, although our forward pass attack proved strong. Delaney starred throughout the entire game with his running, passing, and kicking.

Viator registered its first win against the strong Notre Dame Reserves. Unleashing a forward pass and running attack, the varsity ran roughshod over the South Benders for three touchdowns. Notre Dame threatened in the second half but our defense held them at bay until the final whistle. Delaney, Evard and Clothier each scored a touchdown while Delaney kicked all three points after goal. The final score was 21 to 13.

The next game proved to be a walk away for Viator. Ripping off tackle, smashing through the line and tossing pass after pass Viator emerged on the long end of a 30 to 6 count. The entire Viator team looked good. In the backfield, Evard, Mike Delaney, Clothier, Gorman and Romary were the stars. Led by Capt. Herbert and O'Malley, Viator's forwards played a great game. Normal could gain nothing around Meis and time and again Viator's great end threw them for losses. McCarthy, Hart, Hanahan and Furlong all gave sterling performances.

Bradley again proved to be Viator's nemesis. Bradley rolled up a score of 32 to 7 by a sparkling offensive attack. However, the Fighting Irish gave the best they had and a better team beat them. Viator's only score came in the final period on a pass from Delaney to Evard. Mike kicked goal. Red O'Malley and Delaney with their last chance to trim Bradley played like inspired men. Todd, Evard and Delaney gave sparkling offensive performances while Capt. Herbert and O'Malley played a great game in the line. "Bullet Bill" Metzger was Bradley's outstanding star.

Charleston Normal's high-powered grid machine dashed rough shod over a crippled Viator team and the Green Wave succumbed to a 26 to 0 defeat.

Time and again the Irish line, weakened by injuries warded off the attack of the teachers but the downsatters crossed the line once in the first half and three times in the second. Mike Delaney was the particular star for Viator until he was hurt in the fourth quarter. Red O'Malley playing despite an injured shoulder gave his usual brilliant performance. Joe Logan and Don McCarthy also played very good ball.

The Green Wave proved to be the master of the situation in the game with Valparaiso University. Laenhardt, playing his first game of the year, ran through Valpo for the first counter. Evard scored Viator's second touchdown on a beautiful pass from Romary. Clothier scored the remaining points with a line plunge over the Valpo goal line in the last quarter. Evard, Romary, and Laenhardt starred in the backfield, while "Red" O'Malley and Joe Logan were the luminaries in the line.

Probably the hardest game of the season was that with John Carroll University of Cleveland, Ohio. John Carroll had as its slogan, "The team that beat the team that beat the Navy." Viator was completely outclassed and submitted to a severe lacing to the tune of 42-6. However the Irish fought a hard but losing battle from the beginning to the end. Evard scored Viator's lone touchdown in the second quarter. Jack Mulligan and Archie Lewis starred for Carroll, while Evard, Romary, Delaney and O'Malley played great games for the Green.

In the Homecoming game Millikin proved to be too much for the varsity and emerged victorious on the long end of a 19-0 score. By virtue of their win in this game Millikin enthroned themselves as claimants of the Little Nineteen championship. The Irish fought stubbornly all the way but were outweighed and out-gained. Delaney's running and line plunging featured for Viator. Red O'Malley convinced the experts and critics that he deserved the place of All-Conference center by his stellar performance in this game. This was the last game for seven St. Viator men and their absence will be felt greatly next year.

Delaney is Captain of 1928 Basketeers

Mike Delaney, popular three-sport man at Viator has been chosen to lead the Irish quintet in action this winter. For the past three years "Mike" has held down a regular guard post and in 1927 was chosen as All-Conference guard by Fred Young. For the past two seasons, Delaney's play has won All-Western mention from Young and the Viator student body is expecting the husky blonde to lead the Irish to their first conference championship in some years. "Mike" is well liked both by the team and the students and all join to wish him success in the coming season.

MILLIKIN ELEVEN NAMES GIDCOMB 1929 CAPTAIN

Decatur, Ill., Dec. 5—Englebert Gidcomb, a tackle from Eldorado, Ill., Wednesday night was elected captain of the Millikin football team for 1929, at the team's annual banquet.

Coach Leo Johnson presented gold footballs to regulars on the team that tied for the Little Nineteen championship, and gold medals to other members of the squad.

A building program, which will start next year and which will include a field house with a 7,500 seating capacity, was announced at the banquet.

VARSITY LOOKS GOOD IN EARLY PRACTICE

Good Season On The Hardwood Is Predicted

Sam McAllister, coach of the Viator basketball team, is at present looking at the world through rose-colored glasses. The youthful Irish mentor has assembled a collection of basketeers and is giving them daily workouts to determine which five men will form the starting lineup against De Kalb on Saturday night.

At the present time four veterans and one Freshman seem to be coping the first string assignments. Evard, O'Malley, Clothier and Captain Mike Delaney are the lettermen who are now playing on the first string club while Puff Romary, the hard-hitting Freshman half back, is holding down the open forward position. Although this team has looked very impressive in scrimmage no man is sure of his job.

Earl Gorman, Bill Hamilton and "Red" Todd along with others have been giving the favorites a hot race for the honors. Gorman in particular gives evidence of becoming a valuable addition to the Irish team.

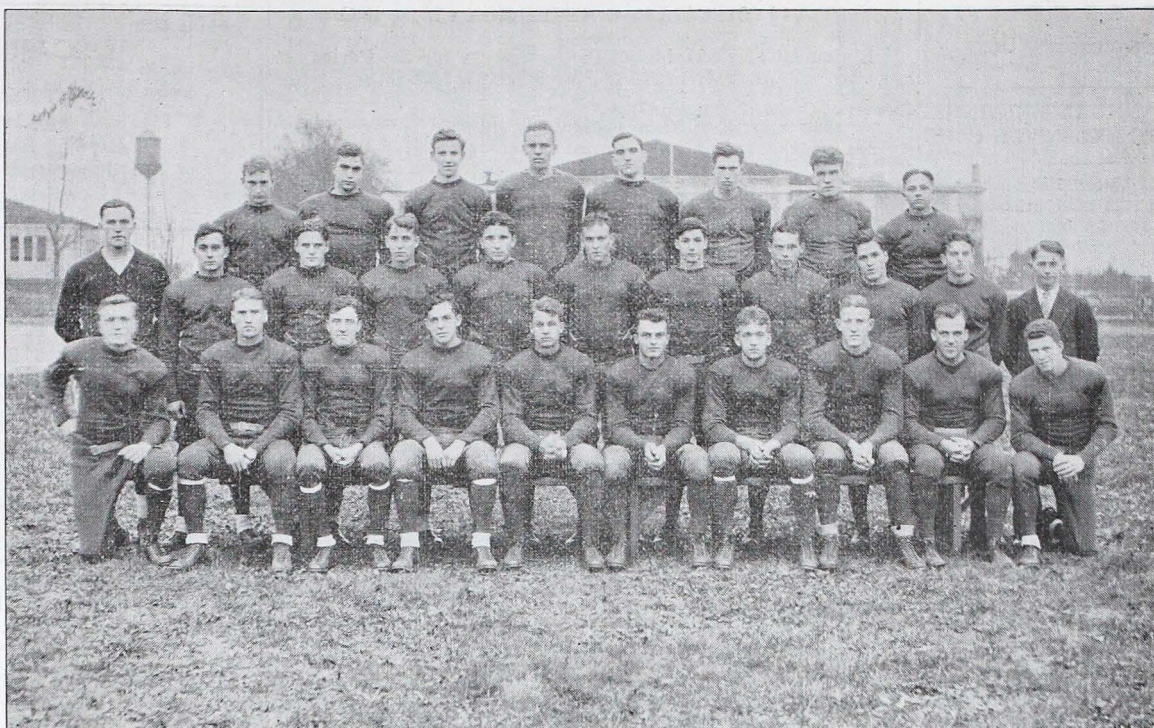

Indications point to a banner year for the Irish on the hardwood court. In spite of the hard schedule Coach McAllister is optimistic of his team's chances because of the plentitude of high class material which he has to draw from. Barring accidents and injuries and taking for granted that the athletes will hurdle the semester exams, Viator has nothing to fear for the success of its team this winter. Speed, experience and all the requisites for a winning quintet are at hand and the high hopes entertained by the Saints are well grounded.

During the current season the Viator team will play the class of the Mid-West college teams. The Saints will open their card against the De Kalb Teachers at home on Saturday night and from then on until the eighth of March the Irish will emulate the famous Ramblers of Notre Dame by their peregrinations throughout the middle west. The spice of the card is the three game series in St. Louis on January 19, 20, 21. While in the torrid city the Viator cagers will play St. Louis U.; Concordia; and Shurtleff. High aspirations for increasing the popularity of the St. Louis Blues are being entertained by the backers of the Green.

Summing up the prospects for the season we can merely say that a good team will tackle a tough schedule. Anything is liable to happen, so write your own tickets and follow the Irish, for barring unforeseen incidents they are pennant bound.

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING OF THE EXTENSION CLUB

The St. Viator Extension Club, founded in 1923 and chartered by the State of Illinois in 1927, held its third annual meeting in the College Club rooms in the gymnasium, Homecoming Day, November 23. One hundred and forty-two members were present.

President Lawson called the meeting to order at 12:30. The minutes of the last meeting were read. The first business taken up was the appointment of trustees for the year 1929. The following men were elected:

Lowell A. Lawson
Rev. J. V. LaMarre
Rev. P. C. Conway
J. A. Bolger
Rev. J. P. O'Mahoney, c. s. v.
Rev. E. M. Kelly, c. s. v.
John R. O'Connor
T. L. Warner
Vincent Marzano, M. D.

Of the many things introduced for discussion the following were decided upon:

1. The annual meeting of the Club will be held at the College preferably on Homecoming Day.

2. A letter following each annual meeting will be sent to all members in order to acquaint them with the progress that is being made.

3. The trustees will meet once every two months, usually at the office of the Club located at 1939, Straus Bldg., Chicago.

4. The trustees are to continue the present policy of consulting the officers of the Alumni Association and the St. Viator College Council in all important matters. This will enable the Extension Club, the Alumni, and the College to cooperate in the big task of properly financing the institution.

The treasurer presented at the meetings as his report the audit account made out by the P. J. Carter and Co. Certified Public Accountants.
