

MR. JOHN T. ELLIS, OFFERS ENGAGING HISTORY LECTURE

Outlines Work on Doctor's
Thesis at University

The History of the Church class was afforded a treat in the last lecture period before the Christmas holidays. John T. Ellis, A. M., who was graduated from St. Viator in '27 and who is now pursuing his studies for a doctor's degree at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C. took over Father Cardinal's class during the fifty minute period and lectured on the history thesis which he is writing for his degree. The subject, "Anti-Papal Legislation in England," was very appropriate both in theme and in time as the history class had been centering their attention upon that phase and period of Church history for some time.

Mr. Ellis first chose to describe the manner in which the writing of a thesis should be undertaken. This part of his talk was based on three main points, namely: 1. Selection of subject. 2. Source of research. 3. Sifting of source material.

The major part of his lecture was spent in outlining the content matter of his Doctor's thesis. He began with the year 1066, the year of the Norman invasion and continued with great attention to detail to the year 1534, when King Henry VIII formally declared himself head of the church in England.

The address was interesting in its entirety and very informational, giving evidence of the lecturer's complete mastery of the subject.

Mr. Ellis recently published an article which appeared in one of the December issues of the New World in which he praised the last work of the noted Catholic author, Fr. Fulton J. Sheen, himself a graduate of St. Viator College. The book, "Religion Without God," Mr. Ellis says, "reveals a very keen insight into the vexing problems which beset modern religious and philosophic thought, and demonstrates beyond question that he possesses a rare knowledge and understanding of the various movements behind our twentieth century religious conceptions."

Gridiron in New Role As Ice-Skating Rink

Another winter sport has made its appearance on the campus during the past few days, the ancient and graceful art of ice skating. Old Mother Nature has been so kind as to provide a small and unpretentious skating-rink at our very door-step. That portion of the campus which, during the Autumn months, forms the setting for many a brilliant gridiron battle, has become a small frozen pond, and is being traversed by many of the youths of the village, and students and faculty of St. Viator on glittering blades of skate and sled. Brother Cracknell and Brother Hutton were out showing the boys a few tricks the other evening. So far, Brother Cracknell appears to be the ace of our campus skaters. Captain Mike Delaney of the Varsity quintet and Lefty Laenhardt, one of our prominent pigskin toters, agree that it's much easier to glide over the old gridiron on ice skates than

"Captain" John Herbert Has Painful Accident

John Herbert's old "jinx" is on the job once more. In the Senior League basketball tilt last Sunday morning when Captain John's "Shrimps" played Watson's "Wonders," the first game of the season for both teams, "Jawn" suffered an extremely painful fracture of his left wrist.

The accident occurred when the doughty captain sought to head off a wild pass and crashed into the wall at the south end of the gym. It happened when there was less than a minute left to play and by the time "Herbie" reached the dressing room, after finishing the game with the damaged wrist at his side, the injury had swollen considerably and looked anything but encouraging. He was hustled off to the doctor who pronounced the member fractured in two places.

This last injury to the ex-varsity basketball man and last season's football captain recalls the incident of the torn ligaments that he received during a practice session last fall on the gridiron. It was no one's fault; it simply happened.

Three years ago while pitching for Ray Hartnett's team in the Senior Baseball League, Johnnie tried to tag a man as he slid into home plate and this time the luckless athlete snapped the large bone in his right wrist.

And that isn't all. Although very few fellows are present in school who might recall the St. Viator Academy-Pontiac High School game back in 1923, the writer distinctly remembers the occasion when little Johnnie Herbert was transferred from the football playing field to a gray-colored ambulance and conveyed to St. James' Hospital in that city with a broken ankle.

Who can boast of more serious mishaps than happy-go-lucky John? And who could greet the world with a more engaging grin than the one with which he faces each new unfortunate break? A sincere wish for his complete and immediate recovery accompanies the publication of this article.

Fr. Munsch Takes Up Residence in Florida

A funeral downstate, a mission in Chicago, damp and biting winds off Lake Michigan, and influenza germs at fall activity, are a formidable combination for any man to contend with. They were more than enough for Fr. Munsch.

He returned home Sunday night, December 9th, with a severe cold and a slight temperature. The next morning, being in a feverish condition and unable to swallow his toast and coffee, he called everything off and crawled over to the Infirmary. Here Dr. Cannon perceived his prospective patient and shipped him away to St. Mary's Hospital. For about two weeks he tossed around in bed, endeavoring to feed a cold and starve a fever at the same time. The fever wore away but not so the head cold. It persisted despite treatments. Consequently Dr. Cannon ordered him off to a southern clime, where he might build up quickly his run-down condition. On December 27, the Seminole Limited whisked our invalid away to the garden spots of sunny Florida. Here he writes that,

SENIOR BASKETBALL LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Much Enthusiasm Displayed
In Opening Games

Well, they're off, boys. Yep, the Senior League has started, and Ruteki and Larkin have vowed deadly enmity from now on. Carroll has agreed to give O'Neil a handicap when they play on account of the weight advantage, and the tip-off will take place at O'Neil's foul line.

Just a word for the newcomers to this institution. The Senior League was organized five or six years ago by popular appeal through the efforts of Father Harrison. It was, then, a league primarily for the purpose of entertainment during the long winter evenings, but since then has been regarded as a training school for the Varsity. Starting on a small scale at first, the league soon grew to the extent of as many as sixteen teams, and never below ten. It has been the proud boast of this league that it has never broken up before the end of its schedule. Last year Walsko's "Jakes" won the league, while Tom Hanahan won the individual scoring title. Mucilli won the free-throwing contest which takes place between the halves of each game. At the end of the season the totals of each man are added up and the winner is presented with a silver medal or some such reward. Consolation place winnings get a sleep over on Sundays and Mondays for the rest of the year.

The teams entered in this year's schedule are as follows: Logan's "Apaches," Hoog's "Trojans," Carroll's "Vanities," Gallagher's "Get 'ems," O'Neil's "Cage Artists," Hanahan's "Epworth's," Watson's "Wonders," Herbert's "Shrimps," J. Murphy's "Men-O-War," J. Smith's "Sinkers," Long's "Long-Shots," D.

Bradley and Viator To Play Night Grid Game

Bradley's football schedule as released by Head Coach A. J. Robertson disclosed the facts that Bradley will again meet Lombard on the grid and that two night football games are carded for the hilltop field. St. Ambrose, a newcomer in Tech circles will be met in a night game on Friday, October 18, while on October 25, St. Viator will visit Bradley for a night encounter. The rest of the schedule includes games with McKendree, the University of Illinois, Illinois Wesleyan, Western Teachers, Millikin University and Cornell College.

Kane-May Wedding Took Place in Dec.

The wedding of Miss Bernice Kane of Kankakee, Illinois, to Mr. Franklin T. May occurred on Saturday, December 15th, in Chicago. Mr. May, of last year's graduating class, was one of the best known and most popular men on the campus during the four years of his attendance at St. Viator. He was one of the mainstays of the Viator football squad for four years and was captain of the team in his Junior year. His friends and former school-mates at Viator join in offering their congratulations to the married couple.

Tel. Wabash 2727

Founded 1923, Incorporated 1927

Purpose: To help finance St. Viator College by establishing funds for Endowment, Student Aid, and College Maintenance, and College Development.

Membership: Consist of those who contribute to the Extension Funds; the amount and frequency of contributions are left entirely to the donor. "Deeds Are The Test of Loyalty"

Since the Extension Club met on Homecoming Day, November 23, fifty-one thousand dollars in insurance have been added to the Endowment fund and twenty-two new members enrolled on the roster of the Club. This brings the fund to $351,000.00 and the membership to 451.

The founders of the endowment fund now number 136 insurance founders and 15 cash founders. One becomes a founder by assigning to the Club a $1,000 twenty year endowment policy, which costs approximately $50 annually, or by donating $500 to the endowment fund.

The Memorial feature of our endowment plan has a great appeal to those who cherish the name of a departed friend. Sixteen memorials are already established as a part of the endowment through the medium of our insurance plan. The founders and the amount of these memorials are as follows:

A Friend, $25,000.00.
College Club, $15,000.00.

Commonweal Lauds Fr. Maguire's Labor Talk

The following editorial appeared in the December 26, 1928 issue of "The Commonweal":

The case against the current use of the injunction in labor disputes was never more forcibly put than by Father J. W. R. Maguire—who is now president of Saint Viator's College, but who has a very much higher position in the hearts of those who love intellectual courage and moral zeal—addressing the New Orleans convention of the American Federation of Labor. Especially good was his distinction between labor as "property" and as "an attribute of human nature." This point was clearly reckoned with in earlier court practice, but has been lost sight of to a great extent in American decisions. One reason is, of course, the amount of racketing which has accompanied the rise of organized labor in this country. But while conceding this fact, Father Maguire reminded every-

ST. VIATOR TAKES MEASURE OF FAST XAVIER QUINTET

Green-Jerseyed Boys Led All
The Way

The fast going Irish of Saint Viator's added another game to their win column when they defeated the highly touted St. Xavier's team of Cincinnati, Ohio. The final score was 34 to 18. The Musketeers came here with the distinction of being the only team that has beaten St. Viator on its new floor. The past two years they have walked off the floor at the local gymnasium victorious by a small margin in both cases. However, this year it was a different story. The Irish looked better than they have so far this year. Their fast passing game brought the Viator forwards under the basket for shots time and again. Despite the fact that St. Xavier's team was composed of large men, much taller than the local quintet, and reputed to have the best defense in basketball, their smaller opponents passed their way through for many shots.

Red O'Malley scored the first points of the evening when he tossed in a double-decker from under the basket. Red came back with another a few minutes later and Viator had a lead that was never relinquished during the remainder of the game. The score at the half was 15 to 8.

St. Xavier's threatened to overcome Viator's lead several times during the game but as soon as they came within two or three points of Viator's score, some green-jerseyed athlete would slip the leather between the meshes to increase the lead of the Irish. The Musketeers played both brilliant and ragged basketball. Their pivot play which featured offense last year was not functioning last night with the result that they were held to four field goals for the evening. Viator's defense prevented them from working this pivot play. O'Malley, Delaney and Clothier were foremost in breaking it up. Captain Delaney played a brilliant game at guard. It was impossible for an opponent to dribble past "Mike" He was the mainspring of our offense actually taking the ball out of his

The Viator Debating Team

St. Viator has nineteen intercollegiate debates on her schedule for the coming season which opens February 18th. Two practical questions of current interest are offered for debating subjects and since many of the encounters are dual debates, it is necessary that at least two debating teams of three men each be prepared to carry the banner of Viator on the forensic field. It is pitiable, indeed, to note how little interest is displayed by the student body in debating this year; the more so when one, reviewing the past few years, recalls the competition and gusto shown by students who aspired to places on the first teams.

A good debater is in as much demand as a good athlete. Both appear before the public as the best representatives that their college can produce. When the finest wits of a college fail to display any interest in debating, the general public naturally underestimates the intellectual standards of the school. To undertake this work is a duty a man with high intellectual ability owes his college as it is the duty of an expert pitcher or a good swatter to report for spring baseball practice.

There is no activity in college life which is more profitable, intellectually, socially or financially, to the individual student than this form of extra-curricular activity. Public speakers are in constant demand the world over, and the only means of learning to speak in public is to actually go out and do it. Here theory counts for naught; experience is everything. The final call is being issued for new recruits for the debating teams. It is a golden opportunity for many students and it is not being received in the proper spirit.

Health and Happiness

Thelma Svarstad, seventeen-year old college girl of Brown county, South Dakota, and William Bobias, fifteen year old eighth grade student of Saginaw county, Michigan, were named as champions in the national health contest in Chicago recently.

Why didn't the young men from Viator win the coveted crown? Obviously because no youthful Viatorians were entered. But would they have made a favorable showing in the event that Murphy's "Fighting Irish." Each captain avows by all that is high and holy that his team is going to win the pennant or die in the attempt. This spirit should make it interesting. However, one need not be a football player of the highest ability to play in this league. As Father Harrison stated, this league will be conducted according to the official rules of basketball, so one need not start hunting shimmels or any such articles of war. Even Larkin has promised that he will not foul Ruteki or Hoog except under the most favorable conditions.

This writer, unfortunately, is not gifted with the art of seeing into the future, or he could predict the outcome of this League. As stated above he has questioned each of the captains but each replied that he was going to win the race. Of course, this would be very extraordinary, to say the least. From a cursory glance over the list, Logan, Hoog, Carroll, and Hanahan seem to have the best prospects. Carroll should not have trouble in keeping the ball away from his opponents with such men as Ruteki, Devery and himself.

Logan's "Apaches" and Hoog's "Trojans" opened the League last Thursday night at 6:30 P. M. A short review and the box score of each game will appear on the sport page in this issue and in succeeding issues.

body that the way to punish violence and unwarranted interference is to enforce statute law against the culprit and not to override fundamental human rights. We wish that many of our juridical friends would read this address carefully. Some of them, at least, appear to us so energetic in their defense of property that they make the mistake of thinking all things property. If they decide not to agree with Father Maguire, his address will nevertheless give them ample food for serious contemplation. For, as he remarked, the injunction was a different thing entirely to English common law than it is to a corporation-lawyer-argued era in which technicalities often obscure an issue.

Independent basketball seems to be taking leaps and bounds under the guidance of Messrs. Herbert, Hanahan, and Laenhardt. The three members of the Board of Strategy are attempting to line up a K. C. All-Star aggregation to entertain the fans while the Varsity is occupied elsewhere.

the register of contestants had included the names of St. Viator College students?

It is doubtful; very doubtful. With the descent of winter, its chilling winds, and freezing temperatures, the ever-existing temptation to haunt the rooms and corridors of Roy Hall in gossipy tete-a-tetes has increased by leaps and bounds. The stuffy, heated rooms seem to beckon with a sterner, firmer finger than the crisp, invigorating, health-improving air of the outdoor playing fields. Exercise, to the majority, seems to be a thing of the past, a toy to be tossed aside and taken up weeks and months later with the advent of spring. And as the amount of exercise lessens so does the condition of healthy muscles and nerves correspondingly decline.

Why not make use of the long hours of the day when the basketball floor in the gym is unoccupied? Why do not more students frequent the indoor handball courts, the bowling alleys, the running track, and above all, the swimming pool? Will Viator college men ever learn to fully appreciate and to utilize to their own healthful advantages the splendid resources provided for them?

NATIONAL ORATORY CONTEST ANNOUNCED

$5,000.00 in Prizes for College
Orations on Constitution

Washington, Jan. 16, 1929.—The National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, which has been conducted for the past four years by the Better America Federation of California, will be continued this year, according to an announcement today at contest headquarters, 1217 National Press Building, Washington.

The prizes will be the same as in previous years, namely $5,000 in cash, divided among the seven National finalists in the following amounts: First place, $1500; second, $1,000; third, $750; fourth, $550; fifth, $450; sixth, $400 and seventh, $350. The National finals will be held in Los Angeles on June 20.

Any bona fide undergraduate student in any university or college in the United States is eligible. The orations, which must not require more than ten minutes for delivery, must be on one of the following subjects: The Constitution, Washington and the Constitution, Hamilton and the Constitution, Jefferson and the Constitution, Marshall and the Constitution, Franklin and the Constitution, Madison and the Constitution, Webster and the Constitution, and Lincoln and the Constitution.

The nation is divided into seven regions for the purpose of the contest. The colleges in each region compete among themselves, generally by States, to determine the finalists for each region. The regional finalists compete late in May to determine the one speaker from each region who is to have a place in the National finals. A place in the National finals automatically carries with it an award ranging from $350 to $1500, according to the ratings given the different national finalists.

Colleges may be enrolled in the contest by action of either a college official or a student. Entries close March 15. The spokesman for each college must be designated by April 15. Regional semi-finals will be held April 27.

The national finalists of 1928 were: Carl Albert, University of Oklahoma, winner of first place; Herbert Wenig, Stanford University, winner of second place; Allan Frew, Davidson College, North Carolina, winner of third place; Lee F. Lybarger, Jr., Bucknell University, winner of fourth place; William H. Conley, Loyola University, Chicago, winner of fifth place; Philip H. Glatfelter, Princeton University, winner of sixth place, and Paul V. Keyser, Jr., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, winner of seventh place.

The championship of 1927 was won by H. J. Oberholzer, North Carolina State Agricultural College; that of 1926 was won by Charles T. Murphy of Fordham University, and that of 1925 by E. Wight Bakke, Northwestern University.

Alumni Notes

Francis Cleary, H. S. '21, recently arrived home from an extended tour of the West Indies and Central America in the interests of Richard Hudnut Company, New York perfumers. He will sail the middle of February for South America.

Lyford (Pat) Kern and Thomas Dillon were at the College for a day during the recent vacation. Pat is studying for the priesthood at Kenrick, and Tom has given up Chicago high finances in the interest of the ignorant masses. He is no longer a bank employee, but is instructing the ignorant at De Paul Academy, Chicago.

St. Viator College was home during the Christmas holidays for James Toolin, another St. Viator product now studying at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis; he spent practically the entire vacation in Bourbonnais.

James Slikas, who is a student for the priesthood at St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, and Simon McMahon, one of Bishop Griffin's future priests, and now attending Quincy College, also spent several days at the College recently.

The Rev. J. A. Williams spent several happy days at St. Viator during the holidays. Father Williams always enjoys his visits here very much and finds it extremely difficult to leave the old school; this time his specialty was cancelling taxes called to take him to the train. Father Williams is Dean of the Department of English at Columbus College, Sioux Falls, S. D.

The Rev. Fathers W. J. Bergin, c. s. v., and J. P. O'Mahoney, c. s. v., were visitors here last week. The Rev. M. J. Lennartz, c. s. v., Chaplain at Bishop Quarter School, Oak Park was also here last week; he was the guest of the Scholastics of St. Bernard Hall, with whom he lived in South Dakota when they were novices.

Mr. and Mrs. William Neville, Jr., visited in Bourbonnais during the holidays at the home of Mrs. Neville's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Narcisse Marcotte.

William J. Siebert is now employed in the Bad Debts Department of Sears Roebuck and Company. This information (like all found in this column) is absolutely authoritative, for Bill told it to us himself when he was at the College during the vacation. Bill is liable to give up his work in low finances at any time in order to engage in work for which we know he is cut out—we refer again to the instruction of the ignorant.

Professor Mascaro tells us that much was seen of Eddie Mucilli during the holidays in Chicago. Those who remember Eddie know that there is certainly much of him to see.

The latest news flashes from the Viatorian Seminary in Washington tell us that the flu, and all kindred ailments as well, have providentially missed the house of the Viatorian theologians. We learn that several Viator alumni were recent visitors there: Warren J. McClelland, who works in the Treasury Building in Washington, John (Pete) Harrington, who dropped in to see them on his way to his work in Newark, N. J., and Roger Stevens, an Academy graduate, who stopped off on his way from New York to Chicago.

Question Box

Question: Should the "Freshman Rule" be adopted at St. Viator?

I do not think that the "Freshman Rule" should be adopted at St. Viator for a few years, at least. Our college is too small and we need the freshmen on our athletic teams in order to maintain the present position that we lay claim to, namely, the strongest little college in the Little Nineteen Conference.—Thomas J. Hanahan, '29.

Although the "Freshman Rule" would be a good thing at St. Viator College, I do not think that the school is large enough for it, as yet. Because, if the rule should be put in effect undoubtedly the school would lose her athletic standing for a few years. This would probably injure athletics more than it would better them.—Robert E. Tucker, '31.

Before such a rule can be enforced the athletic forces must be equipped with sufficient talent to carry them through one year of competition. This, I believe, cannot be done for two or three years. However, such should be the goal of the men of Viator in an athletic way for, without the rule, growth and the advancement of athletics in any appreciable manner is impossible.—Don Laenhardt, '29.

The adoption and enforcement of the 'Freshman Rule' at St. Viator College would be another step in aiding the college to build a greater reputation, which ambition should be the vital concern of any college. It would, as a result, stimulate interest in those who follow the various athletic engagements of the school. The most beneficial result would be that it would enable the athletic department to procure games with teams whose reputations have been established in the world of sport. Viator could then prove the calibre and worth of her athletic representatives.—Ed. O'Neil, '31.

Such a rule, if enforced, would be a great step forward for Viator athletics. But, I think, that at the present time it would not be advisable because of the small enrollment of the institution. We need our Freshmen to carry us through the entire year of sporting endeavor. Therefore, I would say that until the school has a larger enrollment we should not adopt the "Freshman Rule."—Byron Evard, '30.

The chief aim of all institutions is to promote certain beneficial plans or projects which tend to raise the standing of the institution. To determine whether or not a plan will be advantageous, it is necessary that it be given a trial. Hence, I believe that if the "Freshman Rule" was introduced at St. Viator College, it could do no greater harm than to diminish slightly the available material for the short time of one scholastic year. And if the rule proves successful the dream of St. Viator's athletic teams would be realized, namely, full recognition by larger colleges and universities.—Thomas Hayden, '31.

The "Freshman Rule," I think, would be very beneficial to the college but at the present time the institution is hardly large enough to warrant such a drastic change in policy. I would like to say, however, that if at some future date the school should find itself in a position where the upperclassmen could be separated from the Freshmen (in intercollegiate competition) St. Viator stock would shoot skyward.—Linus B. Meis, '29.

CENTRAL HIGH OF HAMMOND BEATEN

Academy Men Give Good Account of Themselves

In a rough and well played game St. Viator Academy triumphed over Central High of Hammond, Indiana, Saturday night. The final score was 16-7. The score hardly does justice to the manner in which Hammond fought during the game. Although the visitors were able to score only three field goals during the course of the evening they were dangerous opponents during the entire fray.

Viator started off fast with Hodge scoring from under the basket right after the tip off. This same Hodge tossed in another a few minutes later and the Academy had a lead of four points before Olson of Hammond broke the ice for his team with a field goal. From this juncture Viator scored point after point and had a lead of 11 to 4 at half time. In the second period Hammond made a desperate but futile attempt to win the game, but the excellent guarding of Radcliffe, Hodge and Kells prevented them from overcoming Viator's lead.

The passing of the Academy enabled them to bring the ball in for many close shots. Hodge, in particular showed his class in this department of the game. Time and time again accurate passes from his trusty southpaw were instrumental in scoring points. His overhand pass puzzled his opponents and he also found time to toss in two field goals at the start of the game. Bosquette again was the leading scorer for the Academy. The flashy forward registered four field goals to help Viator's cause along.

Hammond threatened to score at all times during the game. O'Keefe and Olson, Hammond's two forwards were very skillful and crafty in the handling of the ball. Many of their shots rolled off the rim when they seemed to be sure counters.

As yet few casualties have been reported in the new pastime; but, rumor has it that some of the fellows have discovered that rain water certainly becomes hard in cold weather.

ST. PAUL OF ODELL ACADEMY VICTIMS

Visiting Team Unable to Break Viator Defense

Viator Academy hung up its first victory of the current season by defeating St. Paul High School of Odell. The final score was 30 to 10. As the score indicates the Academy men held the upperhand throughout the game and were never threatened by their opponents. The Academy went into the lead at the start of the game by the stellar shooting of Brouillette, Bosquette and Pombert. Viator's fast pass-work puzzled the visitors and the uncanny ability of the Viator men to ring up baskets rolled up a safe lead for the Academy. Viator's defense was tight, the Odell tossers being able to score only four field goals during the course of the evening.

Brouillette and Bosquette, Viator's two crack shots, again took the honors in scoring. Bosquette led the Academy with six field goals and two free throws for a total of fourteen points. Brouillette, playing his usual fast and clever game, accounted for three field goals and two free throws. The Academy's entire team worked like clockwork. Their passing was fast and they missed very few shots.

The visitors were unable to break up the Academy's defense and as a result they had very few open shots. Errougham, Odell's captain showed up best for his team with two field goals.

Coach Barrett made numerous substitutions in order to get a line on his reserve material. Sada, a new man playing forward showed up well. His tricky dribbling baffled his opponents and he registered a nice long shot in the early part of the game. The Academy looked great in this game and now that they are started, much is expected of them in future games.

INDEPENDENTS IN AUSPICIOUS START

Laenhardt's Basket Tossers Look Promising

The Viator "Indees," under the guidance of Manager Don Laenhardt, added two more wins to their rapidly growing list of victories by defeating the Forrester Five from Kankakee 44-19 and by sinking the Hayden Whirlwinds 31-18.

Tommy Hanahan, the Broadwell Flash, led the College five to the win over the Forresters by sinking twelve field goals and a free throw to garner twenty-five counters. Eddie O'Neill gathered four buckets while Laenhardt obliged with five baskets and two free tosses to second the efforts of Mr. Hanahan. "Fat" Carroll and Joe "Tillie" Logan led an airtight defense which deprived the Kankakee aggregation of any shots at the bucket during the first quarter. The score at the half was 19-5. In the second stanza the Indees stepped out and bombarded the cords with a flurry of tosses to insure a win.

In the game against the Hayden crew the Indees wiped out the last vestiges of home competition by sending the "Zephyrs" to their rooms on the short end of the count. The Indees were strengthened for this game by the presence of Johnny Herbert, former Varsity luminary. After a rather tight first half which ended with the Indees on the long end of a 11-9 score the free-lancers again went to work and amassed a score that defeated any chances the Wind-crew might have. Hanahan with eleven points, Laenhardt with fifteen and Logan with four did the majority of the scoring. Herbert and Carroll effectually stopped the scoring of the forward, played a fine game for the opposition. "Weiner" Salg, the minim winners while "Emil" Ruteki carried the burden of the offense for the losers. The highly touted Ruteki did all that was expected of him but the cool defense and sharpshooting of the Indees was just too much. In the near future the Indees expect to play a team of K. C. All-Stars from Chicago.

opponents' hands several times. In addition to his splendid defensive work, Mike found time to ring up three field goals and a free throw.

"Red" O'Malley played a spectacular game both on offense and defense. The big red-head accumulated a total of seventeen points during the pastime. Pitted against a larger man, "Red" eluded him time and again to score from under the basket or from out on the floor. It was mainly through "Red's" efforts that the Musketeers' famous pivot play was broken up.

Evard and Romary both played fine floor games but were guarded so closely that it was with difficulty that they scored baskets. Evard made four points while Romary rang up five points. The pivot action was centered around Evard and the flashy Frenchman, by his accurate passing, helped his team mates to score in many instances.

Clothier played a nice game at guard and was a big factor in our passing. Todd, McNary and Navigato also saw action and gave good accounts of themselves.

St. Xavier's showed an uncanny ability to score on charity tosses. They made ten out of eleven free throws. Eagen and Sterman, the visitor's guards, were the leading scorers for the Musketeers. Arnyen at center played a nice game until he was forced out with an injury in the second half.

DE KALB IS EASY IN VIATOR OPENER

Good Showing by Varsity Encourages Students

Sam McAllister's basketballers got off to a good start in the opening game with De Kalb Normal, Saturday night, December 15. The Viator squad rode over the Teachers' outfit to the tune of 33-22. The score, however, does not indicate the very marked superiority that the Irish showed over their rangy opponents from the North.

The pastime started calmly enough and after some five minutes of play the Teachers were leading the Saints 4-2. Soon a flock of charity tosses gave the lead to the Irish and from then on in they were never headed. The score at the half was 17-7 in the favor of the Saints. Most of De Kalb's counters came from the mid-section of the floor and the close-guarding Viator men allowed the Teachers only three short shots.

None other than the diminutive "Frog" Evard was the conductor of ceremonies. The slippery Frenchman time after time, eluded his guard, took aim and the score mounted two points. In the course of the evening the stellar Viator forward slipped the inflated porkskin through the ropes six times and counted five out of six free throws. Puff Romary, playing his first college game, was rather nervous but soon calmed down and pleased the customers by tossing in a pair of field goals and gave all indications of becoming a real scoring threat.

De Kalb employed a zone defense which was varied with a five man method. For a while at the outset this system had the Irish puzzled, but soon Evard and Company got the range and the Teachers close guarding went for naught as time after time they left the Saints open to shoot from the free throw circle. McAllister employed a slow-breaking offense which time after time threw men into the open for shots. This form of game is rather new to the Irish but it suited their purpose Saturday.

The premiere of the McAllister men was rather impressive. Though their work was rather rough in spots it was encouraging.

VARSITY FIGURES IN WIN OVER SHURTLEFF

Defense of Both Teams Worth Watching

Saint Viator hung up its second victory on Thursday night, Dec. 20 by defeating Shurtleff by a score of 36-19. Viator led throughout the entire game and at no time did Shurtleff threaten to overcome the big lead piled up by the Irish.

The game started off with O'Malley registering a long shot for Viator's first counters. Three baskets by O'Malley and one by Evard put the score up to eight points before Shurtleff broke into the scoring column. The score at half time was 19-9. In the second half Evard simply could not be stopped. Time and again he eluded his guard and tossed in baskets. He was equally effective at long range, tossing in several long shots. The flashy Frenchman slipped the leather through the hoop for six field goals and four free throws. Romary turned in another fine performance. "Puff" worked with Evard like a veteran and rang up eight points. Red O'Malley, the old reliable, crashed through with four field goals and a free throw. It was Red's uncanny ability in tossing in long shots that gave Viator its lead in the early part of the game. Captain Delaney and Ken Clothier were towers of strength on the defense. They held Shurtleff to a lone field goal during the first half. Their brilliant guarding forced Shurtleff to take nearly all their shots from far out on the floor.

Shurtleff used a five man defense which proved to be very hard to pass through, but Viator resorted to long shots thereby drawing the visitor's defense away from the basket. The fast passing of the Irish puzzled the visitors and time and again a Viator man slipped through their defense for an open shot. Shurtleff used a fast short passing attack, but were unable to advance the ball close to the basket. Nicolet, the visitors' guard, with eleven points proved to be the mainspring in Shurtleff's attack.

VIATOR SUBMERGED BY DE KALB QUINTET

Second Contest a Total Loss to Saints

The bozo who once made the wise crack about history never repeating itself never saw the De Kalb basketball team in action. The above mentioned punster never had the pleasure or sorrow of watching the talented Mr. Huntseiker slip the spheroid through the strings time after time for two points. However, folks, that is neither here nor there for it rests upon the fact that the De Kalbians upset the pennant chasing Viator quintet at De Kalb by the rather queer score of 28-15.

To make a long story short the Irish never had a chance. Your correspondent believes that they are the better team but they were playing a team of inspired madmen led by a magician who scored every time the ball left his hands. The score at the half was 12-5 in favor of the Teachers but this was merely an inkling of the coming events of the second stanza. The dextrous Mr. Huntseiker got one of his selfish streaks and by monopolizing the ball swished it through the cords no less than six times, whereas the best the Irish could do was a trio of counters by Evard and Delaney. In the course of the events of the evening the agile Huntseiker amassed no less than thirteen points which plus a few sundries by his assistants sufficed to trim the Irish.

Even in defeat the master basketballer, Evard, could not be stopped. The little forward, despite the close guarding of Strombon, managed to score eight points. Captain Mike Delaney played his usual good game and scored five points, all of them in the second half.

De Kalb has lost just three games in the last two seasons and the Irish have won two of these but in turn the Teachers have twice put dents in the flag hopes of the Irish.

Bradley Opens Track Card at Marquette U.

Peoria, Ill.—Bradley Tech will open its track season with Marquette University at Milwaukee, Wis., next month. The meet will be the fifth time that the two schools have clashed in track and cross country, with each holding two decisions.

In addition to the dual meet, Coach Hewitt has announced that he will send representatives to the Michigan state invitational meet on March 2, the Notre Dame relays on March 9, and the University of Illinois relay carnival on March 16. At Illinois the Techmen will enter the two mile and medley relays in the college class and the four mile relay in the university class. The four mile relay is the final event of the evening and the elite of collegiate America yearly try to gain the title.

Distant relay teams will be Bradley's best hope for additional athletic honors. Seven letter men and two freshman numeral men are available for service in the distant events.

TWO HOOSIER TEAMS IN LEAD OFF BATTLE

Hoog 16; Logan 8

After considerable labor on the part of Father Harrison, the organizer and sponsor of the "Senior League," the institution again saw itself functioning when Joe Logan's "Apaches" took the floor against Hoog's "Trojans." The passing of the evening saw the "Apaches" scalped by the Trojans by a score of sixteen to eight. Despite the efforts of Captain Logan and Laenhardt the Apaches were unable to match the long range work of Hoog's men and the first half ended with the Trojans leading 9 to 0. In the second period, however, the War-whoops rallied and sent a flurry of tosses through the bucket to raise their score to eight points; in the meantime the followers of Priam sank several tosses and when the final gun popped the Indians were still behind. Hoog and Kekich starred for the winners while Logan and Laenhardt did the best work for the losers.

Carroll Beats Gallagher 9-5

The second tilt of the League saw Fat Carroll lead his aggregation of bemoths to victory over Ed Gallagher's "Ramblers." Led by their big captain the Carrollites ran hither and yon over the hardwood like a collection of pachyderms but in spite of their elephantine efforts their work was effective and they left the floor on the long end of a 9-5 score. For the Ramblers, Rosensteel and Gallagher sparkled while for the victors Capt. Carroll and Veroski showed the way.

"Epworths" Too Much for "Artists"

In the best tilt of the first round Tommy Hanahan's "Epworths" hung the crepe on Ed O'Neill's hopeful "Cage Artists" by a score of 18-6. Capt. Tom was the mainspring in a rather high geared scoring machine and garnered eleven points by tossing five field baskets and counting once from the foul line. Meis, Spreitzer, and Hanahan were the whole show and from appearances the "Epworths" should go far. Not only have they a fine offense but they have a fine defense led by Don McCarthy, the Rockford phenom. McCarron, Morrissey and O'Neill played well for the Artists but they could not cope with the sharpshooting of the winners.

Murphy Loses to Smith
Joe Murphy's aggregation of skyscrapers could not match the work of John Smith's team and lost the fourth game by a score of 14-7. Long Tom Doyle of Fort Wayne was the big reason for the victory. The rangy center dropped in a pair of baskets and obliged once from the charity line to help himself to high score honors. Farrell and Captain Smith accounted for the rest of the points for the winners but it was the marksmanship of the Hoosier that won the old ball game. Murphy and Hinton starred for the losers while Smith and Doyle galloped away with the honors for the winners.

Wonders Eclipsed

Captain Johnny Herbert's aggregation of shrimps trotted off the floor with a ten to four decision over Jay Watson's "Wonders." Herbert was trying to recover a free ball when he crashed into the wall and suffered a fractured wrist. The nervy little guard continued play and finished the game. The tilt was marked by the hard luck sustained by the Watson shooters. The old apple simply would not dent the cords and the final whistle saw the "Shrimps" bury the hopes of the Wonders 10-4. Herbert and Muth led the little fellows while Salg and Watson did the work for the losers.

Long Longer Than Irish

George Collins, the Kentucky Wonderbean finally decided that the Murphy-Long tilt had gone far enough and just as the whistle ending the game blew, Mr. Collins tossed a neat ringer to win the contest for Mr. Long. The game was one of long shots and close guarding. Sheedy, the scoring ace for the Murphy Irish, opened the game with a long toss from the mid-section of the court. Soon the teams were tied at four apiece and continued this way until

Mr. Collins ventured his winning shot. Sheedy and Casey led the Irish while the above-mentioned Collins and Anderson were the stars of the whole performance.

The first round saw the favorites win their games rather easily but there are still sixty games to be played and sooner or later the best teams will meet and from all prospects we doubt that if there will be an undefeated team by the time the curtain falls in March.
