VIATOR EXTENSION FUND INCREASING QUITE RAPIDLY

Rev. J. P. O'Mahoney, c. s. v., Director, Reports Progress

The effort to raise an adequate endowment for the College through the insurance method has passed beyond the experimental stage. It is now an assured success. The fact that insurance amounting to over $200,000 has been written in favor of the College during the past six months is sufficient evidence that it is only a question of time and labor to reach our ultimate goal which is a million dollar endowment for Viator. Only a small portion of the ground has been covered and the majority of the students in Chicago have yet to be seen before carrying the appeal in person to those in other cities.

The demands on the central office of the Extension Club, 1939 Straus Building, have been so great as to necessitate the appointment by the Extension Club of a field secretary to make it possible for the manager of the endowment activities to group his appointments and thus economize on time. For this purpose an alumnus, who has been most loyal to the College and who for years had charge of the Alumni files, Andrew Bracken, '20, has been chosen by the Board of Directors of the Extension Club for this work.

The William Houze General Agency of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company has been so well pleased with the progress of our endowment campaign, that, in addition to giving the Extension Club an office in the Straus Building, it has given it a full agency to write insurance either for the benefit of St. Viator College or the insured. Thus the Extension Club secures through the commissions which it receives sufficient funds to defray its own expenses and with the balance to set up a reserve fund for future emergencies. Our endowment plan receives favorable comment as soon as it is understood that through it we are both raising an endowment and at the same time defraying our own expenses.

The readers of the Viatorian can help the cause along by speaking about our endowment activities and advertising the fact that the Extension Club has its representative at the service of those who want to take out insurance either for themselves or for Viator.

Mr. Soran W. Leahy, '26, the secretary of Mr. Frederick Perritt, our insurance counselor, also represents the Extension Club in room 1939, Straus Building, 310 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago. Telephone Harrison 9250.

Appointments with the Rev. John P. O'Mahoney, c. s. v., may be made through this office and also at St. Edward's Rectory, 4350 Sunnyside Avenue, Chicago. Telephone Kildare 6496.

PLANS FOR STATE CATHOLIC TOURNEY RAPIDLY DEVELOP

DATES SET FOR MARCH 2nd, 3rd, AND 4th

Under the able direction of Father Kelly and Father Maguire, committees are working to complete all arrangements for the State Catholic Tournament which will be held here on March 2nd, 3rd and 4th. The tournament will be held under the auspices of the Central States Prep Conference, and will have for its prime purpose, the determining of the down-state entry in the Loyola National Catholic High School Tournament.

Father Harrison, acting in the capacity of executive secretary for the tournament, has issued letters to thirty-two high schools of the state asking for their schedules and records to date. From this number of schools sixteen representative teams "will be selected for competition in the tournament."

A number of valuable trophies has been secured for the winners of first, second, and third places, for sportsmanship, and for individual merit. Each player of the teams entered will receive a medal, bearing the Tournament inscription, dates, etc.

Two officials for the tournament have already been signed. Fred Young, sports editor of the Bloomington Pantagraph, and Howard Millard of Decatur have been definitely engaged. Negotiations with Mike Griffin, well known official of the Loyola National Tournament, are under way, and every effort will be made to secure his services.

The committees in charge of the event are doing everything that they possibly can to make the tournament a great success. It remains now for the students of the College to do their share in helping to entertain the visiting teams. Cooperation from the various organizations of the school is expected. Further particulars about the tournament will follow in a special issue of "The Viatorian" in which the final announcements of plans, developments, entries, and officials will be given.

Father Maguire Giving Series of Lectures Over Station WCFL

The Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, c. s. v., Professor of Economics and Sociology at St. Viator College, is delivering a series of radio lectures from Station WCFL of Chicago. Father Maguire's first lecture was delivered about three weeks ago, but the schedule that he had arranged was interrupted when he was forced to undergo a minor operation at the Mayo Brothers Clinic during the week of January 23rd. He resumed his schedule last evening when he delivered his second discourse.

The subject of the "Labor Injunctions" is being discussed by Father Maguire. Tune in on station WCFL, The Voice of Labor, on Thursday evenings at 7:30 and hear his masterly discourses.

CHANGE IN ADMINISTRATION

In the course of the recent fortnight, a change was effected in the organization of the High School faculty. Rev. L. T. Phillips, c. s. v., acting under the Very Rev. J. V. Rheams, c. s. v., will administer the affairs of the Academy. He will be seconded by the Rev. A. J. Landroche, c. s. v., the Academy Prefect of Discipline, and the latter in turn by the Rev. Brother F. J. Harbauer, c. s. v., as assistant Prefect. The change went into effect at the beginning of the present semester.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM TO BE HELD HERE ON THURSDAY, FEB. 16

Invitations Issued This Week; Will Be Great Event.

At a special meeting of the College Club held last Thursday evening in the Club room, the date of February 16th was definitely decided upon for the long anticipated Junior-Senior Reception. Due to the many conflicts presented by the basket ball schedule and other activities, it was quite difficult to find a suitable date before the Lenten season starts. February 16th was held to be the only possible date for the dance.

Committees were chosen to carry out the various plans that have been formulated. The invitation and ticket committee is already hard at work getting the announcements in the mail. An orchestra committee has numerous offers under consideration. The activities of all the committees are supervised by the Senior and Junior class presidents, Mr. Leo Fitzgerald and Mr. Donald Laenhardt respectively, and with these two able men at the helm, the event will surely be a success.

This reception will be the first social event of the College Club for the present year. Efforts are being made to surpass the standard of entertainment set in the Homecoming dance of last October. Judging from the extensive preparations, that ideal will be realized.

All of the social events of this year are fundamentally College Club affairs conducted under the auspices of the various classes. The proceeds of the reception will be placed in the College Club treasury and used for the development of the Club, for added furnishings for the Club room, and for the advancement of student projects in this institution. The dance can, of course, be a success only with the united cooperation of all of the members of the Club. A unanimous attendance from the College department is expected, and it is hoped that many of the senior Academy men will attend.

Senior Academy Class Stages Another Smoker

Although that air of mystery and curiosity which is always present at first undertakings, and which so permeated the atmosphere at the first smoker, was not so much in evidence at the second senior "Social", held January 22nd, nevertheless, the evening passed away very quickly and pleasantly for all.

The smoker was supposed to have begun at eight o'clock, but the card playing, the first event on the evening's program, did not get under way until about eight-thirty. The card games went on for over an hour, until Roger Stevens, the toastmaster, introduced Father Stephenson, who gave a very interesting talk. Tom Sullivan then paid a farewell tribute to Bob Singler and Duke Senica, who were leaving at the half year. Tom was followed by Coach Barrett, who lauded and thanked both Bob and Duke for the fighting spirit they had displayed while on his teams. Both these graduates, in brief addresses, bade goodbye to the rest of the class. Next in order, on the program, came Jack Casey, who strode dramatically

DEBATE SCHEDULE ALMOST COMPLETED AS SEASON DAWNS

First Debate But Three Weeks Distant.

The glory and renown of our athletes will soon have to be shared with another group of contestants who shall broadcast the fame of Viator scholastically from the forensic platform. The debating season is speedily approaching. Already ten debates have been definitely scheduled, and a few others are tentative and probable. Contestants for the two representative teams have been reduced to nine, and the final elimination will take place as soon as Father Maguire returns from the Mayo Brothers' Clinic.

While the debate schedule of this year does not approach the very extensive one of last season, it is nevertheless, one that promises some very interesting and difficult debates, as well as a few trips to distant points. Two dual debates are scheduled, and since these are somewhat of a novelty, they should prove to be the most interesting of the whole schedule.

During the final week of the first semester, Father Maguire conducted a series of try-outs for contestants for the teams. As a result of the first "debut" nine probable debaters were chosen. If but two teams are maintained, a few of the nine will have to be eliminated. But if Father Maguire chooses to have three representative teams, one or two more debaters will have to be added to the present list. The nine debaters chosen so far are: Messrs. John Stafford, Bernard Mulvaney, Allen Nolan, Raymond Boysen, Raymond Sprague, Armand Lottinville, J. B. Marcotte, Maurice LeClaire, and Robert Barnett. Needless to say, the chosen nine are anxiously awaiting the return of Father Maguire to receive his final decision on the teams.

The schedule to date is as follows:

Home Debates

- Oregon University, March 22nd.
- McMurry College, Abilene, Texas, March 23rd.
- St. Francis Xavier College, Cincinnati, March 8th.
- *Loyola University, Chicago (date not finally settled).
- *Marquette University, Milwaukee, April 17th.

Out-of-Town Debates

- Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., March 20th.
- St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn., April 18th.
- Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., April 13th.
- *Loyola University, Chicago.
- *Marquette University, Milwaukee, April 17th.
- *Dual debates.

The Honor Roll Student

The publication of the honor roll in this issue of the Viatorian affords us an opportunity to give recognition and commendation to the industrious student. Inasmuch as such opportunities are too often lacking in colleges and universities, we do not propose to overlook this one. The college athlete, debater, manager, and teacher find their names in the college publications at every turn, but the student plugs along, unheralded, unsung. The purpose of the publication of this honor roll, therefore, is to formally recognize the achievements of the diligent student, and to give him something more material than mere internal satisfaction to work for.

The man who makes the honor roll is a student in the strict sense of the word. He is achieving success in his work, an end that should be his objective in attending college. He is reaping the fruits of application, industry, time conservation, and unflinching determination. He understands the reason for his presence here, and consequently, is achieving his aims and success will be his crown. The honor-roll student has travelled with his teacher to the Pierian spring, where, fearful that he might not have another chance to visit the fountain of knowledge, he drinks deeply and profoundly.

We extend to the honor-roll men our heartiest congratulations. Today they are the real heroes of the school for they have valiantly persevered and struggled, not for one day or for two, but for a whole semester, and have thus demonstrated the calibre of Viator men scholastically. It is the honor-roll student, therefore, to whom we today hand the palm 'cum maxima laude'.

Abraham Lincoln

This month marks the anniversary of the birth of Lincoln, the noblest, and what I would term, the most remarkable statesman that this nation has ever seen. He was a man who fell in a moment of stupendous victory and the halo of a radiant success envelops his memory and dazzles the eye of his critics. Homely, and of lowly birth, he won the heart of this great nation by the nobility of his soul. The story of his humble origin and subsequent rise to be the saviour of a nation has ever proved an inspiration to the countless millions who followed him. He stands alone as the symbol of democracy, of a democracy whose aim was the highest type of government for the people, and whose platform was truth, justice and fraternity for all.

Abraham Lincoln set the standard for politicians the world over. How sadly do the statesmen of our day measure up to his standard! Graft and robbery rule the land. Truth seems to be a forgotten virtue. Liberty means freedom only for a few adherents of a certain belief. Justice is not blind for she appears to see very well when the gleam of gold lights the way. The modern politicians have found ways and means of enriching themselves that make the grafters of a half century ago appear as bungling amateurs. A former Secretary of the Interior is accused of having betrayed his oath of office. Two great commonwealths, Pennsylvania and Illinois, find that they have elected to the Senate of the United States men whose political integrity has been seriously questioned. Meanwhile public officials all over the country are sharing their ill-gotten gains with the best legal counsel to be obtained.

What a great social problem to solve! Where is the corruption to end? We cannot as yet say. We only know that it is a huge joke on the man who welded together this great nation of ours; the man who desired that shepherds, not wolves, should guard and guide the flock.

It is high time that the present day politicians recall the lessons of boyhood schooldays; time that the people of America awake to the true situation of things and see how different politicians are today than they were a few years ago; time that statesmen should once again read the life of the greatest statesman of their country; time that they realize that truth and justice and integrity pay far greater dividends than graft, robbery and oppression. It is time that the people begin a political house-cleaning of this government of ours, that they throw out the thieves and perjurers and elect in their places men who, like Lincoln, believe in a government of the people, by the people, and most of all, for the people.

ALUMNI NOTES

Word has been received that Emil A. Keckich, '13, has returned to the United States. Mr. Keckich, a graduate of the Foreign Commerce School of Georgetown University, has been connected with the Hoover Commerce Commission since 1922, having been stationed in Vladivostok, Chita, Harbin, Peking, Shanghai, Riga, Helsingfors and Stockholm.

Mr. Keckich strongly urges Viator men to do graduate work at Georgetown and join up with the Foreign Service Department. The Commerce Department now has fifty-two offices abroad in the large cities and capitals of the world, in charge of commercial attaches, and trade commissioners. The organization is a vital factor in American commercial and financial interests in foreign countries. Attaches have three months of leave after three years abroad, thirty days of the vacation period being spent in making an official itinerary for the government in the United States, speaking before chambers of commerce and various organizations interested in export trade. The work of the attaché is to report economic trends in the countries in which they are located for the benefit of American business and specifically promote trade in various ways. Upon the termination of his leave Mr. Keckich and his wife will report to Washington where they will again be sent abroad.

Chet G. Wood, '04, writes and tells us that he is now manager and announcer of KFWC broadcasting station at San Bernardino, California. A short time ago he put over one of the big events in radioland in successfully managing a three-hour broadcast of the Santa Fe Employees' Frolic. Chet was with the Sante Fe R. R. people for some time. He asked us about a number of old students and we had to dig pretty deep into the files to get their addresses for him. We wish you luck, Chet, and when you get a chance drop up and see how Viator has grown since you left. Say, bring your boy along; he'll be ready for college pretty soon now.

Jimmy Dundon dropped a line to the boys the other day. He's working for Walgreen's on the south side of Chicago, and is batting a thousand. Wants us to give his regards to all.

The Rev. G. C. Picard, assistant dean of discipline at Mundelein Seminary, and formerly assistant pastor at St. Rose of Lima Church, Kankakee, Ill., paid us a friendly call last week. His duties seem to agree well with him for he is still the personification of good cheer. We were mighty glad to see you, Father Picard, and call again when you can find the time.

J. Hayes Hinkle, '25, of Camden, Indiana, has asked that the Hoosiers about the school keep up their spirit. Hayes wants more Indiana news in the Viatorian.

We had other visitors from Mundelein last week also. Mr. Thomas Kelly, '23, and Mr. Thomas Meehan, '24, came down to see their friends at Viator, and they brought with them two friends. Mr. Kelly is now in his second year of theology and Mr. Meehan is enrolled in first philosophy. We wish these two young men the best of success.

Mr. Leo F. Dee, '26, sends tidings from the north. "Red" is busily engaged in pursuing his studies in theology at St. Paul Seminary. All of our old students at St. Paul's are enjoying the best of health according to Leo.

Mr. Thomas Fay dropped in to say hello the other day. He has been covering considerable ground in the states since leaving Viator. Tom tells us that he was married about a year ago at Dayton Beach, Florida. His present position is traveling for the Western Pipe and Steel Co.

We have a letter from Mr. Joseph Harrington, '27, in which he enclosed his subscription to the Viatorian, something about himself, and something about Mr. Warren Nolan, '24. Joe is in New York, of course, and is in the real estate advertisement department of the New York Telegram. "Warren Nolan," he says, "and Mr. White collaborated on a life of Jesse James, the leading article in Collier's magazine the past three weeks. Mr. Nolan continues as "publicity" for "Limited Artists," publishing such famous stars as Chaplain, Pickford, Fairbanks, Keaton. Joe also sends his best to the "grand old gang at Viator" and we return the compliments. Write again, Joe.

The best regards of Mr. John Bowe are also to be distributed among the boys, according to a note recently received from him. He subscribes to the Viatorian, expresses his hope that all is O. K., but tells us nothing about himself. Maybe you are coming down, John?

John "Dizz" Clancy was here recently to look over the Viator basketball squad. Of course, we were delighted with John's visit, and hope that the team came up to his expectations. We hope that you will drop in again, John, before spring training starts, for you don't get around very often after you start wielding the big stick and covering first base.

Greetings

Since the opening of the second semester, many new students have come to St. Viator College to seek the knowledge and training that will fit them for their careers in life. To these new students we extend a sincere welcome.

Many students have come and gone from St. Viator in years past. Of these, a great number have attained success in the clerical, professional, and business life. The future of the Viator student holds much in store if only he applies himself diligently and cooperates with the faculty. You may be sure that the former students who have attained success were the ones who applied themselves and worked conscientiously while they were here. We hope that their example will inspire the newly registered students.

All of the new students are invited to take part in all extra-curricular activities, and to enter into Viator life with complete confidence and assurance of a friendly reception. The faculty and student-body take this opportunity to welcome all of the new students to St. Viator's and to wish them loads of success during the coming semester.

New lights were thrown on the study of foreign languages at St. Viator at the recent meeting of the Dante Italian Club. A public oral examination was conducted for the first semester's work under the direction of Prof. Mario Chanoux Mascarino. The meeting was presided over by Rev. Christopher Marzano. Revs. E. V. Cardinal, F. E. Munsch and J. A. LeFleur represented the faculty at the meeting. The examination was divided into two distinct sections, the first being a quiz on the theory of the work covered during the course of the semester and the latter portion being given to conversation and expression.

Professor Mascarino opened the meeting with a resume of the activities of his department. Dr. Marzano, at the termination of the examination, lauded both the work of the members and of Prof. Mascarino. Following is the program of the second part of the examination:

VARSITY PLAYERS
GIVEN AWARDS
AT CLUB EVENT

Fifteen Football Players Receive Trophies.

Following the very interesting Bradley High-St. Viator Academy basketball game Saturday evening, January 28th, the Varsity football men and the Academy basketball team enjoyed the hospitality of the College Club at a smoker and card party in the club room. All the letter-men on the '27 football squad were there to receive from Coach McAllister's hands the very substantial and exceedingly attractive sweaters and blankets, awards to the deserving. The list of those who earned the trophies follows:

Captain Franklin May, Ernest Walsko, William Kelly, John O'Malley, Don Laenhardt, Michael Delaney, John Herbert, Linus Meis, Byron Evard, Joe Hoog, Ignatius Florin, Al Furling, William Todd, George LaFleur, Ed. Mathews. The first three mentioned received large blankets bearing the Viator monogram in recognition of four years of Varsity service. The remainder were given the monogram sweater.

Previous to the distribution of the coveted emblems of service on the gridiron, Coach McAllister delivered a few choice and pointed words of commendation, both to the members of the squad for their loyalty, aggressiveness, and their enviable record for square, clean play, and also to the entire student body for the splendid spirit and cooperation shown towards the team.

He dwelt at length on the sorrow which he experienced in parting with such valuable men as ex-Captain May, "Tiny" Kelly, and "Jake" Walsko. Coach McAllister frankly and openly declared that he would have a difficult time next season when the time came to fill the positions left vacant by these veterans.

After generous rounds of applause for the fifteen lucky warriors, the club members settled down to the popular "500". As the evening was already well on its way before the card playing began, only four games were played. Joe Hoog won the first prize with a remarkable score. Cecil Collins merited the consolation gift by his melodroit handling of the perfectly

Father Raphael Endears Himself to Students

In accordance with the time honored tradition at St. Viator, the semester examinations were followed by the annual retreat. For all of us it, too, was an examination, but an examination that was a pleasure for it lacked the necessity of cramming and the burning of midnight oil. It was an occasion when we ourselves had the pleasure of being the judges and of striking here and there with the red pencil, and of placing on the margins of the various pages of our lives, remarks, both of honest appreciation of deeds well done and biting bits of criticism for erroneous answers and omissions. Coming as it does so quickly after the wear and tear of examination, the retreat seems like a soothing hand laid upon a feverish forehead. It bids physical care to take flight and freshens the soul with its heaven sent peace and consolation, giving it courage, strength and determination in the refreshful thought that the beauty of the soul lies not so much in success as in the constancy of our efforts to attain it.

From the opening of the retreat on Saturday evening, January 28th, until its closing on Tuesday morning, January 31st, a spirit of reflection permeated the very atmosphere of the campus. Although absolute silence was not asked, a few maintained it and the unusual quiet of the remainder of the student body must have made known to these old walls that once again their loyal sons had entered into the retreat. With that same spirit which makes them cheer the name of Viator as the Green is carried to victory, the students threw themselves with equal enthusiasm into a spirit which can only lead to a spiritual victory.

The task of maintaining and further encouraging such a spirit fell upon Father Raphael, a Passionist Father from Norwood Park, Chicago. It was Father Raphael's first visit to us, but he left us, no longer a stranger, but a friend to whom the hand of welcome is ever extended. Father Raphael has the pleasing manner of one who is talking with rather than preaching to his listeners. As we sat in the chapel and listened to his words of advice, it seemed as if they fell from the lips of an intimate friend to whom we had gone that he might direct our ways. This is a wonderful faculty in a retreat master and no doubt is responsible in part for the interest which was shown throughout the retreat by the student body.

Father Raphael's conferences on frequent reception of the Sacraments and on the value of good example were particularly appealing and proved of great interest. He seemed to have an overflowing source of experiences from which to draw his examples. They were taken from every day life as we see it manifested about us, and they filled us at times with awe and burning admiration. We thank Father Raphael for his efforts among us, assure him that his labors will bear fruit, and hope that other years may find him again at Viator.

Bountiful refreshments in the shape of 'sinters' and 'coffein' were served. The gathering broke up at a late hour and vacated the club room in favor of those detailed to the cleaning up process.

The Humor of Exams are Post-Mortems

The first half of the current scholastic year has gone the way of all school years, leaving us just a half year older, and we hope, in the majority of cases, yea in all of the cases, a half year wiser. Whether we flopped or flew through the exams the semester should not have been wasted; we should think over our errors, our failings and our shortcomings; finding ourselves lazy, we should betake ourselves to study; finding ourselves over-confident we should iron out the high spots; and finding ourselves quite perfect we should aim to be more perfect. Don't sit around and make post-mortems, forget your errors in good resolutions and forget your winnings in the search for new fields to conquer. If you have built up a little empire, lost in this one battle and find yourself banished to the island of St. Helena, think things over and make a comeback, and don't have any Waterloo to stop you on your second rise. Fight hard, and if you have failed, look outside yourself to find out what fighting hard really is. Pick out some fellow who grabs off the high notes, and say to yourself, that bird is going to eat my dust before June, and make him eat it. Don't be holding autopsies, post-mortems and the like, embalm the past with the oil of might-have-been, and bury it away. If their is any thing that should be disinterred it is your school books, knock the dust off of them, and off your brain cells, and study for that is what you came to school for. Study even if you have to make the supreme sacrifice of not reading this column.

Now that the professors have found out just how much we don't know, they will come down off the hills of science, art and literature and start speaking in the vernacular. We suggest the following as a model for lectures: I ain't going to go into no detail about this guy, only I want to give you the low down on the fact that he was a bounder about the courts, and scribbled a mean line of verse. This gave him a drag with the king, or to be more proper the queen, and so he was forced to let him hang around. He up and out-courted the courtiers, slinging his versatile pen into high, and slapping out plenty of sweet whisperings. Well, the king got sore as heck, so he got a rope. He didn't want to push the guy out entirely, so he tied the rope around his swallower, and let him hang around on that. Get this you buzzards, this figure proves the eternal triangle, the law of pendulums, is a lesson on what free verse will do for you, if you're too free with it, and at the same time furnishes the first case of capital punishment, establishing a precedent in Jewish prudence and provides names for playing cards. Academics Cop Game From De LaSalle Lights H. S. Loses to Regulars

Student opinion last Tuesday morning, seemed to sway toward the belief that the High School quintet would whip De LaSalle, and that the Academics would take a drubbing from the Joliet lights. However, such pre-game predictions were totally reversed for the Acs came out on the long end of a 12-9 score, while the Academy regulars were beaten by the decisive count of 24-8. The plain and simple reasons for this unexpected victory and equally unlooked for defeat were that Smitty's youngsters displayed the best brand of ball they were capable of showing, and the Barrett-men, on the other hand, played but poorly.

In order to come up to Chicago Catholic League Lightweight requirements, the Acs had to bolster up their line-up with Morrissey, McGloom, and Cote. As a consequence of inefficient practice, their team work was poor, though, taken individually, they played well. Thus the Christian Brothers' boys took an early lead and were ahead at the half, 5-3. In the second half the Viatorians teamwork improved so much that they drew abreast of the Joliet men. Vince Morrissey sank a free throw for the tying point, just before the regulation time expired.

In the first overtime period, neither team did any scoring, but in the second one, Morrissey again played the hero role, tossing in two long shots to cinch the game. The other Academics point gainers were: McGloom, who sank one basket; Cote, who caged a basket and three free throws; and Salg, who dropped in one free throw. Harmon and Jackson were the leading scorers for De LaSalle.

Academy Trowned

Crushing as the high school's was, yet it was not without extenuating features. It is true that the Academy mens' sluggish and indecisive play permitted De LaSalle to run up a first half lead of 12 points, but our men made partial reparation for this poor showing by holding their opponents almost even in the second half. If they had played the first two stanzas as they did the last two, the game would have been a lot more exciting. Broulette scored the only Academy baskets on two short shots. Anderhub, and Bosquette counted on free throws. Jackson scored two baskets and two free throws to lead the Joliet scorers. He was closely followed by McCarthy, who dropped in two ringers.

Clement Costigan, 'Pat' Coleman, John F. Ryan from Bloomington and John 'Dix' Clancy of White Sox fame from Odell, were present as fans at the Viator-Millikin game on Feb. 6th.

Father Frank Casey and Father John 'Pat' Farrell were visitors present at the Viator-Millikin game.

At the twentieth annual Eucharistic conference of the Archdiocese of Portland, Oregon, held on Wednesday, November 16, 1927, the Rev. Martin Doherty read a paper entitled: "Prescriptive and Directive Rubrics of the Mass." During his school days at Viator, Father Doherty was a frequent contributor of short stories to the VIATORIAN. It is therefore a pleasure to find that his literary talents are being recognized, and that he is afforded the opportunity of using them in such a worthy cause. We congratulate Father Doherty and wish him continued success in the literary field.

Mr. Stanley J. Zimmerman, '22, of Saginaw, Michigan, sent in his subscription to the Viatorian. He informs us that he is employed in the piano department of the Ginnell Brothers Music House. Stanley promises to come down in the near future and to bring with him his wife.

To the tune of the Viator Loyalty song Mr. J. D. Dalrymple, (an alumnus by adoption) and Jimmie Dalrymple (an alumnus by right) strode into the Kankakee Armory to see Viator trim the K. A. A. C. Many thanks for the noise-making paraphernalia. We would like to string and quarter that referee for making us put aside the whistles and keep silent.

During the past week we were pleased to entertain two of our more youthful alumni: Mr. William Cassidy of Princeton, and Mr. J. Griffin Gallagher of Peoria. Both came down to see their many friends and to have a day of familiar school surroundings. Call again.

Last, but not by any means the least of our notes, is the very exemplary visit of Mr. James "Chick" Evans. Chick left his strenuous business for a few days, not to visit exactly, but to make the annual student retreat. That was fine, Chick. Now come down and pay us a visit.

Viator Wins Seven Games; Loses Two

VIATOR DOWNS THE MILLIKIN U. TEAM FOR SECOND TIME

MILLIKIN UNABLE TO HALT VARSITY'S SPEEDY PLAYS

St. Viator College downed the strong J. M. U. basketball club for the second time this year by the convincing count of 42 to 24. The uncanny basket eye of Evard and the brilliant work of Delaney and O'Malley put the Irish out in front at the beginning of the game and allowed them to romp home by a lop-sided count as the time waned.

Coach Gill of Millikin brought a vastly improved club to Viator and the Irish experienced some trouble in hitting their stride. Smith, a diminutive forward of the Millikin outfit, delighted the fans with his midget maneuvers under the basket. This boy is one of these pony forwards, and had he had a fast team mate would have shown to more advantage.

Clothier and Walkowiak were inserted in the game and these first year men made the going hot and hard for Millikin. Walkowiak played better than half the game and did some brilliant work on the floor, while hitting the net once from the free throw line and once from the field. Clothier started in the forward position instead of Laenhardt and played so well that McAllister never withdrew him. Campbell, who played such a whale of a game against the K. A. A.'s, was getting a lot of tough breaks it seemed, being placed in a position two or three times where fouls were inevitable. He was ejected from the fray before the end of the first half.

The scoring started with Smith of Millikin sinking a free throw and coming back a minute later to bring the count to 3 to 0. Viator got going and evened the count at 3 all on a free throw by Clothier and a basket by O'Malley. The count was knotted again at five all and at 10, with O'Malley, Delaney and Evard hitting for Viator, while Smith and Harpstreit sank them for Millikin. Viator pulled out in front a minute later and thereafter was never in serious danger. Clothier sank two from under the basket in rapid succession, and then came back to sink two foul throws donated by the holding proclivity of Harpstreit. Loue and Fisher of Millikin made four points via the Scotch line and Merkelback put in a pretty shot from the side court. Evard came through with the final basket for Viator to end the half, 18 to 15, in favor of the Irish.

In the second half Millikin scored first and endangered Viator's lead, but the tip off play worked beautifully for Viator on three occasions with Evard, Delaney and O'Malley going under for easy scores. Merkelback nicked the net for Millikin and Viator retaliated by socking the cords in rapid fire order under the able direction of Delaney and Evard. The game slowed down for a moment and Millikin took time out to reconnoiter. They evidently failed to stop the leak, for Evard and Walkowiak both came through from the field. Walkowiak had tough luck on a couple of birdies, Smith found the hoop on an overhead toss, and Loue scored on a free toss. Viator was creeping away because of its speed. Evard and Delaney again scored, and fouls by the Millikin men were interspersed to boost the Green total. O'Malley came through with a dribble-in shot with the count stand-

Two Unexpected Upsets Dim Conference Hopes

Viator started out on what looked like the best season in years, knocking off, by comfortable margins, the first four conference teams encountered, and further adding to the hopes of her followers by trampling the strong K. A. A. C. team under foot. In the first game of the season the Varsity defeated the Eastern Illinois Normal of Charleston, Ill., by the very decisive score of 46 to 28. This victory was followed by a similar performance against DeKalb Normal in which Viator trounced the visitors to the tune of 20 to 17.

With this notable start, the team took a two-day journey and met and defeated the Charleston outfit for the second time, and further added to their glory by trimming Millikin University at Decatur on the following night. At Millikin, the whole team hit its stride remarkably well to come off the floor on the long end of a 26 to 13 score. A few days later a mid-season game with the K. A. A. C. was staged in the Armory in Kankakee. Delaney, Evard and O'Malley came through with a remarkable performance, and Viator emerged victoriously.

After that the deluge! On January 28th the team met a tartar in Coach Robertson's Bradley Tech Indians on the Bradley gym floor. However, this upset did not discourage the boys, for they anticipated the return crack at Bradley which will be held here on February 18th. A few days later a Mr. Huntziker, who goes to school while he is not playing basketball at DeKalb Normal, drew a hot hand and, like Samson and the Philistines, slew Viator single handed by galloping hither and yon while banging the ball through the basket from all angles during the last minutes of play.

These two defeats dimmed Viator's Little Nineteen Conference hopes, but the Green goal-grabbers are set on introducing an element of sorrow into the hearts of other conference aspirants before giving up the ghost for 1928. The return game with Bradley, which will be played here on the 18th, offers an opportunity for revenge on that outfit, and if ever Viator was primed and anxious for a

St. Viator Cagers Handed 35-8 Trouncing By Bradley Poly

St. Viator College suffered its first conference defeat at the hands of Coach Robertson's Bradley Polytechnic Indians Saturday night by the lop-sided count of 35 to 8. Bradley gained an early lead and was never headed. O'Malley was the sole scorer for St. Viator throughout the game, getting two field goals in each half. The game was played at the Bradley gymnasium, and not in the armory as usual, and this accounted to some extent at least for the pitiful showing of the Green cagers. Loyola, a team that had been travelling at top speed, also suffered a like humiliation at the hands of the Robertson crew on the gymnasium floor a week or more ago.

Bradley Has Real Outfit.

Bradley has an outfit that is head and shoulders above any other quintet developed by Robertson during his years as mentor at that school, and it will match with any team in this section of the country on even a larger floor. St. Viator hopes to do better when pitted against Bradley at Viator on February 18th, the date of the return game. Coach McAllister believes that his proteges will go at a better clip on a large court. The Bradley outfit is composed of three or four six-footers, sprinkled around about some fast men such as Poland and Mason, and on their own floor this troop of court acrobats are unbeatable.

The Viator defense functioned well during the game and had Robertson's men used another type of offensive rather than long shots the score might have been much closer. McQueen, Mason and Duke were the high scorers for Bradley, with three field goals each, and Becker and Harms played a beautiful game on the defense.

chances selling at one dollar per book, or ten cents a chance, have been distributed among the high school men and a prize has been offered for the man who sells the greatest number of chances.

To date, this plan has been very successful, and has already netted a few hundred dollars. Competition among the students becomes more and more severe as time passes. With the additional funds supplied through the efforts of the high school, the committee on finances will be enabled to supply the visiting teams with the best of accommodations, and to secure a large number of trophies.

VALPARAISO BEATEN BY VARSITY IN FAST GAME OF LAST NIGHT

BULLETIN

St. Viator won a fast and furious, rough and tumble game from Valparaiso University last night, 34 to 27. The game was played at an exceedingly fast pace throughout, and was one of the most thrilling games that have been played on the Viator floor this season.

All the regulars starred for Viator. After Delaney had been injured and taken out temporarily from the game, Walkowiak substituted and played a fine floor game. O'Malley and Evard were high point men.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter Viator led Valpo by 15 points. At this time McAllister sent in a whole new team and Valpo managed to run in a few more points against the second string men to make the winning score less pretentious.

H. S. Basketeers Beat Odell, 28-16; Second Victory In Three Days

After a hard fought first quarter, which ended with the score knotted at 4 all, the Academy men opened up with their fastest attack and, thereafter, easily romped away from St. Paul's of Odell. In this victory, which brightened their prospects for the State Championship, the Barrettmen showed as well as they have so far this season. However, their slowness in getting the ball into play cost them not a few points. The final score was 28-16.

Soon after the first quarter opened, Hare, Odell's fleet left forward, scored on a side shot. Although Rascher countered for the Academy by sinking a close-up toss, the Odell-men again pulled ahead when Brougham made two free throws. Cody's dribble-in basket again evened matters. Going into the second quarter, the H. S. men pulled ahead and kept running up their score, until, at half time, they lead 12-6.

Although Hare's two baskets in the early minutes of the second half, put his team once more in the running, the tosses of Rascher, Brouillette, and Anderhub cut short the downstater's rally. From then on the battle was all Viator, until, in the closing minutes, Odell again spurred to cut far into the Academy lead.

The game was not notably rough, although quite a few personals were called on each team. Brouillette, with three baskets and a free throw, led the H. S. scorers. He was closely followed by Rascher, who counted thrice from the field, and by Cody who scored on two goals and a gift shot. Hodge and Rodriguez broke into the game in its dying moments. The latter managed to cage a short shot.

ACADEMY FIVE EVENS COUNT WITH BRADLEY IN SECOND CONTEST

Viator Wins Rough Return Contest, 14-12

Bang! Off went the gun, the first three quarters of the Viator Academy-Bradley High School game were over. The score, at this time, was 9 to 9, consequently the ultimate outcome of the fray was yet very uncertain. During the two minute intermission, the rooters of both schools quieted down somewhat, but when the last stanza opened, they broke forth again with exhortations and pleas.

Although Viator had gone into the battle rated as the underdog, they soon acquired confidence and, from the middle of the first quarter on, they fought the home team on even terms. Thus the lead was constantly changing hands. Bradley would slip a point or two ahead, then the Academy would come back, knot the count, and forge out in front, and so forth. The score at the end of the first quarter was four all, while at half time, Viator was clinging to a slender one-point lead.

But, to get back to the final period which we left with both teams fighting to eke out a winning margin, the Bradleyites, evidently striving to duplicate their last quarter victory in the first Viator game, again pulled into the lead with a free throw. Brouillette, however, frustrated their efforts by tossing in a long shot. In the next few minutes, both quintets missed some valuable free throws. With less than five minutes left to play, Anderhub dribbled down from mid-floor, eluded the guard, and, standing near the foul line, flung in a pretty, one-handed ringer. A half-minute later, Rascher counted on a free throw, to put the purple two baskets ahead. With the game safely stowed away, the Barrett-men resorted to stalling. They succeeded very well in this, until, just before the last gun sounded, Hasemeyer broke through their defense to cage a short toss. The final count was 14-12.

The game was rough and was marred by frequent fouling. However, neither team could be totally blamed for this rough play, since each had an almost even number of personals checked against it.

Brouillette, who was rushed into the fray early in the second quarter, played a bang-up game for the Academy. Pombert, at guard, showed better that he has on any previous occasion, while Anderhub, Bosquette, Cody, Hinton, and Rascher also turned in good performances. Stevens, the latest addition to the Academy squad, went pretty well in the time he was in. Bradley's two veteran forwards, Hasemeyer and Huddleston, put up the best exhibitions for their team.

St. Ignatius, Catholic League Leaders, Trim Academy 18-16

Although the Academy men did lose to St. Ignatius, yet the manner in which they went down fighting and the low score to which they held the vaunted League leaders, were victories in themselves. The fact that the Ignatians had whipped Viator by fifteen points but a few weeks before, seemed to give the Twelfth Street rooters the impression that their team should win by an even larger margin this time. But they forgot to reckon with the fighting spirit of the Academy.

The St. Viator quintet went onto the floor, scored first, and kept right on scoring, until, at the half, Viator was ahead, 10 to 7.

Ben Connors, who used to fling ringers for our varsity some few years back, must have injected some of the Viator spirit into his losing warriors during the intermission, for they uncorked a more varied and flashy second half attack. However, despite the increased energy of the Ignatians, the Academy boys still held a three point lead at the end of the third quarter.

When the fourth quarter opened, St. Ignatius hit their fastest stride, that stride which has won them fourteen straight games, and gradually pulled abreast of Viator. Then, with four minutes to play, a wily Ignatian dropped in a short shot to make the score 16-14. A Viator basket, another Ignatius basket and free-throw, and the score-book was closed for the evening. Though our men tried hard to knot the count thereafter they were balked by the stubborn defense of the Chicagoans.

H. S. Whips St. Bede's at Peru, 16 to 13

In their first Central States Conference game, the Academy team won a hotly contested battle from St. Bede's, 16-13. Although the down-state men were unable to cope with the flashy floor work of the Viatorians, yet the teams were never separated by more than a few points. Messrs. Svete and Reydorf's ability to sink long tosses, kept the Bedans in a constantly threatening position.

Brouillette, who sank two baskets and an equal number of free throws, led the scoring for Viator. Singler followed close on his heels with two ringers. Reydorf, the dangerous right forward of the Peru team, dropped in three baskets, while Svete and Serceck made one apiece. Duke Senica, although he played a whale of a defensive game, was unable to sink any counters.
