Science Club Listens To Dr. John Mizelle on Feb. 5

Immunity In Animal Parasitism Is Topic Of Noted Lecturer From University Of Illinois

Dr. John D. Mizelle of the University of Illinois, department of Animal Pathology, addressed the Science Club on Friday evening, February 5, in the Biology Lecture room. Dr. Mizelle spoke on the "Immunity in Animal Parasitism" and noted with approval the increased number of those interested in science. He compared the meeting with the one at which he spoke last year and stated that Dr. William C. Van Deventer, head of the local department of biology, deserves great credit for the scientific interest he has aroused in this neighborhood.

The speaker opened the discussion with a definition of a parasite saying that it was "any organism that lives for a part or all of its existence in or on and at the expense of another organism called the host". Dr. Mizelle then traced the history of parasites briefly, saying that they arose from a harmless association between organisms. Then the one participant in the association, or the parasite, derived benefits by obtaining its food and shelter whereas the other participant, or the host, experienced the loss.

Dr. Mizelle called attention to the fact that the host-parasite resistance is very often seen from one point of view, that of the host resisting the parasite. Any condition depicting the resistance of the parasite to the host is explained by the lack of resistance on the part of the host.

The lecturer then pointed out some very interesting experiments concerning the artificial production of host resistance to parasites. In one of these experiments the resistance of the host was built up by producing a condition in the host which destroys one of the links in the life cycle of the parasite. It proved to be especially successful in experiments with dogs who were able to throw off the parasites in a very short period.

Donates Books

In conclusion Dr. Mizelle stated the fact that work along these lines is still in its infancy, but that a great amount of good may result from further experimentation. The tapeworm, according to the speaker, provides an excellent field for experiments since it is directly re-

Fr. E. V. Cardinal Will Speak Over WGN

The Very Rev. Dr. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., president of the College, will broadcast over a national hook-up of the Mutual Broadcasting Company today. Father Cardinal will speak from radio station WGN at 12:35 on the Mid-day Service Hour. His topic will be "The Catholic Attitude on the Race Question."

This is the second time within two weeks that the Very Rev. Dr. Cardinal has spoken over a national hook-up. Last time he spoke was on January 25. At that time Doctor Cardinal's topic was "The Glory of Living."

College Continues Free Education For Adults of Vicinity

Response Of First Semester Results In Decision

The Very Rev. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., Ph. D., president of the College, recently announced that the school will continue its efforts to provide free adult education to those of Kankakee and vicinity who are desirous of furthering their education.

"The administration of St. Viator College", he said, "is gratified by the great number who have responded to this experiment in free adult education."

"We feel that the people of Kankakee and vicinity are sincere in their desire for additional educational advantages and therefore the college administration has decided to continue the policy of free adult education which it began last semester."

New Subjects

Dr. Cardinal also pointed out that this free adult education policy of the college is in keeping with the policies advocated by other colleges and universities throughout the country. He emphasized the fact that the new courses to be offered during the second semester in late afternoons and evenings include many subjects of vital interest to the people of this area especially the business men and the school teachers.

Late afternoon courses, beginning at 4:15 o'clock, are:

The French Revolution and Napoleonic Era, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, to be taught by the Very Rev. Dr. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., head of the department of history.

Poverty and Relief, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, by the Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., head of the department of sociology.

Victorian Prose, on Mondays and Wednesdays, by Professor Michael Moloney, head of the department of English.

Heredity Course

Heredity, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, by Dr. William C. VanDeventer.

Plans For Honor Society Await College Council OK

Fifteen Students Will Be Charter Members If College Council Sanctions Idea Of A Local Honor Society

Monogram Club Will Hold Its Dance In City

Tradition Broken As V-Men Seek Greater Crowd

The St. Viator Annual Monogram Dance will be held in the Bal-Tabin Ballroom of the Sherman Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, according to a recent announcement made by the Rev. Francis Harbauer, C. S. V., athletic director and moderator of the Monogram club. The decision of the monogram men to hold their annual dance in Chicago breaks an old tradition which has been in vogue ever since the monogram men organized. This year will mark the first time that this particular dance has been held further from the campus than Kankakee.

Explaining the decision of the Monogram Club to hold its dance in Chicago, Father Harbauer pointed out the unquestionable advantages of patronage, location for the convenience of the alumni, and also the undoubtedly increase in financial success that must attend the affair. The opinion of members of the Monogram Club as to the advisability of holding the dance in Chicago was evenly divided but the promise of the Viator Club of Chicago to back the venture in every possible way swung the necessary number of members to favoring the idea.

At present no orchestra has been secured but negotiations are being conducted with several of the popular leaders of the day.

Plans for the formation of an Honor Society upon the campus are well under way, according to an announcement made only yesterday by Dr. G. Kinzer, head of the physics department. Dr. Kinzer, sponsor of the plans for such a society, has drawn up a constitution which he will present to the members of the faculty at their next regular meeting. If these plans receive the approval of the governing body of the college the Honor Society will be formed in the near future.

The object of the society, according to its tentative constitution, "shall be the increasing of scholastic achievements, the recognition of such achievements, and the further dissemination of knowledge among the students enrolled at St. Viator College."

The tentative constitution further states that students may become members of the society provided they meet the following qualifications: "(1) have a scholastic rating within the upper ten per cent of all the students enrolled at the college; (2) an average of 4.5 must be maintained in scholastic rating for two consecutive semesters; and (3) have demonstrated that he or she has the necessary character of a Christian gentleman or lady."

Probable Members

Since a student must of necessity have at least one year of attendance at the college prior to membership in the society freshmen will not be eligible. A survey of the honor rolls for the past two years reveals that seven seniors and eight sophomores, a grand total of fifteen students, are eligible for membership. Of this fifteen the department of liberal arts supplies seven of the potential members, the department of science six and the department of commerce two.

Students who, according to Dr. Kinzer, may become members of the society are Miss June Piper, 39; Brother Patrick Toomey, C. S. V., '37, Brother Clarence Biladeau, C. S. V., '39, Miss Doris Barnett,

Father Maguire To Be K. C. Guest Speaker

The Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., head of the department of commerce here, will deliver the first lecture in the Kankakee Knights of Columbus crusade against Communism, according to a recent announcement of the supreme council of the local Knights of Columbus. Four lectures are planned.

"Communism the Destroyer" is the topic Father Maguire has chosen for this public lecture to be given at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening, February 11, in the K. of C. auditorium.

In the crusade against Communism, Z. L. Duchene, grand knight of the local council, has appointed the Rev. E. J. O'Neil, C. S. V., assistant pastor at St. Patrick church of Kankakee, as chairman of the Catholic activity committee.

A Logical Premise Leads To Middle- Man's Joy But The Conclusion Is Sad

The value of final examinations was fully demonstrated here at St. Viator College last week during the semester quizzes when it was learned that certain of the student body, six to be exact, paid exactly three dollars apiece for what they thought were the final examination questions in logic. The entrepreneurs, whose diligent labor of piecing together four closely typewritten pages of torn master copy went for nought, have gained renown which threatens to become traditional.

Ever since the first student tried to beat the final examination bugbear, means and ways of "cribbing" have been invented and essayed. Here at St. Viator, due to the "hawkeye" qualities of the professors, the undergraduates have found to their dismay that classroom copying has become hazardous. Therefore, a new system had to be devised if certain students were to hurdle successfully those horrible tests.

Thus, this year two enterprising young undergraduates conceived the brilliant idea of ferreting out the examination questions before the examination. Undoubtedly they at first only had ideas of securing those examinations that would be of use to themselves. As fortune would have it though, in searching the barrel where all office wastebaskets are emptied, they came across the remains of what evidently were the logic questions of the Rev. Jas. Lowney, philosophy teacher.

With a fortitude that certainly must be admired these industrious youths gathered together all the scraps of paper, each of which had been torn into minute pieces, and carried them to their room. Once there they went to work diligently putting together their unique jigsaw puzzle. After laboriously working for almost twelve hours they succeeded and lo and behold they had four closely typewritten pages of what was beyond a doubt a logic examination. Financial reward was in the offing as there were approximately 50 students taking the logic course. Peddling copies of their wares, these enterprising salesmen, on the promise of a refund if the questions proved wrong, succeeded in finding six capitalists in Roy Hall who were willing to part with three dollars apiece. Each of the purchasers gave his promise not to divulge the source of his information and not to resell.

Came the day and the hour of the examination. Messers. Entrepreneurs waited with pleasure for

Fr. Cracknell Fails As Under-Study to Cupid

Students, alumni and friends, who have long admired the gentlemanly and scholarly character of the Rev. William J. Cracknell, C. S. V., registrar, will no doubt chuckle, and perhaps even smile, when they learn how a certain freshman of the college took advantage of Father Cracknell's well-known willingness to aid those in distress. The story which we are about to relate really happened. Its validity has been attested by several members of the faculty as well as admitted by the freshman principal.

It would seem that recently this young freshman of football renown made the acquaintance of a young lady at St. Francis College in Joliet. Mutually attracted they sought ways of communication, etc. In the course of their plans the young damsel desired to know how she could reach her knight by telephone. And there-in lies the crux of the story for it seems that her knight told the young lady that if ever she had a message of grave importance for him she should call the registrar of St. Viator College and he would certainly deliver it.

Thus it happened that last week a telephone rang in the treasurer's office and a young lady inquired for the registrar. Informed that he was not on the campus but that his assistant was willing to take a message she gave him this message for Mr. P—C—, a member of the freshman class. "Please call Miss — of St. Francis College as soon as possible otherwise I shall date a local boy for the dance Saturday night." The assistant registrar, knowing the financial condition of the freshman in question, informed the young lady that if she didn't want her knight to call and reverse charges she had better take the date with the local youth.

Campus comment indicates that the effort of the self-confident freshman to turn the registrar's office into a headquarters for Dan Cupid will be bracketed in Viator history with the hoary legend of the "Chaplain Postmaster". That legend tells how the high silk hat of a former chaplain to Notre Dame Convent was, unknown to the wearer, the medium for the transmission of romantic notes between girl students at the convent and St. Viator men.

Father Maguire Visits Strike Scenes

During the past week the Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., head of the department of commerce and sociology here, has been making an extensive tour of the middlewest lecturing on the problems of the current strike situation.

Father Maguire, a nationally known arbitrator of labor disputes, visited Pontiac, Lansing, Flint and Detroit, all labor centers in Michigan, in an effort to secure an inside view of the current labor problems. He also made a flying trip to Des Moines, Iowa, and delivered several speeches concerning the present labor situation.

Sunday morning, Father Maguire, speaking over radio Station WMAQ of Chicago on the Chicago University Round Table Hour of Discussion, answered questions concerning the current strike situation. His comments on the sit-down strike and other phases of the strike conditions prevalent in America today were most appropriate.

G-Man Relates Experiences To Criminologists

R. C. Mullen, special investigator attached to the Chicago office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation District, recently lectured before members of the Criminology Class and other students of the college. Mr. Mullen spoke convincingly of the scientific procedure of modern criminology, exhibited photographs to emphasize his lecture and conducted an open forum immediately after his lecture.

The Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, professor of criminology secured the services of Mr. Mullen for the afternoon and extended the welcome and appreciation of the student body to the lecturer.

Ample opportunity for Mr. Mullen to demonstrate his detective ability was provided after the lecture when he attempted to gather up the photographs and pamphlets he had permitted the students to examine while he lectured. Suffice it to say that Mr. Mullen proved his efficiency by recovering everything of his, although a certain student still claims that the detective should have also found his accounting book which unaccountably disappeared during the lecture.

Choralists Plan Saturday Night Entertainments

Saturday evening, January 23, the Choral Club of the college, entertained approximately fifty of the students with selections by Peter Brady, '39, on the saxophone; several pieces by the newly formed orchestra and a double feature motion picture. The pictures shown were "The Four-footed Ragger" and "An Elephant On His Hands". Brother Robert J. Schoffman, C. S. V., was in charge of the projection machine.

According to the Rev. Manuel Loughran, C. S. V., director of the Choral Club, similar Saturday night entertainments will be provided to relieve the tedium that resident students feel on these evenings that they must remain on the campus.

Engineering Frat To Sponsor Motion Picture Show

Sigma, Mu, engineering fraternity, will present an educational motion picture of a serio-comic nature to the students of the college on Tuesday, February 23, according to an announcement made today by Brother Cyril Peckham, C. S. V., one of the fraternity officers. The motion picture, which is to be furnished through the courtesy of the Chevrolet Manufacturing Company, depicts in a serio-comic fashion the proper way of driving an automobile safely.

Provincial Receives Three Novices Into Clerics of St. Viator

Three young men completed their novitiate on Monday, February 1 and were received into the Clerics of St. Viator Community at Fournier Institute in Lemont by the Very Rev. J. P. O'Mahoney, C. S. V., Provincial. The new members of the community are Brothers Edward Shaw, Thos. Ryan, and Francis Emerick.

Brother Thos. Ryan, a graduate of DePaul University, will teach at St. Viator College and Brother Shaw will continue his collegiate studies at the same institution. Brother Francis Emerick will study at Knedrick Seminary in St. Louis, Missouri. The Mass at which the three

Sophs Are Hosts At A Brilliant Mid-Winter Hop

Gayety and good-fellowship reigned over the gymnasium Saturday night as the Sophomore class entertained Viator men at a brilliant mid-winter cotillion. Hectic days of study and examination were forgotten as students gave way to the beauty of song and melody.

Making no attempt at grand or lavish decorations, the second-year men bedecked the gymnasium in a simple beauty which added to the evening's pleasant informality.

The cotillion featured the smooth, rhythmic melodies of the popular Rose Marie Orr orchestra. Varying a superior dance program with bright, gay novelties, the musicians won high favor with the guests.

Daniel Murphy, Sophomore class president, insisted after the dance that the financial success of the affair had been assured long before the music began and that the proceeds surpassed the expectations of the class.

The following committees served under Mr. Murphy on arrangements: Bids—V. Murphy, R. Mullen, L. Legris, H. Fields; Music—W. Watson, F. Moore, W. Quan, P. Brady; Decorations—J. Hart, J. Burns, L. Doyle, L. Magdecki.

Father Ford, '97 Dies On Jan. 13 In Lafayette, Ind.

The Rev. Michael J. Ford, former pastor of Otterbein, Indiana, died January 13 at St. Elizabeth Hospital in LaFayette after a months illness.

Father Ford entered St. Viator College from Hartford, Indiana, during the year 1893 and after finishing his college course he studied theology at St. Mary's Seminary in Cincinnati during the years of 1897 to 1900. He was ordained for the Fort Wayne diocese on July 3, 1900.

The Very Rev. J. P. O'Mahoney, C. S. V., Provincial of the Chicago Province of the Clerics of St. Viator, attended the funeral and preached the sermon at the Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Mary's church, LaFayette, Indiana, on January 15.

College Has Mass For R. Bergin

A Month's Mind Requiem High Mass was celebrated in the College Chapel, January 28, for Mr. Roderick Bergin who died in St. Agnes Hospital, Fresno, California, after a short illness.

The VIATORIAN wishes to extend to the Reverend Sister Mary Albertine of St. Mary's College, Holy Cross, Indiana and to the Rev. Dr. William J. Bergin, C. S. V., a member of the faculty here, the sincere sympathy and prayers of their Viatorian friends in the loss of their dearly beloved brother.

young clerics pronounced their vows was celebrated by the Rev. A. J. Landroche, C. S. V. Brother George Carson, C. S. V., directed the choir. The Very Rev. Monsignor F. M. O'Brien of St. Angela's parish was present in the sanctuary.

Small Longing At Notre Dame For The Co-eds

Notre Dame, Indiana — There's little longing for co-eds on the University of Notre Dame campus but Notre Dame men have their ideas about women — and the principal of these is purity — a university survey recently showed.

Only 15 per cent of the students said that they had regrets there were no co-eds to go with the moonlight on the campus. Sixty-six per cent liked the man's environment at Notre Dame; the remaining 19 per cent qualified their answers.

Purity was the quality the majority said they desired most in a girl. Second preference was intelligence; honesty was third. Beauty didn't do better than fifth place.

"I'm still looking for a girl who will drink a dime glass of beer instead of a 50-cent cocktail", one student wrote.

Reasons Given

Some of the reasons given for not wanting coeds around was:

"I don't see how a fellow can learn anything with them around."

"Women cost too much", another student commented.

Student opinion was divided even-ly on the question of the college-trained wife. "What's beneath the polish?" one student wanted to know. Another said: "Most of the girls who go to college don't learn to cook."

The survey showed that few students spend money for recreation in the city of South Bend, two miles away. More than 59 per cent of the students said they spend an average of $2 or less a week for everything exclusive of educational expenses. About 37 per cent get along on a dollar or less.

Four spendthrifts—a junior and three seniors —were uncovered. Each admitted spending more than $20 a week.

Father Wm. Bergin Reviews Book

The Rev. William J. Bergin, C. S. V., a member of the philosophy department of the college, reviewed Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchinson's latest book, "High Learning In America", before the members of the Kankakee Book Review Club on February 4. Previously to this appearance Father Bergin had reviewed the book at a faculty meeting of the college.

Green Diamond Provides First Brain Teaser

To while away a few of your spare moments we present this problem to you. It was discovered in a drawer of the editor's desk, said drawer having evidently been used during the past decade as a wastebasket.

The Problem

The Green Diamond is manned by three men who are named Smith, Robinson and Jones. Now these three men are guard, fireman and engineer of the train but not respectively.

On the train there are three passengers, Mr. Smith, Mr. Jones and Mr. Robinson. Now, the guard lives half way between Champaign and Kankakee. Mr. Robinson lives in Kankakee.

Mr. Jones, one of the passengers, earns $1,000 per annum, while the guard's nearest neighbor, a passenger, earns exactly three times as much as the guard. It is further known that the guard's namesake lives in Champaign.

Smith beat the fireman at billiards while in Chicago.

What was the name of the engineer?

Editor's Note—The names of all who submit the correct answer to this office with a brief writeup of the means used to discover the engineer's name will be published in the next issue. All answers must be in by noon, February 11th.

● INTERCOLLEGIATES

The profundity of professional statements has often left us with our mouth wide open and with a sinking feeling that we ordinary mortals will never reach the status of mind concentration that our teachers invariably attain. Heavy statements like the following finds us floundering like a fish out of water, "If you sleep on the floor, you can't fall out of bed", according to Professor T. V. Smith of Chicago University.

Chaparon: "Girls I have a man outside that I would like to have you meet."

Athletic type: "What can he do?"
Literary type: "What does he read?"

Chorus type: How much does he have?"

College type: "Where is he?"

In a Contemporary Lit quiz at Le-High on the "American Tragedy" one bright Junior scribbled down the numbers of the questions and wrote, "this is the tragedy," and signed his name. Reminds us of some of our own classmates.

Professors say light travels at the rate of 186,284 miles a second. After watching a couple of our co-eds spread a juicy morsel of scandal I have come to the conclusion that they make light look like a snail dragging an anchor.

The "installment plan" at Oregon State College offers male students plenty of variety — if they have enough nickles. They are admitted to each sorority house for five cents and have the privilege of dancing for 15 minutes. Since the dance lasts 3 hours, they are able to shuffle at 12 houses, all for sixty cents.

From the Villanovan we crib the following:

Out in Minnesota there was a terrific snowstorm during which a traveler saw a man's hat on a snowdrift. Attempting to pick it up, he found a man under it. "Need a lift?" he asked. The reply was, "No thanks I'm on a horse."

Co-eds at Northwestern were being offered a special course in the use of cosmetics. This was pretty fine until advertising agents from beauty colossi appeared and tried to spoil the amateur standing of the instructors by offering money-money-money for testimonials.

Prior to the recent Sophomore Cotillion, Len Mondl bet Charlie Gilbert that he could not secure a date with his (Mondl's) girl-friend. Imagine Mondl's embarrassment when Gilbert succeeded. Moral: Never trust your girl-friend, even with your best friend.

SIDELINE SLANTS—

Due to the exams and the vacation between semesters, no games were played in the I-M league for the past week. We did find time to gather a few statistics for the games played thus far.

The standings of the team yields but one team with clean record, Murphy's Hungry Five with four wins.

Summary of the standings:

	W	L	Pct.	TP	OP
Hungry Five	4	0	1.000	143	66
Ramblers	3	1	.750	105	69
Bears	3	1	.750	140	75
Day Dogs	2	1	.600	56	79
Indians	2	2	.500	76	106
Nomads	1	3	.250	72	116
Specials	1	3	.250	62	101
Barons	0	3	.000	53	105

In the High Scoring division we find that V. Murphy is leading the pack, with the others close behind

	G	FB	FT	TP
V. Murphy, Hungry 5,	4	21	1	43
McCue, Specials,	4	15	4	34
O'Connor, Hun. 5,	4	15	2	32
Watson, Bears,	4	15	1	31
Dilger, Ramblers,	2	14	2	30
Yacullo, Bears,	4	13	4	30
Wills, Ramblers,	4	13	2	28
Foxen, Ramblers,	3	12	1	25
Hickey, Bears,	4	9	3	21
Herlihy, Indians,	3	9	1	19
J. Hamilton, Indians,	3	8	3	19

In the team scoring we find the Bears almost equal the Hungry Five, in both their offense and defense tactics.

Mr. Marshall verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen, and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. FRESHMEN TAKE WARNING

Within the next few days you, the members of the Class of '40, will convene to elect your leaders for the remaining portion of the scholastic year. While it is the policy of the VIATORIAN to refrain from involving itself in campus politics, we feel that the occasion calls for editorial comment since the outcome of your election will effect the future welfare of not only your class but of the college and the entire student body.

In the past students have elected fellow students to important offices without serious consideration of their fitness for the positions at stake. In fact many students have voted blindly, following the whims of certain campus and class party factions, others have voted for a candidate simply because he was an outstanding athlete, because he was personally popular, or because he happened to come from the same city. The VIATORIAN believes that a word of warning, therefore, should be given to the Class of '40 in order that grave and serious reflection may be given to the task that is at hand.

Freshmen, you have spent the past semester under the able guidance of two moderators who were appointed by the College Club. These men served you as leaders while you had an opportunity of becoming acquainted with your classmates. Your period of probation is over and with the publishing of the scholastic standings you will be permitted to select those members of your class whom you wish to be your leaders.

Certain men of your class have been outstanding upon the gridiron and the basketball court and others shall soon receive high scholastic rating. From among this select few we urge you to select with care men who will be well qualified to lead, who will show their capacity for leadership by announcing a well planned program. Remember, too, that the men whom you elect as your leaders will in the future be representatives of the college. They shall in a large measure either bring your class fame or discredit, so be wise in your choice.

Avoid, in so far as is possible, all party factions that will result in bitterness. Party factions should be forgotten after the election. Remember the old adage, "United we stand, divided we fall". Give to your duly elected officers a whole-hearted support and you will as a result avoid the pitfalls that have ruined many a class in the past. In unity there is strength and so the VIATORIAN urges you to be as one.

As a final word of warning we would advise you to look for the following qualities in the men whom you elect to office: first, they should be Christian gentlemen worthy of the name; secondly, they should be men of proved ability as leaders; and finally, they should be men of pleasing personalities. In other words, the men whom you select as your officers should be those who are best qualified to lead your class to success in all its undertakings. They should be men whom you would some day like to see at the head of major campus organizations.

The LIBRARY LOG

"There is no frigate like a book to take one miles away".

No doubt many of the students felt the need of just such a frigate as evidenced by the number of fiction books circulated within the last few weeks.

The International Relations Club books have been received. Among them we find such titles as:

"Can We Be Neutral?", Allen W. Dulles and Hamilton Fish Armstrong. In this volume two leading authorities on foreign affairs give the pros and cons of the various expedients suggested for enabling the United States to escape foreign wars. They examine the new American neutrality policy in the light of experience, in relation to the large problem of the world peace, and above all, with an eye to its practicability and expediency. Their statements are clear and complete. The relevant documents are included in an appendix. Here, then, is all the reader needs to know in order to make up his mind intelligently about a question involving no less an issue than that of peace or war.

"World Trade and Its Future", Sir Arthur Salter. The book is an effort at describing in broad outline, and without technical detail, the course of the development of international trade in modern times; and the principal factors which have determined its volume, its character, and its organization; and then at suggesting a certain course of policy to the conditions of the present, and the probable conditions of the near future.

"Fascism and National Socialism", Michael T. Florinsky. "Fascism and National Socialism" by Dr. Florinsky is a comparative study of the economic and social policies of the present regimes in Italy and Germany.

"The Spanish Tragedy"—1930-1936—Dictatorship—Republic—Chaos, by E. Allison Peers. It is a highly readable account giving the essential background of the present situation.

The following two seem to be self-explanatory: "What the International Labor Organization Means to America", edited by Spencer Miller, Jr., and "History of the Far East", by Harold M. Vinacke.

We wish to extend our thanks to Dr. John Ellis for the gift of two books, "Europe's Discovery of South America", by Sidney R. Welch and "Cambridge History of the British Empire", Vol. 8, edited by J. Holland Rose.

To Dr. Wm. Van Deventer we also extend thanks for a copy of "Vertebrate Embryology", by Waldo Shumway.

In our contest concerning the Spanish quotation inserted in the last issue, Miss Patricia Smith, '40, has submitted a translation but is at loss as to the book and author.

Our thoughts wander to Father

This matter of your first class election is a serious one. The VIATORIAN cannot urge too strongly upon the members of the Class of '40 the obligation to vote sanely and intelligently, regardless of the stampeding tactics which certain political "combines" may see fit to use. Remember, your whole future as a class will be decided in this your first class election. Be forewarned and vote wisely!

Briefs From Our Viator Club Chapters

Los Angeles, Calif.—The following letter arrived in the VIATORIAN office just as we were ready to go to press:

January 27, 1937.

The Editor of The VIATORIAN, Dear Sir:

I received a copy of the VIATORIAN yesterday from an old friend of mine now at the college. It carried me back to the happy years of 1924-25-26 when I was a student within its hallowed walls. Since that time the old fellows have drifted far apart. I often wonder, as they probably do too, whatever became of this one and that one; where they are and what they are doing.

Why not run a column of interest to the "old boys"? I'm sure you could gather a collection of old pictures of the F. C. F. Fraternity, the class picnics at Rock Creek, athletics, etc. And perhaps now and then you could include a brief sketch of some old timers who are scattered from coast to coast.

Since I learned of a Viator Club in Washington, I thought why not have one here? There are a great many Viator men in California and I believe it would be a splendid idea to gather them all together. I recently placed a Viator sticker on my car and you would be surprised how often old boys of the class of 1908, etc. have popped up everywhere.

Some of the men with whom I am in contact are:—

Johnny School, '26, who is now a Forest Ranger stationed at Yosemite National Park.

"Sleepy" Jim Frawley, '26. Jim is now employed by the Bank of America in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Len E. Gorman, my brother, now associated with Bullock's Wilshire, Inc., of Los Angeles, Calif. He knows a number of men whose names I can not recall at the moment.

We seldom see Viator scores in the papers. Send me the dope and I'll see that it's spread all over Southern California. Write to me at my home address. I'm a traveling auditor for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and may not answer immediately but will answer all letters as soon as it is possible.

Here's to a Viator Club of California for 1937. Please write and give me the names and addresses of any old Viator men that you know of who may be located in California. Also wish you would include any information or suggestions you have to offer.

Sincerely yours,
 John D. Gorman,
 10376 Ilona Avenue,
 Westwood Hills,
 Los Angeles, California.

Editor's Note: Dear Johnnie: I am sending you a letter answering your questions, etc. by return mail. Write again and let us know how your Viator Club progresses. Tell all Munsch, vacationing in the sunny South. We were glad to receive word that he arrived safely at his destination without having been delayed in the flood area.

Viator men that you see to drop us a line also.

Springfield, Illinois — Donald Anderson, formerly a student and star athlete at St. Viator College and now head football coach at Converse High School here, acquired the greatest potential quarterback in his life early Tuesday morning, January 19. However, Don explained he will have to wait a few years before he will really see his protege in action.

Coach Anderson was presented a seven and one-fourth pound son at 12:30 a. m. on January 19 at St. John's hospital. Mrs. Anderson and son were reported doing fine. He is the first child.

The Andersons reside at 1137 1-2 South Fourth Street.

Andrew O'Laughlin, '25, a member of the faculty of Junior College here, recently had the pleasure of seeing his Little Theatre Group present to an enthusiastic audience Casella's "Death Takes A Holiday". Andy has been director of dramatics at the Springfield Junior College ever since he joined the faculty.

Bourbonnais, Illinois — Gill Middleton, '33, and Stephen Gould, '35, visited the campus during examination week and spent many hours renewing friendships. Both Middleton and Gould are now studying at St. Paul Seminary, St. Paul, Minnesota. Middleton, now a deacon, will be ordained this June while Steve is just in his first year of theology.

Kankakee, Illinois — The following appeared in the PATONIA, St. Patrick High School publication and since it deals with a very prominent athlete of bye-gone days we take the privilege of republishing it.

Clarence Romary's Career Is Interesting

"Of all the stories relating the lives of coaches in this vicinity, none is repeated so often as that of Clarence "Puff" Romary. Although he starred at every point possible while attending high school in Fort Wayne, the portion of his life which appeals to us is that period which he enjoyed at St. Viator College. Coming directly from high school to the college, he made good immediately and capped his college career as head basketball coach. When he left the campus, he had four letters each in basketball, football and baseball.

"Puff" was probably the most illustrious athlete ever developed at the Bourbonnais institution and was selected on Fred Young's all-conference baseball team for three years and on his basketball team for two years. When Ray Dahman, former Viator coach, was released during "Puff's" senior year, this responsibility was given to the "Hoosier". He immediately became as clever a leader from the bench as he had been on the floor.

Shortly after graduation "Puff" received an offer from St. Patrick's which he accepted. In a very short time he changed the "Irish" athletic teams from fair second-class outfits to smooth high-class representatives, capable of meeting any high school team.

At present "Puff" is a very busy young man. He is superintendent at a local factory, a star on Kankakee's lone professional quintet, the Miller High Life squad, and does some basketball officiating, in addition.

DeKalb Cagers Drop Irish For 3d '19' Setback

Betourne and Monahan Lead Irish at the Basket

A last minute rally which brought the Irish of Viator to within two points of victory gave basketball fans of DeKalb University a thrilling evening on January 23 as the Profs defeated the Green Wave cagers, 32 to 30. The loss was the third straight conference defeat suffered by the Irish basketballers in conference play and DeKalb's fifth consecutive victory. Hopes of another conference championship were blasted into oblivion with this defeat and now Viator fans can only look forward to their quintet dropping certain of the favorites from the current race.

In the game with DeKalb Viator jumped into an early lead and at one point had a 6-0 margin to their credit. Long shots by Davis, colored star, and Terhune, DeKalb guards, proved the downfall of the Irish. Repeatedly during the first half these two men, Davis and Terhune, arched high shots from mid-court which invariably found their way through the hoop. At half time DeKalb held a lead of 23 to 17.

Outstanding stars for Viator were Monahan and Betourne, who garnered 8 points apiece to lead the Green Wave attack. Straub and McElligott were particularly strong as defensive men for the Irish. Hellman, Davis and Terhune led the Profs at the basket.

St. Viator Whip Charleston In 50 to 46 Battle

Straub And Betourne Lead Irish To Victory

Completely abandoning their usual style of play, the rotating offense and the man for man defense, because of the crackerbox size of the floor at Charleston Teachers' College, the Green Wave basketballers engaged the Prof quintet in a free for all, high scoring contest last Wednesday night and emerged victorious after forty minutes of fast and furious basketball. The final score was 50 to 46 in favor of the Irish.

Frank Straub, versatile guard, and Don Betourne, adonis-like forward, led the Irish at the basket with 18 and 17 points respectively. Betourne collected 7 field goals and 3 charities while Straub rang up 8 from the field and two from the free throw line. Curry, captain and forward of the Profs, tied Betourne for second place scoring honors of the fray when he garnered 8 buckets and a charity.

Minus Two Stars

The Irish cagers went into an early lead and never relinquished the advantage. Viator led at the half, 26 to 21. In the closing minutes of both the half and of the game the Teachers staged brilliant rallies to come from behind and draw within a few points of the victors.

Viator played without the services of both Red McElligott and George Rogers, varsity forward and guard respectively. Both are out for at least another week because of influenza. Claeys replaced McElligott and did an excellent job of defensive and offensive work on rebounds. Blazeovich and Walsh shared Rogers' position at the guard post and turned in excellent defensive games.

TOMMIE GIBBONS

Tommie Gibbons, depicted above, has worn his last St. Viator uniform. Injured in the last football game of the season Tom was unable to report for basketball practice until late in March. Two days of practice and Tommie fell in a scramble under the basket. His bad knee was wrenched and doctors have ordered him to quit athletics. Tom's loss will be felt keenly by the team.

IIAC Seventh Track And Field Meet Is Scheduled For April

The seventh annual Illinois Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference Indoor Track and Field Meet will be held at North Central College Fieldhouse, Naperville on April 3. The meet is being held later this year than it was formerly for the following reasons, according to Gordon R. Fisher, director of athletics at the North Central College: (1) a desire to avoid conflict with Armour and Butler Relay Carnivals, both of which come on March 20; (2) a desire to avoid conflict (as far as possible) with Easter vacations of the various conference colleges.

Bach, Morgan KO Foes Before Packed House

Squad Prepares For Bouts In Bloomington

Fighting preliminary bouts on the first amateur card of the season to be presented in Kankakee, Captain Don Morgan and J. Emmett Bach, two of the Green Wave's varsity boxers, emerged victorious by way of the knockout route on January 21. Approximately 600 patrons of the manly sport filled the K. of C. hall and yelled themselves into a state of hysteria.

J. Emmett Bach, freshman sensation, and Don Morgan, veteran captain of the Irish pugs, under the direction of Lou Zarza, former brilliant Michigan State football end and boxer, registered the only two knockouts of the evening's eight card match. Bach, 147 pounder and semi-finalist in the recent C. Y. O. tournament in Chicago, showed an abundance of skill in stopping Dave Foster of Kankakee in the second round.

Lasts 45 Seconds

Bach, the aggressor throughout, floored his foe in the first round and dropped him twice in the second round before the referee mercifully halted the one-sided battle. Morgan's fight with Harold McBroom of Kankakee was something of a record for brevity.

The setto lasted about 45 seconds, Morgan walking into his foe and landing several sharp smashes to the chin which dropped McBroom. The latter arose the first time but shortly thereafter went down under another chin barrage and he was helped up this time.

Golden Gloves Aim

Six members of the varsity squad of boxers have been entered by Coach Zarza for the Sectional Tournament of the Tribune Golden Gloves which will be held at Bloomington, Illinois, under the sponsorship of the Bloomington Daily Pantagraph. The tournament will take place in Bloomington on February 8 and 9.

Frank Tomaso, freshman, has gradually been rounding into shape and will represent the Irish in the lightweight class. Ed Soucie of Grant Park is another freshman sensation who will appear in the Golden Gloves. Soucie will box in the 135 pound class. Zarza was unable to choose between the two boys and decided to enter both in the tournament. He hopes they won't have to meet until the finals.

Al Vellutini, freshman from Kankakee high school, will be entered in the 127 pound class. Coach Zarza expects his terrific punching power to take him a long ways. Herbie Fields, dancing 118 pounder, will see his second year of action in Golden Glove tournaments.

Morgan and Bach, the outstanding men of the squad this year, will be the other two pugilists representing the Irish at Bloomington. Bach will mix it in the welterweight class while Morgan, team captain, will seek his chance at a Golden Glove in the 160 pound division.

According to Coach Lou Zarza the Irish squad will leave for Bloomington on the day of the tournament. He expressed great confidence in the ability of his boxers and expects them to at least reach the finals.

Viator Invades Macomb; Seeks 3rd League Win

McElligott and Rogers Return To Team

The Green Wave cagers will travel to Macomb today for their sixth Little 19 tilt of the current season. Viator fans are in hopes that the return of McElligott, sensational forward, and George Rogers, veteran guard, to the lineup will give the team the needed stimulus for winning. Both these regulars have been suffering from an attack of influenza the past week and their steady playing ability has certainly been missed in the Viator offense.

The "Leathernecks" of Macomb, while not listed among the league leaders, are rated as a dangerous opponent. They have won only one conference tilt and dropped as many as the Irish. Their team scoring comes within five points of their opponents and thus it can readily be seen that they are a powerful foe.

The Leathernecks starting lineup is expected to be composed of Henderson at center, Hughes and Stearns at forwards and "Bur" Barclift will be teamed with either Stewart or Chatman at the guard positions. Hughes and Stearns are the leading scorers of this aggregation with Barclift rated as the best defensive man on the quintet.

Irish Want Revenge

Coach McNamara is expected to start his veteran team of basketballers which will be McElligott and Betourne, forwards; Monahan, center; and Rogers with Straub or Blazeovich at the guard positions.

If Viator wins tonight it will not make much difference as far as the winning of the conference flag is concerned but it will serve notice upon several league leaders whom the Irish will soon meet that the Irish cagers intend to say a lot about who will be champions this season. The members of the Viator squad are determined that they are going to spoil the records of Normal on February 11; Carthage College on February 12; Carbondale Teachers on February 20; Charleston Teachers on February 24, and DeKalb Teachers on March 9. All of these are conference games and will be played in the Viator gymnasium.

Viator Pugs Continue To Win Their Bouts

Three of the varsity boxing squad participated in the second amateur match of Kankakee on February 4 and two of them, J. Emmett Bach and Captain Donald Morgan, emerged victorious while Herbie Fields lost a close decision. The match was sponsored by the local Knights of Columbus Council of Kankakee.

Fields, fighting for the first time this year, was outpointed by Tony Franks in the 118 pound class. The decision of the judges failed to appease the fight fans who thought that the Viator youngster should have been awarded the decision.

Captain Don Morgan cleanly outpointed his opponent, Borgall of Chicago, in the only 160 pound battle of the evening. His hitting power once again was demonstrated and he continually had the Chicagoan in trouble.

Alas and alack, those twelve hours of research and labor had been wasted for the logic questions sold turned out to be not those of Father Lowney but a set that had been made out for the girl's logic class of St. Francis College, Joliet, Illinois, by the Rev. E. J. Surprenant, itinerant philosophy professor.

Now, our brilliant entrepreneurs sit lonely in their cells bemoaning the fact that they hadn't visioned that possibility and made a contact with the girls at Joliet. Ah, if they had only known perhaps their financial reward would have been greater for the girls, as you all know, invariably possess much more ready cash than do our male collegians.
