I. R. C. Will Hear Moderator

Italo-Ethiopian Crisis Is Topic at First Meeting

Club Begins Fifth Year At College; Part of Carnegie Endowment For Peace.

When the International Relations Club meets this week to hear the Very Rev. Dr. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., discuss the war crisis in Africa, it will begin its fifth year at St. Viator College. During its history here, the organization has always created a keen interest among the student-body as well as among the citizens in this locality, and with the diplomatic and social systems straining to break conventional bounds today, the club should enjoy an increased popularity this year.

Father Cardinal, club moderator, has announced that at this initial meeting, the officers for the current year will be elected. The retiring heads are: Stephen Gould, '36, president, and Miss Mary Anthony, '37, secretary.

Has High Purpose

The I. R. C. was founded at St. Viator by Dr. John T. Ellis, now at the Sulpician Seminary, Washington, D. C. It is one of a national group of students organized under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace for the study and discussion of International Relations.

The purpose of the Endowment in undertaking this work is to educate and enlighten public opinion. It is not to support any single view as to how to treat the conditions which now prevail throughout the world, but to fix the attention of students on those principles of international conduct, of international law, and of international organization which must be applied if peaceful civilization is to continue.

Gould Schedules Radio Debates For New Squad

At the first meeting of the Bergin Debating Society last week, Stephen Gould, '36, manager, announced the temporary dates for the year's radio debates. The Viator debaters will be heard every Saturday afternoon over station WCFL, Chicago, at 3:30 o'clock.

To date, the schedule, which has six open dates, reads:

- Nov. 23—Northwestern University.
- Nov. 30—Chicago University.
- Dec. 14—Rosary College.
- Dec. 21—Rockford College.
- Jan. 11—Illinois Wesleyan University.
- Jan. 18—Olivet College.
- Jan. 25—Knox College.
- Feb. 1—Wheaton College.
- Feb. 8—North Central College.
- Feb. 15—Eastern Ill. State Teachers.
- Feb. 22—Wheaton College.
- Mar. 14—Lake Forest College.
- Mar. 21—Loyola University.

State Governor Honors Viator Vice-President

The Rev. Doctor R. J. French, C. S. V., head of the Department of Education, has been appointed by Governor Henry Horner to represent the State of Illinois at the twenty-fifth anniversary convention of the National League of Compulsory Education Officials, which will be held at Toronto, Canada, November 11, 12, 13.

Governor Horner has chosen four delegates to represent the state. According to the State Department, the selection was made after an extensive study had been made of their respective records in their chosen field. The indefatigable work in education and the interest which he has in pedagogical matters were the causes for Father French's appointment, according to the governor.

Coeds Open Season With Informal Tea

Miss Lucille Putz and Miss Ruth Arrington, '34, both of Kankakee, will be hostesses to the St. Viator Sorority at an informal tea in the College coed room next Sunday afternoon. This is the first meeting of the current season, and plans to divide the society into Alumnae and Student groups will be discussed.

Officers for 1935-36 will be elected. Present officers include Miss Mary Cruise, '35, president; Miss Evelyn Lanoue, '37, vice-president; Miss Claire Legris, '37, secretary; and Miss Mary Anthony, '37, treasurer.

St. Viator Instructor Teaches In Joliet

The Rev. John W. Stafford, C. S. V., erstwhile moderator of the College Club and coach of the Bergin Debating Society, has assumed a post this year at St. Francis College, Joliet. Father Stafford instructs in Logic and Ontology on three days of the week. In his new capacity, Father Stafford has become a traveling school master in the true sense of the word.

Twelve American and five Canadian colleges have organized the Intercollegiate Ski Union to further competition in ski jumping and racing.

Juniors Plan Grand Parade For Saturday

Leaving Bourbonnais at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, a parade which will probably be more than three blocks long, will storm the cities of Bradley and Kankakee in preparation for the Homecoming game with Carbondale. The Junior Class, supervising arrangements, estimates that the parade will last approximately 2 1-2 hours, and the committee heads have arranged for all the traditional features of a football parade.

Many of the merchants of Kankakee and Bourbonnais have offered trucks and floats for the spectacle. Kenneth Wiser, '37, has arranged for and old-fashioned, blaring band to lead the parade.

Each class president has been notified to enter a class float, and the College Club announced last week that a prize of $10.00 will be given to the best class exhibit. This offer was made with the hope of enticing the school's decorators to surpass themselves in original effects.

The Freshmen will add color to the parade by marching in all the splendor of their gaudiest pajamas, and will entertain the public with antics and cheers.

Other features will include hay-racks, pony-carts, carriages of a past age, and the characteristic funeral procession of the Carbondale team.

For the evening preceding the parade, the Sophomore class has prepared a huge "bonfire" pep meeting, at which the student-body will offer the Viator gridders its moral support.

Frosh Coed Wins National Contest

Miss Oline Dandurand, '39, of Kankakee, who has matriculated here and who is a member of the VIATORIAN staff, was one of the six winners of the national M. G. M. Sequoia Essay Contest last summer. All high school students were eligible for the honor, and the prize essays were drawn from over 300,000 entries. Miss Dandurand wrote on the topic "Animals as Actors".

The winners were awarded a trip which included stops in New York, New Orleans and Hollywood, and a five-day voyage from New York to New Orleans on the since-fated S. S. Dixie. They also journeyed on the Sunset Route across Texas, N. Mexico, Ariz., and Colo., and were entertained for a week at Sequoia National Park.

NOT A SUGGESTION

Some smart lad at New York University has found a new way to crib. It seems that notes written on spectacles or watch-crystals in grapefruit juice become visible when breathed upon.

St. Viator Issues Unique Booklet For Homecoming

A snappy green and white football program featuring a history of past Viator football stars, pictures and word sketches of the 1935 edition of Viator Gridmen will soon be off the press. It will also contain a schedule and the line-ups for the home games.

The program, which makes its appearance at the Homecoming game, is the result of efforts of the Rev. F. J. Harbauer, Athletic Director, William Schumacher, Program Editor, Tony Marik, Advertising Manager, and a staff of enthusiastic workers.

Besides serving the purpose of a good souvenir, this book makes possible the awarding of sweaters and letters to the gridmen who have upheld the colors of Viator during the 1935 football season. In view of this fact, many thanks should go to those who make possible this program through advertisement, as patrons and as subscribers.

St. Francis College May Be Dance Guest

The Rev. John Stafford, C. S. V., in his capacity as moderator of the College Club and Big-Brother to the students at St. Francis College, is arranging a co-operative dance between the two groups. The date has not been set, but probably will be announced soon by the College Club. Last year, St. Francis held a tea-dance for Viator men, and the guests have expressed their desire to repay the genial hostesses.

Father Stafford To Preside At Urbana

The Rev. John Stafford, C. S. V., has accepted an invitation to act as Chairman of the Forensic Section of the State Meeting of Illinois Association of Teachers of Speech, to be held in Urbana on November 22.

The program for this section will consist principally of specific discussions by eminent speech authorities, offering suggestions for improving high school debating, oration, and declamation contests.

Dr. H. W. Stopher, director of music at Louisiana State University, has made arrangements with the famed Mozartean, Austrian Conservatory in Salzburg, whereby two students from each school will exchange for a year's study.

A smooth rhythmic combination that features many novelties and soloists are the Noble and Donnelly Gold Coasters, who come from Chicago to the Viator Gymnasium Saturday night. William Phelan, '36, President of the College Club, said early this week that the crowd expected at the Homecoming dance will be record-breaking, and the price of admission has been set at $1.50.

Just once in a blue moon are Chicago dance enthusiasts excited over a new orchestra, but when the Gold Coasters opened in the Drake Hotel a year ago, the public found something new and pleasing.

Early Popularity

For several months previous to the forming of the orchestra, a clever duo-piano team had risen sensationally in the eyes of radio fans. It was youthful. It used sensational arrangements and gave the air lanes something that was different from the conventional. Encouraged by their initial success, Donnelly and Noble organized an orchestra. They auditioned for the Drake Hotel, and the management was enthusiastic about their possibilities, and engaged them to open in the famous Gold Coast Room.

Their opening night was a huge success, and Chicago dancers have acclaimed their inimitable music from that time. Every night for many months their fine music was a feature of radio station WGN and the Mutual network.

Viator Speakers Asked To Enter Two Contests

The Viator Department of Speech announced last week that the State Peace Oratorical Contest will be held at Lake Forest College on December 9. Any student of an Illinois college is eligible, and three awards will be made. The first prize is $50.00; second prize is $30; third prize is $20.00.

After Dinner Speaking

St. Viator College has been invited to enter a representative in the After Dinner Speaking Contest at Urbana, Illinois, on November 22. Each college is allowed only one representative, and the subject of the talks will be "Education." The objective of these annual contests is to experiment with and improve upon the quality of after-dinner speaking.

Edward Buttgen, '37, was one of last year's winners at Urbana. He spoke upon the topic "The Depression and Youth."

VIATOR GRID MACHINE
DETERMINED TO WIN
HOMECOMING GAME

Rohinsky's 77 Yard Run Gives Irish a 7 to 7 Tie
In Season's Opener With Ancient Foe.
Southern Ill. Teachers' Will Attempt To Prolong Jinx of Past Three Years

Despite the setback the Green Wave received at the hands of Northern Illinois State Teachers' last Saturday, preparations for a successful homecoming are going on at St. Viator College. Confidence in the ability of the Irish to stage a comeback is expressed on every hand and the intensive drilling that Coach McNamara has been putting the squad through argues well for the homecoming celebration.

The gloom and discouragement that was caused by the 27 to 0 defeat that the DeKalb Teachers' administered while celebrating their homecoming has been lifted during the past few days and is now replaced by a determination and confidence that bodes ill for the invading Carbondale eleven.

McNamara's men are expressing a spirit that reminds one of the high feeling that prevailed upon the squad last year just before the homecoming tilt with Valparaiso. That spirit of confidence and determination enabled an Irish team that was rated to be three touchdowns worse than a supposedly superior Valpo grid machine to overwhelmingly defeat the Fighting Uhlans by a 21 to 0 score.

Maroon Threat

Smarting under three successive defeats of the whitewash variety, the Carbondale Maroons are headed for Viator in a vengeful mood. All of Carbondale's defeats have been administered by powerful aggregations; Arkansas Aggies and Cape Girardeau Teachers' having won by 7 to 0 scores, and Illinois State Normal winning from the Maroons by a 13 to 0 count.

From their near-championship team of last year the Carbondale eleven have lost many outstanding boys. Captain Morawski, one of the best tacklers in the conference, heads the list of returning veterans.

A junior and a senior, Paterson and Moorman, will start at ends. Dabney, a light but aggressive ball-player will be teamed with Eaton at guard. Filling in at center will be Emery. At the other tackle post, Otis Smith will be on duty. All but Smith and Eaton have had previous conference experience.

Carbondale's backfield, while heavy, lacks experience. It will be composed of one freshman, Keyes, and three sophomores Hill, McMillan and North.

When the Maroons finished mauling the Irish last year, the Green Wave squad came home on the short end of a 14 to 0 score. In the past it would appear that a jinx has been operating against St. Viator, for never have they beaten the Carbondale Teachers' on the grid. All three games that have been played ended in scores ranging from 6 to 0 to 14 to 0. Saturday the Irish will not only be breaking this jinx but they will be attempting to cross the Maroon goal line for the first time

McNamara Sets
I.I.A.C. Record

When St. Viator invaded DeKalb to play the Northern Teachers in the Profs Homecoming last Saturday, it was the first time in the history of the Little Nineteen circuit that a graduate of a conference school had brought another conference team to face that of his former coach.

The teacher in this case was George "Chick" Evans, who has nev-

vs.
Crooners

The Fighting Monks of St. Bernard Hall and Cavanaugh's Crooners, meeting in their first intra-mural football game of the season, battled to a scoreless tie.

The Monks approached the Crooner's goal in the first half after two successful passes from Deane to Toomey, placed the ball on the 10 yard line, but an intercepted pass ended the threat.

The Crooner's best opportunity came in the second half when Cavanaugh intercepted a pass and ran to the 15 yard line, but the Monks defense tightened and the crooners surrendered the ball.

Switchmen Sidetrack Slewfoots

Gaisor's Switchmen won an easy victory over Stockbar's Slewfoots by a well planned aerial attack. They got off to a start in the first half by tallying twice. They scored later in the second half. The Slewfoots scored their lone touchdown in the last period. Final score—18-6.

BREAK VALPARAISO
WINNING RECORD

Rohinsky's 77 Yard Run Gives Irish a 7 to 7 Tie
in Season's Opener With Ancient Foe.

Soph Flash

Described last year by sport writers as "a piece of greased lighting from out of the East", Abe Rohinsky gave the lie to the old saw "that lightning never strikes twice in the same place", when he ran 77 yards through a Valparaiso eleven for a touchdown. Slight of build, light of weight, and fleet of foot, Rohinsky with a year's seasoning is expected to be the Irish chief threat this season.

Displaying a lack of polish and finesse, interspersed with flashes of potential greatness, the Green Wave Gridders earned a 7 to 7 tie with the Fighting Uhlans of Valparaiso in the opening game of the season on October 5. Two beautiful and perfectly executed plays that resulted in long scoring runs were responsible for the tie that broke Valpo's consecutive home victory string. The Irish ended the streak at 19 wins.

Abe Rohinsky, sophomore star from Connecticut, slashed off tackle midway in the second quarter and cutting back to the left, managed to get away for a 77 yard run that electrified the fans. Tony Marik, stellar guard, converted with a place-kick for the extra point. Marik has now been successful in every attempted extra point try in three years.

Valparaiso's score came in the middle of the fourth quarter. The scoring play, a perfectly co-ordinated "flicker-flea" pass (forward pass by Baran to Dierker; lateraled to Miller, and finally lateraled to Karr), was hotly contested by the Irish as being illegal. The Irish claim ing Miller's pass was a forward and not a lateral. Karr's drop kick for the extra point was also claimed to have been wide of the up-rights.

While a homecoming crowd of 2,500 persons watched, the Northern Illinois State Teachers' college defeated the St. Viator College football team at DeKalb last Saturday, 27 to 0.

The Teachers scored their first touchdown in the initial quarter on an end run by Nori, quarterback. Lundeen kicked the point. The second touchdown was made in the third quarter when Erb took a 40 yard pass from Nori and ran 10 yards over the goal line. Lundeen again converted.

In the fourth quarter, Trakas, substituting at right half for Erb, ran 22 yards for the third touchdown and four minutes later plunged 9 yards for the fourth. Lundeen kicked goal for the point after the third touchdown but missed on the fourth try.

Notice!

The following rules of the Athletic Board of Control in regard to awarding and wearing of monograms are brought to your attention:

1. A player shall, in the judgment of the Athletic Board of Control, show marked ability in the sport in which the letter is awarded.

2. A player shall also have shown amenable to discipline and shall have at all times co-operated with the coach.

3. A player shall have played one-fourth of the full playing time of the entire schedule in football and basketball.

4. The Athletic Board of Control has also determined that a monogram sweater will be awarded to the student manager of athletics.

5. The Athletic Board of Control hereby forbids members of the student body wearing "V" sweaters to which they are not entitled. By force of this ruling students who have won sweaters in football are not thereby entitled to wear basketball sweaters, and those who have won sweaters in basketball are not to wear football sweaters. This ruling is to go into effect at once.

There has been a few substitutions in the regular line-up during practice sessions . . . due to injuries . . . Looks like our frosh intend to make the vets step to hold those varsity berths . . . "Irish" O'Connor is doing more than that for he has already secured the tackle berth left vacant by "Big Tom" Kelly . . . Kelly, you know, held down right-tackle for four years and now "Irish" has the idea that he will do the same . . . He played the full sixty minutes at Valpo.

Two big upsets featured play in the Little Nineteen last week . . . Yep! Knox supplied one of them by winning their second straight game . . . wonder was that they licked the Leathernecks of Macomb, 18 to 0 . . . Think they intend to set a consecutive winning record now that they have a hold on the consecutive defeat record? . . . Elmhurst, scoring 16 points to Bradley's 0, proved the other "dark horse" of the week.

Looks like it is going to be a big problem for "Mac" to figure out who he will have in there calling plays for the Irish. Frank Straub, Al Palladino and Bob Donnellan are the leading contenders . . . Palladino, varsity field general last year, is being pushed hard by the two newcomers.

Twenty laps for those who come late to practice . . . every afternoon since the penalty was inaugurated, you can see the athletes hurrying from Marsile Hall towards the gym and the practice field . . . Nice psychology, Mac, I notice none of the boys are late now-adays.

Homecoming game with Carbon-dale on Saturday night, October 19, at Kankakee High School Field . . . Carbondale surely has been a jinx to us . . . Played them three times so far and never beaten them as yet.

Bill Duff was told that he was being kept for Homecoming . . . Guess he didn't know that the coach meant the dance . . . Tony Marik has not missed a kick for the extra point since he took over the job in his freshman year . . . Who won that argument you and the ref had at the Valpo game, Tony?

Eleven different states are represented on this year's Monmouth frosh team . . . Illinois has 38 of the 49 men on the squad . . . Eight big Ten Conference graduates are head coaches at Little Nineteen colleges this year . . . The Illinois College-DeKalb Teachers' game scheduled for October 19 has been canceled . . . DeKalb now has but seven conference games.

"Doc" Meany, '34, is coaching at Austin High School, one of the largest public schools in the Chicago area . . . Ken Corcoran, '35, a former editor of the VIATORIAN and stellar football player, is teaching and coaching at Father Flannigan's Home for Boys, Boys Town, Nebr. . . Ken Westray, '34, and "Big Foot" Dexter, '35 are both regulars on the St. Louis Blues, a professional team.

And now to follow the advice Brother Eddie gives to the scrubs when they make a mistake, I guess I'll "take a rest".

Around Washington

By Arnold Serwer
(Associated Collegiate Press Correspondent)

Washington, D. C.—After a young college man has been in this town for about a year he often finds that his acquaintances are limited to fellow classmates he knew well at school and to the people he meets in his own department. Quite often he drifts completely away from his classmates and confines his after-hour friendships to co-workers. Once he has done that he has become part of an interesting social pattern fairly prevalent here, a sort of tribal arrangement with government departments substituted for tribes.

To elucidate, what is meant is that in Washington, employees of one department are very apt to maintain social relations mostly with people in their own department. A young man in the NRA has three dates with young ladies in the NRA for every date he has with outsiders. A young lady in the AAA, although she may often look wistfully at the young men in the Department of Justice, is usually forced to accept her lot, which seems to take the form of a steady diet of young AAA statisticians.

Young men and women, limited in this manner finally begin to rationalize the limitation, and then to adopt it unconsciously as a policy. The AAA people have exclusive little parties on holiday evenings, limited to people in some particular office. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's personnel follows the same trend, with a little informal picnic now and then.

It's good for office morale though. When you see old J. B. Campus, head of your division, whom you had previously believed as not so much a man as a disembodied roaring from an inner office, at the office's Hallowe'en party, masquerading as A Sharp Rise In Prices, you feel that never again will you tremble at that roaring. You almost feel like putting in overtime for old J. B.

Such office gatherings however cause clannishness between offices to increase. Each group begins to have its own secrets, its own interests, and even its own terminology. In order for old J. B. to have come disguised as A Sharp Rise In Prices, he had to assume a certain basis of understanding among the people in his office. Being statisticians steeped in the jargon of the business they immediately identified him for what he represented.

On the other hand if he had entered in a costume symbolizing Supplementary Relief, the greatest confusion would have prevailed. But is would have been child's play for an FERA employee to label his correctly. Because ten to one the FERA man once used that idea himself, at a party given by some mem-

Red Wine and Brown Bread

When a man suns himself on top of a flagpole for thirty days at a stretch, roller skates around the world or shoots his wife, an explanation is forthcoming. Therefore, since some of our saner brethren may believe that christening a column with the above title falls in this general category, we will attempt to vindicate ourselves.

This column might have been named "Champaign and Cake". But it won't be like Champaign and Cake. Red Wine and Brown Bread fills the stomach, and besides, there is something basic and substantial in that humble fare that is almost totally lacking in its more costly counterpart.

Here is the first serving—

With the Homecoming Dance at hand, a bit of practical advice to the Freshmen would not be untimely. After intensive study, our committee has finally hit upon the perfect conversation to carry on with a young lady while dancing. We pass this invaluable aid on to you Frosh at no cost whatsoever. Here it is:

After being introduced to the young lady, you waltz around the floor once without speaking. You then open the conversation with "Isn't the music marvelous?" She will reply, "It's too, too divine". You then circle the floor again, doing your best to keep her hair out of your mouth. At this point, she will look up into your eyes and murmur, (they always do) "You dance beautifully". The only retort to this comment is, "If I do, it is because I'm dancing with you". After you have waltzed in rapt silence for two full minutes, the lady will venture in a husky voice, "I'm so happy". You remain speechless for another sixty seconds before replying, "I'm happy, too." By this time the dance is over. Depart, then, Freshman, in search of a new subject.

Did it ever occur to you that Viator men start at the top and work their way down? When Freshmen arrive, they are placed on the fourth floor at Roy Hall, and, as the years pass, they move downward. Did you ever hear of the acorn that burried the squirrel? You never will.

Off the cuff: Bill, "Wild Willie", Crannell maintains he has played the piano in a traveling band, written a book of poetry and entered numerous golf tournaments during his varied career. We don't know, but you are the judge.

Sometimes we think that the trouble with the present method of instruction is that it is all too formal. There is too much smothering of a yawn with one hand while taking notes with the other. Now our cure-all plan is to have instructor and student gather around the fire-side, preferably smoking pipes, for interesting and informal discussions. We will personally guarantee a gold medal to anyone who convinces the dean that this is the ideal plan.

Speaking of pipes, they are offering cigarettes considerable competition this fall. The straight-tempered variety is by far the most popular, with a curly one being seen now and then. No corn cobs have been reported to date. "Ah reckon we uns haint amongst friends, stranghai."

We give this to you as unadulterated truth. When Father Phillips, the former dean of studies, asked Audrey Nourie what course of study she wished to pursue, she replied with a bright smile, "Home Economics."

We will be seeing you at the pep meeting, the Homecoming game and the dance.

So'long—J. R.

N.Y. Broker Envies Life Of Professor

New York, (ACP)—Charles R. Gay, recently chosen president of the New York stock exchange to succeed Richard Whitney, admits that occasionally when he has time, he envies his brother, Robert Malcolm Gay, professor of English and dean of the graduate division of Simmons College, Boston.

"My brother leads a life exactly contrary to mine", Gay says plaintively. "He spends his time quietly, under no pressure. He visits his friends of the intellectual circles of Boston, goes to the Boston symphony concerts, and studies."

Gay has been a member of the stock exchange since 1911, and is known as a strictly commission broker. He never speculates!

ber of the FERA staff.

After a year in Washington the college man or woman begins to find himself behaving somewhat similarly. He falls into the routine. In a vague way he begins to wonder what sort of chaps work in some of the other departments, just as a Harvard man often finds himself faintly curious as to what sort of chaps go to Princeton. He suspects they may be perfectly alright but he isn't quite sure.

Occasionally, meeting an old classmate from another department, they get to discussing the merits of their respective bureaus, the importance to society of the work done by each. Smith of Harvard and the Resettlement Administration and Jones of Harvard and the TVA are cordial until inadvisedly Smith happens to let drop the remark:

"I see where the court reversed you fellows on the Dinklefogle case."

This happens to be a sore spot with the TVA, and Jones reacts as if someone had thrown mud on the flag. In a half hour they are calling each other names and each is sneering openly at the other fellow's outfit.

The result is that Smith begins to look upon the Resettlement Administration as he once looked upon Harvard, and Jones has the same feeling to loyalty to the TVA as Harvard once aroused in him. What happens? As an indirect result Smith will never feel quite right about meeting girls employed by the TVA, and Jones will be uncomfortable in the presence of the Resettlement Administration's young ladies. Potential romances are nipped in the bud and the buds are plowed under, just because Smith happened to meet Jones the day after the decision was handed down in the Dinklefogle case.

Something will have to be done about this spirit of clannishness. A committee of Inter-Departmental Social Relations will have to be formed to promote understanding between the estranged Smiths and Joneses. The Smith in one department will have to be shown that the Joneses in another department are their equals, that chemically Smith and Jones are on a par, that culturally they are on the same plane, that they must not allow prejudice to rule them.

Sleuth Tells Of Varied Career

New York, (ACP) — John W. Kluge, '37, Columbia University, was walking down a dark street in Detroit last summer. There was a man following him, two black touring cars with New York licenses were parked at the curb, and a third was cruising back and forth in this street.

Kluge, who was working as a private detective, decided he was on somewhat of a spot.

"I recognized the mas as someone whom I had seen walking behind me several minutes previously, when I had happened to look back", he said. "I'd been working all summer, but this was the first time the shadowing had been done on me instead of by me."

Kluge finally got out of that scrape, but it took some fast thinking. He yelled "Here come the police", as a Ford coupe, similar to a prowler car, sped up the street. His would-be assailants made a quick getaway.

During his career as a sleuth, Kluge has done just about everything. He worked as a laborer in a factory for ten days to keep watch over a suspect; he once played a slot machine for ten consecutive days in order to strike up an acquaintance, and on another occasion was forced to hide in a rumble seat until he nearly suffocated.

"That was a divorce case," Kluge explained. "I had dressed up as a kid and hid in the rumble seat. I was afraid to lift the seat cover, lest the driver see me, but it finally got so stuffy that I had to have air, and I sat up. The fellow was furious, but when I told him I had taken a hitch to save ten cents bus fare to the movies, he gave me a dime."

A divorce was subsequently obtained on Kluge's testimony that the driver of the car had been with the woman in the case that night.

THE DAWN OF AN ERA

One of the members of the College faculty has long proclaimed against what he terms "horse and buggy thinking" in this new day of awakening and progress. The doctrine has found no better following than on the Viator campus, and certainly a specific example of the renaissance here is the enthusiastic manner in which plans for the Homecoming are proceeding.

The men in charge of the dance arrangements created little short of a sensation when they announced that the renowned Gold Coasters of the Drake Hotel would be featured. That announcement raised Viator social life to the status where it belongs. That announcement demonstrated student realization of the school's growth. That announcement proved that, at least insofar as social endeavors are concerned, the student-body has discarded its "horse and buggy thinking."

Today, we have strength and numbers enough to attempt fetes which were impossible yesterday, and we have already begun to attempt them. If one can judge from the present, and there is no reason for doubt, when the students meet Alumni on October 19, they will join in beginning a new era in Viatorian history, an era, reaping the fruits of the past, in which all activities will be big ones and all endeavors will be successes.

DAY STUDENT ELECTIONS

The fact that the day students, after being unorganized for two years, last week felt the necessity to bind themselves together under a common head was rather a slap in the face to the boarders. It seemed to say definitely that those off campus feel that their interests are neglected by the school student heads.

As a matter of fact, it is common knowledge that such are the sentiments of the day-students. They have never been reticent about voicing their absolute conviction that they are forgotten in the school's social functions. They have long contended that they are never given a chance to take any lead in student activities.

Now, we certainly will never deny the right of this off-campus group to organize. They not only have the right, but they have taken the correct step. With some responsible men to represent them, the day students can better co-operate with the boarders in common action, and disagreements can be smoothed out with greater facility and success.

Yet we may well inquire whether or not the position of the day students is well founded. Have they adopted the right cause for their organization? Are they really, in any sense of the word, the underdog? The records give the best answer.

In reviewing this list, we must not lose sight of the fact that the enrollment of day students constitutes only one-fourth of the number at the college. There are at present only six organizations which admit all of Viator students. In one of these groups, the day students hold two offices. In each of four of the others, day students hold one office. Hence, there is only one group in which some off-campus student is not listed among the heads.

Steve Gould—

Do you know him, this raven haired handsome gentleman with the rosy cheeks and laughing blue eyes? Well, if you aren't numbered among his acquaintances, you had better hot foot it to the friend who knows a friend who knows a friend of Steve Gould, and do your level best to get an introduction. For Steve is President of the Senior Class, Vice-president of the College Club and one of Viator's most eloquent debaters. Mr. Gould (he now assumes more dignity) is often seen stalking about the campus with bowed head and wrinkled brow, giving everyone the impression of being in deep thought. But don't let him fool you, gentlemen, that is exactly what he IS doing. He is thinking. Steve is one of Father Lowney's philosophers, and, folks, he knows his stuff. So, when you see this earnest countenance, eager young philosopher whose speech sometimes resembles the interior of an expansive thesaurus, just remember that he is Mr. STEPHEN GOULD.

"Barrel" Bill Keigher (pronounced Keer).

Do you ever remember seeing a wrinkled, bespectacled old gent carrying an enormous barrel either up or down the stairways of Roy Hall? Did you notice how he always gives the right-of-away to the students, how gentle are his faded blue eyes? Well, those few things are an index to one of the finest characters on the campus. Bill is a gentleman in the fullest sense of the word. He is a daily Communicant, and every morning of the year, he serves 5:30 Mass for Father Rice.

ment of Architecture fills a long felt need in our Art Section and makes it a well developed department in our Library.

The many improvements in the Reading Room have been made possible through the generosity and co-operation of the Little Flower Circle of Chicago, of which Father Munsch is the spiritual adviser. Under the direction of Mrs. James Maloney, president, many card parties have been given and will be given to make further additions and enhancements possible.

The Library sincerely appreciates the contributions which the Little Flower Circle has made and is deeply grateful for the interest which it has shown.

This article would be incomplete were we not to mention the present activities of Father Munsch, who is engaged in locating missing volumes of the Atlantic Monthly to complete our files. The Library has Volumes 1-6, 67-68, 77, 79, and 123 to date. So far, Father Munsch has succeeded in securing volumes 27, 28, 37, 38, 50, 52, 53 and 55. He hopes to complete the set this year.

What Is MORTEX?

Perfect
Preservative
Protection

Liquid
Emulsified
Asphalt

A perfect protective coating for brushing, spraying or trowelling, being a high grade Mexican asphalt dispersed as minute particles in water for convenient handling. It is applied cold. As the moisture evaporates, a black, flexible rubberlike film remains which is waterproof, acid, alkaline and fire resistant, and shuts out infiltrations of air.

Mortex 5 does not crack or peel in coldest weather, nor blister, sag nor run on hottest days and always remains elastic. It is odorless, tasteless and noninflammable and can be safely used in confined places. It readily bonds to all clean surfaces, and also to damp surfaces, but should never be applied over dusty, dirty, greasy or oily surfaces or an imperfect bond will result. Use only on clean surfaces to obtain perfect satisfaction.

Used for DAMPPROOFING WALLS and FLOORS, PAINTING GALVANIZED IRON, PROTECTING CLEAN IRON AND STEEL, ROOF REPAIRING and as an ADHESIVE. It can be mixed with Portland Cement and dries out a soft gray color for patching deteriorating concrete.

The Sisters At Neighbor School Here 75 Years

October 6 was a day of great rejoicing for the Sisters of the Congregation de Notre Dame of Montreal, who conduct a grade school and private high school for young ladies next to the College, for it marked the advent of the Sisters to Bourbonnais 75 years ago.

The program for the jubilee celebration was begun by the offering of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, celebrated by the Rev. W. J. Surprenant, C. S. V., and the Rev. F. E. Munsch, C. S. V., as deacon, and the Rev. A. J. Landroche, C. S. V., as subdeacon. The Rev. J. P. O'Mahoney, C. S. V., delivered the sermon in which he eulogized the Sisters upon their work.

A banquet was held at noon. Many fine toasts were made by the various Alumnae, and Father Surprenant spoke in behalf of the village, citing the wonderful influences of the Sisters in the parish.

The celebration was appropriately brought to a close by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The Very Rev. Dr. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., was celebrant and the Rev. H. A. Darche and the Rev. A. J. Landroche assisted.

It is interesting to note here that the building now used as the College Infirmary was originally a part of the first convent. The modern convent was erected in 1910.

three perfect passes for the Sluggers' scores. The Hitlerites, under Joe Barzantr, scored on two passes and a long run.

Monks Outwit Midgets, 2-0

The powerful Monks scored a lone safety, made by Montagne. The Midgets, under Minnihan, made several threats, but were unable to score. With but a minute to play and an upsticks game staring the Monks in the eye, they scored their lone two points.

Cavanagh's Crooners got off to an early job of white-washing Fleming's Flops in their initial appearance of the season. For the Crooners, Golden and Waldron crossed the goal once apiece in the second half. Fleming blamed his loss on a green team. But he maintained that within a week he will defy any team that has the nerve to wager him. Final score: 24-0.

A YEAR AGO TODAY

The Very Rev. E. V. Cardinal, Ph. D., was inaugurated as tenth president of St. Viator College.

Governor Henry Horner received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from St. Viator College.

The Rev. Joseph Ryan, Dean of Men, prohibited the annual Freshman Flag Rush, much to the students consternation. The announcement marked the death-blow to a custom long established at Viator.

An editorial, written by Editor Kenneth Corcoran, '35, lamented the fact that the site of the old gym had never been transformed into a rock garden.

Coach Ray Murphy, at the beginning of his first year as Viator mentor, predicted a successful season for the Green Wave, and was whipping the team into shape for the Homecoming game with Valparaiso.

Viator Coeds gave the first party of the year, which proved to be a gala Saturday night.

History Of St. Viator College

By Leo V. Nolan, C. S. V.
(This is the first of a series of articles, sketching the historical high lights of St. Viator College and Bourbonnais, written exclusively for the VIATORIAN).

In common with the rest of Illinois, the land on which Bourbonnais now stands was, in the era before the Great Lakes existed, covered with water. As the waters receded, large deposits of gravel, sand, lime and minerals were left which, as time went on, formed the bedrock upon which the fertile topsoils were later deposited. During the Glacial Age, great ice-sheets came scooping out lake-basins and valleys, leveling prairies, and, as they melted, covered the land with a fertile loam.

Many rivers were formed to carry off the waters from these great ice sheets and the swampy land that remained after they had melted. One of these glacial drains, the Kankakee river, has its rise in the marshy lands just below South Bend, Indiana, about two or three miles from the southernmost bend of the St. Joseph river. The only interruption to a continuous water route from the Atlantic Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico, this small stretch of land was often portaged by explorers who traveled to the Mississippi by way of the Kankakee and Illinois rivers. LaSalle consigned the cargo, with which he hoped to build a boat to navigate the Mississippi, to this route. According to Publication No. 11 of the Illinois Historical Library, Charlevoix's boats came down the Kankakee in the early part of the following century. The above mentioned work also refers to Paulette Meillet, Peoria's French settler, with a force of about three hundred men entering from the Illinois river and moving up the Kankakee in the victorious raid on the British fort and stores on the St. Joseph.

The Indians were attracted to the Kankakee country by the deeply wooded banks and the broad prairie-land beyond. They settled along the Kankakee and lived on the wild game abundant in the forests. Also a plentiful supply of fish in the river and the easily tilled fertile land made this section of the country one well worth struggling for. The Pottawattomi, an Algonquian tribe, who were in possession of the land on which Bourbonnais now stands until 1835, allied with the Iroquois to drive the Illini tribes farther south where they settled on the site of the later Fort Kaskaskia, as is related in Illinois Catholic Historical Review (Volume 1).

The fur traders were attracted to this section of the country at an early date for the friendliness of the Pottawattomi. The American Fur Company sent out many expeditions from their post at Mackinac on Lake Michigan. These fur traders were delighted with the beauty of the country and the richness of its soil. Many of them, who were of stout French-Canadian stock, carried with them on their journey back to Canada enthusiastic descriptions of the land along the Kankakee. Prominent among these fur traders was one Noel LeVasseur of whom more will be said in a later chapter. It was LeVasseur's description that influenced the early settlers of Bourbonnais to leave their native land in search of homes and fortune.

They came on horseback, by boat and wagon train. Many of them, pitifully poor, endured terrible hardships, while others, richer in worldly goods, made the journey in easy stages. They settled west of Davis creek on the old Francois Le Via reservation in what is now Bourbonnais township. This thriving settlement was known for years as "Petite Canada". Here they led a peaceful and industrious life clearing the land, tilling the soil and raising sturdy children who played joyfully in the deep forest glades.

As a result of sundry plagues, the sons and daughters of the old pioneers moved to the higher land upon which the present village of Bourbonnais is situated.

The oldest village in Kankakee county, settled, indeed, when the site of present-day Chicago was little more than marshland, "Bourbonnais is the mother of every other French-Canadian town in Kankakee and Iroquois counties, including the city of Kankakee, in a large measure, St. Anne, L'Ereable, St. Mary, Papineau, and, more than that, from Bourbonnais and these, her neighboring children sprang all the French-Canadian colonies of Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, and the Dakotas." (Publication No. 11, Illinois Historical Library). When it is considered that Bourbonnais, besides being the mother of all these French towns is also the mother of Catholicism in the Kankakee country, there seems to be a special significance in the fact that the village Church has long since been named the "Church of the Maternity".

IN LITTLE 19 CAMPS

Games This Week

Friday night, October 18—Augustana at St. Ambrose (Davenport, Ia.)

Saturday, October 19—Wheaton at Elmhurst; McKendree at Macomb Teachers'; Eureka at North Central; Illinois Wesleyan at Millikin; State Normal at Charleston Teachers'; Bradley at Monmouth; Northwestern College (Watertown, Wis.) at Lake Forest; Chicago Jr. College at DeKalb Teachers'; Lawrence at Knox.

Coach LaRue Van Meter of Illinois College is the first of the Little 19 coaches to issue a call for basketball drill. First drills were held Saturday, October 5. Van Meter plans to work with a squad of approximately 30 men until the end of the football season.

Co-captain Charles Howard is the most versatile man in the DeKalb Teachers' line. He played every position in the forward wall against Whitewater, Wis. Teachers' on September 28.

Coach Paul Waldorf of McKendree College is the son of Bishop E. L. Waldorf of the Chicago area of the Methodist church, is a brother of John Waldorf, former All-American at Missouri, and a brother of Coach Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern coach.

Ken Wilson of Granite City, McKendree star back, is the son of deaf and dumb parents. Wilson, 165 pounds, is easily one of the outstanding backs of the conference. Previously he has been a triple threat—calling signals, carrying the ball and passing. This year he will be a quadruple threat having added punting to his list of duties.

Northeastern University in Boston will award two Civilian Conservation Corps scholarships of $100 each this year. The money will be applicable on the second payment of tuition of $200 in the colleges of liberal arts, business administration or engineering.

Medical Schools Are At Low Ebb

Chicago, Ill., (ACP)—The standards of the medical schools, once among the highest, have been lowered in recent years, asserted The Journal of the American Medical Association in this year's review of educational conditions in the United States and Canada.

Undermanned faculties, overcrowded laboratories and the acceptance of students of below-par scholastic records have resulted in an impairment of efficiency, according to the publication.

Responsibility for the situation is largely attributed to financial stringency during the depression, which has compelled some schools to rely more largely on income from student fees. The Journal says that larger numbers of students have been accepted for the money they bring in, pointing out that in most cases the teaching staff has not been correspondingly strengthened or the physical plant commensurately enlarged.

Fross Battle Hell Week

The annual Upperclassmen-Freshmen football game will be held on Thursday, October 17 at Bergin Athletic Field. The game, which dates back many years, decides each year whether or not the lowly frosh shall endure one or two weeks or hazing. If the Upperclassmen win, then the freshmen must undergo two weeks that are known as "Hell Weeks". If the freshmen win, then they have but one "week of hell". Members of the varsity squad are not permitted to compete.

This year the upperclassmen will have two men of intercollegiate experience in their starting lineup. Lannan, a transferred student from DePaul University, will be at center, a position that he played on the Blue Devils last season. Ken Wiser, letterman of 1934, will play left half for the upperclassmen. Others who will start for the upperclassmen are: Rogers and Burke, ends; Hamilton and Braithwaite, tackles; Kalkowski and Ward, guards; McGrath, quarterback; Dillger, halfback, and Bill Phelan, fullback. Clark Dillger, a junior, will captain the team.

The freshman line-up is unknown. Tony Marik, varsity guard and coach of the freshmen, states that he will have a good team on the field.

The officials for the game will be Co-captains Frank Krauklis and Ray Roche. Clarence Noonan, president of the Monogram Club will officiate as head linesman.

ALUMNI NOTES

Friends of Brother Martin McLaughlin, '38, are pleased to learn that he is recovering rapidly from an operation which he underwent in Joliet last week.

Chester H. Stokes, who attended St. Viator College five years ago, is at present employed as a metalist by the United States Steel Company in Gary, Ind.

The faculty and student body extend their sympathies to the family of the Rev. J. L. McMullen. Father McMullen was for many years pastor in Rantoul, Illinois.

The Rev. J. P. O'Mahoney, C. S. V., leaves this week for Washington, D. C., where he will take part in the dedication of the new Viatorian Seminary there.

Colgate Head Fears March Of Mankind

Hamilton, N. Y., (ACP)—"Mankind is marching the road to destruction", said Dr. George Barton Cutten, president of Colgate, in a recent speech.

"A civilization which removes natural checks more rapidly than it fosters high controls commits suicide", Dr. Cutten declared.

"The greatest sinners are probably the philanthropists and the doctors. They have done everything they could to preserve the unfit. If anything happens to protection, the race is doomed."

"Man has always had to be kicked upstairs", concluded Dr. Cutten.

FR. CARDINAL IN CHICAGO

The Very Rev. Dr. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., addressed the National Catholic Alumni Federation in Chicago last Thursday. Father Cardinal discussed in detail the Italo-Ethiopian war crisis in East Africa.

The Kiwanis Club of Kankakee will hear Father Cardinal speak on the same topic at its regular meeting on October 28.

A philosophy professor at Westwood was expounding at some length on the popular belief that "Time heals all things". After an hour's impressive reasoning, he closed his lecture and asked if there were any questions. Came a puzzled voice from the rear of the room: "How about a leaky radiator?"

At West Point—

Two cadets were standing at the front entrance when a small boy passed leading a monkey. One called to him, "Hey buddy, why are you holding on to your brother so tightly?"

"So he won't join the army", replied the lad.

From the Los Angeles Junior Collegian: "Not all suckers come on sticks, although a great many come from them."

New Profession—

Columbia University has a regular "waker-upper". For a consideration paid in advance, he makes the rounds, shaking out sleepers in time for class. Height of the University's social season is also peak time for his income.

St. Mary's College should turn co-educational, Editor Quittman replied:

"We chose St. Mary's because we wanted to go to a man's college. And we still prefer to go to a man's college! There are ample co-educational facilities in the immediate region for those who must be constantly with the weaker sex. For those students who must have company, transfers to co-educational institutions can be obtained." He also added that "St. Mary's is the last real stronghold of masculinity in the region." (ACP).

A.C.P. Convention In Chicago Thurs.

Chicago, Ill., (ACP) — Famed newspapermen and advertising experts from all sections of the United States and foreign correspondents from the news centers of the world will address college newspaper editors and business managers who will gather here Thursday for the annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press, national college press association of which the VIATORIAN is a member.

Heading the list of famed newspapermen who will speak at the convention sessions to be held in Chicago's famed Medinah Athletic Club, October 17, 18, and 19, are Leland Stowe, Paris correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune and Pulitzer prize winner, and Carroll Binder, distinguished foreign expert of the Chicago Daily News.

The social highlight of the convention will be the annual banquet of the Association to be held in the beautiful grand dining room of the Medinah Club on Friday, October 18. Grant Olson, advertising manager of the Sheaffer Pen Company, will be the principle banquet speaker.

Probably the most unique scholarship in America is one offered by Hamilton College. Worth $500, it is open to all men in America by the name of Leavenworth.

Dramatists May Give Two Plays

Edward Buttgen, '37, President, said Monday that the St. Viator Dramatic Society would meet early next week to begin plans for the organization's first production. He stated that attempts would be made to give two big performances during the year, instead of one, as was done last spring, when the society presented "Varieties of 1935".

At the initial meeting, it will also be necessary to elect a treasurer for the club. Ralph Celetto, '38, who was chosen for that office at the Dramatic Society's banquet in Hotel Kankakee last May, has not returned to school.

Two Student Busses Make Football Trips

William Phelan, '36, President of the College Club, has taken a strong initiative in gaining student support for interest in the varsity football squad this year. He has arranged student busses for the first two games away from home, and in both instances the student body responded to his call for men to travel with the team.
