

Little Theatre Group To Sponsor Dramatics Here

Brother Maurice Robinson Will Act As Advisor And Director

Campus rumor of a revival of the College Drama club climaxed last Thursday in a meeting of students who hope to form the nucleus of a Little Theatre movement here. The meeting was called by Brother Maurice L. Robinson, C. S. V., after he had discussed the possibilities of a drama group with the college administration and with interested students.

The college has felt the absence of any organized participation in dramatics since the presentation of a "Varieties" program in 1935. Plans for an active club last year lead to high hopes but failed to materialize.

Experienced Director

Brother Robinson, who will probably act as director of the Little Theatre movement, will come to his post with much valuable experience. He has directed dramatic productions in Decatur, Ill., and in Springfield, Ill. He was also actively connected with stage work in Port Huron, Mich.

The group which met Thursday has invited all students interested in the movement to attend the next meeting. Brother Robinson insists that interest, and not experience, is the only requisite for admission.

Book Of Pres. Wins High Praise

"Cardinal Lorenzo Campeggio" by the Very Rev. Dr. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., President of the College, is still bringing laurels to its author as was evidenced recently in the January issue of the America.

In an article entitled "Favorite Books of the Past Year" by the Rev. Leonard Feeney, S. J., Father Cardinal's work was placed with such outstanding books as Hilaire Belloc's "Characters of the Reformation"; David Mathew's "Catholicism in England, 1535-1935"; "The Autobiography of G. K. Chesterton, The King's Good Shepherd" by Olive B. White and "Gone With the Wind" by Margaret Mitchell.

This list of favorite books was obtained by Father Feeney in a survey of the staff of the America. Father Cardinal's book, "Cardinal Lorenzo Campeggio", was selected by Mr. Henry Watts, librarian of the America, as one of his favorite books.

Frosh Meeting Called

Freshmen moderators, Ray O'Connor, '39, and Patrick Bimmerle, '39, have called a meeting of the Freshman class for Wednesday, February 24 for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various class offices. Election of officers will then be held sometime later in the week.

Frosh Speakers Have Busy Time

Daniel Ward, '40, and William McCue, '40, both of Chicago, have been comparing the tenets of Communism with Christian doctrine before local study groups during recent weeks. The two men began their series of debates, in which Mr. Ward presents the Catholic stand, and Mr. McCue, the Communistic, stands, at Notre Dame Convent on February 11. Last Monday the two men were guest speakers at a meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Rose Church, Kankakee. Sunday they will appear before a study club in Hoopston, Ill.

Possessing unusual abilities in oratory and argument, and backed by a keen insight into the problems of Communism, both men have won high applause from their audiences. The discussions are in accord with the Catholic Action movement for presenting current problems in the light of social justice and religious teaching.

Sigma Mu Has Eight Pledges

On February 27 the Engineering Fraternity, Sigma Mu, will initiate eight members into the brotherhood. The prospective members, who have been made conspicuous about the campus by yellow ribbons adorning their left arms, are: Richard Fotre, '40; James J. Carlin, '40; Ben J. Ashner, '40; Francis Herr, '40; Edmond R. Soucie, '40; Charles Gilbert, '39; Joseph McGrath, '39, and Edward O'Connor, '40. The wearing of the these ribbons has been one of the initiatory rites required of those who are pledged as potential brothers of the Sigma Mu Fraternity.

Sigma Mu was organized at the beginning of the current scholastic year for the purpose of developing interest among students enrolled in pre-engineering courses. Dr. G. D. Kinzer, head of the physics department, is the faculty moderator of the fraternity. Officers of the fraternity are: John B. Cahill, '39, president; John R. Burns, '39, vice-president; Brother William V. Quirk, C. S. V., '39, secretary; Brother Cyril G. Peckman, C. S. V., treasurer, and Albert F. Magdecki, '39, sergeant-at-arms.

Brother William V. Quirk, C. S. V., the secretary, has announced that the charter members of Sigma Mu Fraternity will soon receive their organization keys. These keys of Sigma Mu will have attractive raised letters on a hammered gold background.

MISS MALLANEY ENTERTAINS

Misses Mary Mallaney, Rosanne Gorman and June Piper were co-hostesses for the February meeting of the Sorority. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Mallaney on Tuesday evening, the 16.

Operetta Cast Is Named In Part By Fr. M.P. Loughran

Performance Will Be Presented In Joliet, Kankakee and Chicago

Rehearsals for the operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance", to be presented in May by the St. Viator College Choral Club and the Dramatic and Choral Clubs of St. Francis College of Joliet are occupying all of the time of the organizations, the Rev. M. P. Loughran, C. S. V., director of the Viator unit recently revealed.

The performance, according to Father Loughran, has been scheduled tentatively for May 1 and 3 at Joliet; May 8 and 10 at Kankakee; and possibly May 16 in Chicago. Definite arrangements will be announced at a latter date.

Cast Selected

Students who have been assigned roles in the operetta are: Jack Stanley, '40, as Frederick; Francis Prew, '40, as the Pirate King; the part of the Major-General has been gained by Richard Powers, '39, president of the Choral Club; the role of Samuel, pirate lieutenant, will be enacted by William Sagstetter, '40, and Bernard Kearns, '40, will be the sergeant of police.

Music for the operetta will be furnished by the College of St. Francis. Charles Gilbert, '39, will be the violin soloist.

Fr. John Maguire Speaks to K.C.'s

The surest way to fight Communism is to create a new social order by making Catholic social teaching live in economic life and government, according to the Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., dean of the commerce department of the college who discussed "Communism the Destroyer" before a large audience Thursday evening, February 11, in the Kankakee Knights of Columbus auditorium.

Father Maguire recited the history and growth of Communism in European countries, its teachings and efforts and the attitude of the Catholic Church toward it. Communists hold, he said, that religion is a sleeping powder to keep the poor quiet under injustices and to render the rich confident in the rectitude of the system through which they rule.

Religion's function, according to Communists, is to lead people to think that there is a next world as a reward for praying much in this world and the prayer and thoughts in the next world keep people conveniently unaware of this world's injustices.

Catholic social teaching insists that true religion is a motive power of social justice and instead of being an opiate, the Catholic religion, if people live up to it, is the means of a reign of social justice, the speaker indicated.

In a time like the present, Communism is attractive, he pointed out, and unless there are great changes, it will grow in attractiveness. A temporary way of ending the danger of Communism is the utter suppression of every opposition to the

Rosary College Foe of Debaters

Daniel Ward, '40, and Brother Donald Foley, '40, will debate a Rosary College team at River Forest tomorrow in final preparation for the Manchester, Ind., Debate Tournament, to be held next Friday and Saturday.

Edward Buttgen, '37, and Brother Martin McLaughlin, '39, the other two men who will make the Manchester trip, ended their pre-tournament meets with a debate against Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington last week.

Bergin Debaters will be hosts to two visiting teams here in March. Wabash College, long a leader in Indiana debate circles, will bring a team to Bourbonnais on March 18. During the same week, St. Viator will open forensic relations with Quincy College in the last platform debate of the current season.

College Mourns Trustee's Death

Dr. Thomas Hughes, '84, a member of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees of the College, died on February 5 at his residence in Chicago. Dr. Hughes had practiced medicine in Chicago for more than forty years and served as a member of the associated board of trustees for many years.

The Solemn Mass of Requiem was sung by the Rev. P. C. Conway, a life long friend and former classmate of the deceased in Nativity Church, Chicago. Father Conway also delivered the eulogy. The Rev. William J. Bergin, C. S. V., Ph. D., LL. D., head of the philosophy department, was deacon and the Rev. J. P. Halligan, assistant pastor, was sub-deacon. The Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., head of the commerce department, and the Rev. Dr. Christopher Marzano, C. S. V., treasurer, attended the funeral as the official representatives of the College.

Dr. Hughes was one of those grand old students who perpetuate the best traditions of the college. He was most faithful in attending all college events and was likewise always willing to aid the college in financial ways.

Surviving Dr. Hughes are his wife and four children to whom the VIATORIAN extends the heartfelt sympathy of the collegiate body.

A novena of Masses will be offered in the college chapel for the repose of his soul, according to an announcement made by Father O'Mahoney.

PLAN POST-LENTEN DANCE

Members of the Sigma Upsilon Sigma Sorority are over-enthusiastic regarding a tea dance they will sponsor at the close of Lent.

With the choice of discussing the Supreme Court, the flood menace or the results of college education, all regular English students were notified last week of the annual English Essay Contest.

From more than 200 essays to be submitted, three winners will be announced next June by the English department. The paper receiving first honors has traditionally been printed in the final issue of the VIATORIAN.

The essays, which must be limited to 2,000 words, must treat one of the following topics: (1) "Those Nine Old Men" (The Supreme Court issue); (2) "Nature Fights Back" (The flood menace); (3) "Why Do (Don't) Colleges Educate?"

Sam Hamilton's essay, "Education For Leisure", was acclaimed last year's best work. Mr. Hamilton is now a senior in the Science department. Others who have won the annual essay contest in the past two years are: Joseph Rondy, winner in 1935, when he was a sophomore; and Miss Mary Cruise, winner in 1934. Miss Cruise at the time she won the essay contest was a senior.

V-Men Guests of College Pres.

The Very Rev. Dr. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., president of the college was host to a group of athletes, managers and heads of the athletic department last Wednesday evening. Father Cardinal, always interested in the educational welfare of his athletes, enabled fifteen members of the Monogram club to witness "Romeo and Juliet" at the Majestic theatre.

Father Cardinal's party was composed of the following members of the Monogram club, who are also the nucleus of the current basketball squad: Don Betourne, Bill McElligott, Bud Monahan, Frank Straub, George Rogers, Frank Claeys, Robt. Lenahan, John Burke, William Walsh, Thomas Gibbons, Daniel Blazevich, William Schumacher, Vincent Murphy, Coach John McNamara, and the Rev. Francis J. Harbauer, C. S. V., athletic director.

CISCANS DELAY PLAY DECISION

Final decision on the presentation of the popular stage production "Storm Tossed" was deferred by the local chapter of Cisca last week until the society could review an equally fine play, "Shekels".

Fr. J. Ryan Returns

Rev. Joseph Ryan, C. S. V., formerly dean of men and discipline, has returned to the campus during the past week and will resume his teaching duties. Father Ryan, it will be recalled, resigned as dean of men and discipline late in December when he was forced to retire to Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for treatment.

Criminal Justice Association Appoints Dr. Nolan Director

Appointment of Dr. James Allen Nolan, '29, as director of the Washington Criminal Justice Association was announced recently at a dinner meeting of the association at the National Press Club of Washington, District of Columbia, by Eugene Meyer, president of the association.

Dr. Nolan, prominent alumnus, is well known in the District of Columbia. He was graduated from St. Viator College in 1929 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He received his M. A. from Catholic University in 1932 and his Ph. D. in social science from the same institution in 1936.

From 1933 to 1936 Dr. Nolan was employed by the Bureau of Rehabilitation of the District of Columbia. He was appointed assistant director of the bureau in June, 1934, and served in that capacity until last year, when he became secretary and consultant of corrections in the Department of Family and Child Welfare, Washington Council of Social Agencies.

Dr. Nolan is the author of three sociological works concerned with District of Columbia social problems: "One Hundred Prisoners", a study of the operation of the parole in the District of Columbia; "The Lorton Reformatory", and "Parole in the District of Columbia".

He is a member of the American Sociological Society and of the American Association of Social Workers.

During each of the four years spent in residence at St. Viator College, Dr. J. Allen Nolan was a member of the St. Viator debating team and, in his senior year, he managed one of the most successful debate schedules ever undertaken by Irish wranglers. As a junior "Al" was elected president of the College Club. His term of office was marked by an increasing activity on the part of the club. In his senior year he was president of his class and Valedictorian. Upon graduation "Al" was awarded the Rev. W. J. Surprenant, C. S. V., medal for having maintained the highest scholastic rating during four years. He also received a Knights of Columbus Fellowship at the Catholic University in Washington, D. C.

G. Olheiser, '25 Dies Feb. 2 In A Chicago Hospital

George Rigney Olheiser, '25, a prominent member of the St. Viator Extension Club, died February 2 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Chicago. Funeral services were held at St. Ita's Church in Chicago on February 5.

A Solemn Mass of Requiem was sung at St. Ita's parish by Monsignor Quill, a member of the class of '98. The Rev. J. P. Lynch, C. S. V., of St. Viator Parish in Chicago, and the Rev. Dr. L. T. Phillips, dean of studies here, represented the Clerics of St. Viator at the funeral.

During his years of residence at St. Viator College, George Olheiser was one of the most prominent men of campus activities. He was president of the high school class of '25, and editor-in-chief of the first high school annual, the VOYAGER. He matriculated at Loyola University and graduated in '29.

St. Viator Alumnus Is First Priest To Qualify As Lawyer

The Rev. Jeremiah J. O'Mahoney, an active member of the St. Viator Extension Club and probably the first Catholic priest to become qualified as a lawyer after being ordained to the priesthood, was admitted to the bar of the United States Supreme Court recently.

Father O'Mahoney said he had no intention of actively practicing in any court but he became a lawyer in order to carry on more effectively his religious work in Florida. He is chaplain for the Catholic students of the University of Florida at Gainesville. He is also diocesan director for the propagation of the faith, the work of vocations, and the Newman Club of the University of Florida.

"I believed I could accomplish better works by being equipped more broadly", Father O'Mahoney said after his presentation at the court. He was sponsored by Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the New York State Power Authority.

Fr. J. Giusti, '16, Dies On Feb. 2nd

The Rev. John A. Giusti, '16, pastor of St. Lawrence church of South Wilmington for the past nine years, died after a year's illness at St. Mary's Hospital in Kankakee, Ill., on Tuesday morning, February 2. He had been critically ill at the hospital for the past three months.

The funeral services were held on Friday morning at St. Rose church in Kankakee. The Solemn Mass of Requiem was sung by the Rev. P. F. Dufault, pastor of St. Rose parish. The Most Rev. W. D. O'Brien, D. D., auxiliary bishop of Chicago gave the last benediction.

Father Giusti was born on June 24, 1894 in Lucca Italy. When a young man he came to the United States and took up residence in Kankakee. He completed his scholastic work at St. Viator in 1916, and pursued his theological studies in Montreal, Canada; St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore, and at the Sulpician Seminary in Brooklyn, New York.

He was ordained on Corpus Christi Day, May 26, 1921 and said his first Solemn High Mass the following day at St. Rose. He was appointed assistant pastor at St.

the once proud politician of 215 is now the subject of constant and ignominious ridicule from not only his roomies, Sanhuber and Dilger, but also from the entire student body of the college. It is certain that he will never again be considered for high office by his classmates for he has proved himself to be lacking in foresight and prudence, as well as being wasteful for Sanhuber had to have both pair of shoes fixed at the result of Larkin's blunder.

Green Diamond Puzzle Yields To Reasoning of Two Seniors

Hugh Mallaney, '37, and Brother Patrick Toomey, C. S. V., '37, were the only two students to solve the first brain teaser presented in the VIATORIAN this year. Both seniors submitted correct answers and to them we give all the credit they deserve. Numerous others among the student body submitted non-sensical answers and consequently failed to appreciate the real worth of the problem.

The Problem

The Green Diamond is manned by three men who are named Smith, Robinson and Jones. Now these three men are guard, fireman and engineer of the train but not respectively.

On the train there are three passengers, Mr. Smith, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Robinson. Now the guard lives half way between Champaign and Kankakee. Mr. Robinson lives in Kankakee.

Mr. Jones, one of the passengers, earns $1,000 per annum, while the guard's nearest neighbor, a passenger, earns exactly three times as much as the guard. It is further known that the guard's namesake lives in Champaign.

Smith beat the fireman at billiards while in Chicago.

What was the name of the engineer?

The Answer

1. Mr. Robinson lives in Kankakee. The guard lives half way between Champaign and Kankakee and therefore Mr. Robinson could not be his nearest neighbor, because the guard is as close to Champaign as he is to Kankakee.

2. Mr. Jones earns exactly $1,000

Callista of Chicago and served in that capacity for three years. He was then transferred to St. Rose where he served as assistant pastor until June 19, 1928, when he became pastor of St. Lawrence parish in South Wilmington.

per year. There is no monetary unit which will go into $1,000 exactly three times. Therefore, it is obvious that Mr. Jones can not be the guard's nearest neighbor, who must be Mr. Smith.

3. The guard's namesake lives at Champaign. Since Mr. Robinson lives in Kankakee and Mr. Smith is the guard's nearest neighbor, Mr. Jones must live in Champaign and the guard's name must be Jones.

4. Smith beat the fireman at billiards. We know the guard's name is Jones and obviously Smith could not beat himself at billiards. Therefore by elimination, the fireman's name must be Robinson and the engineer is Smith.

In step "2" it is also a legitimate solution to reason Jones is not the guard's nearest neighbor because a railroad guard makes more than one-third of one thousand dollars per year.

Aime Benoit Rites On Feb. 12 At Manteno

Funeral services for Amie Benoit, '76, prominent citizen of Manteno and an active member of the St. Viator Extension Club, were conducted Friday, February 12, from St. Joseph church, Manteno, with the Rev. Adhemar Savary as celebrant of the Requiem Mass. Father Savary also delivered the eulogy.

Amie Benoit actively supported the work of St. Viator College in life and to surviving relatives the entire faculty and student body wish to take this opportunity of expressing their deepest sympathies.

Ruin Of Political Hopes Is Larkin's Penalty

Recently Gene Larkin, the smallest and supposedly the most competent member of room 215 lost "face" with his roomies and classmates. Prior to the incident which we are about to relate, Larkin was held in high esteem and his ability and intellectuality were acknowledged without question. Now, sad to relate his classmates no longer place matters of grave importance in his grasp and it is even rumored that certain organizations in which he holds office may ask him to resign. All because of a slight error on his part.

It would seem that Francis Sanhuber, Larkin's roomie, needed to have a pair of shoes resoled. Relying on his room-mate's competency, he placed the responsibility of taking the shoes to town on Gene's manly shoulders. The shoes were taken to town and the shoemaker, without question fixed the two shoes given to him.

That evening Sanhuber to his utter horror and surprise discovered that Larkin had taken two left shoes, varying in length by at least three sizes, to the shoemaker and had them resoled. Larkin noting that Sanhuber was inspecting the work done by the shoemaker inquired, "Nice job on the shoes, isn't it?"

"Oh yes, fine", his enraged roomie sarcastically answered and at the same time Sanhuber threw a good sized volume of poetry, missing the intended target and hitting Eddie Dilger, the third member of room 215, in the mid-section. "You merely carried these shoes all the way to and from Kankakee in your lap; carried them from the bus to the room; deposited them in the locker; and you never so much as noticed that they were different styles; that they didn't match and they were not pairs! And now you have the nerve to ask me about the quality of the work done! You're certainly the champion of nerve! After this you'll be lucky if anyone trusts you to lick a stamp for them."

After offering a multitude of excuses, none of which were accepted,

SIDELINE SLANTS—

Under the direction of Lou Zarza, physical education director, the swimming pool has been opened and the water is being heated. A few of the more courageous athletes have been in for a plunge. According to Zarza, the initial call for varsity swimmers will be sent out this week. The Conference Meet will be held in the latter part of March, which will give ample time for the team members to be in fair condition.

In the alleys we see that Ken Wiser holds the record for the highest number of pins in one game, well over two hundred. But Wiser was eliminated in the first round of the tournament by Jack Hickey, who bowled an average of 140.

Did you know that — Father Kelly, for thirty years athletic director of the College, bowls a consistent game of over two hundred . . . That George Rogers, varsity guard is playing his tenth year of competitive basketball . . . That J. Emmett Bach never fought before his entry to the College . . . That Willie Dixon is a backstroker of some renown on his native South Side (Chicago).

With the advent of gymnasium work into the physical educational classes, several accomplished bar performers have appeared. Notably Adrian Lessard. Some time ago, his father was a circus performer and has since taught his son most of the tricks. Lessard according to reports is a finished actor, in a sport that is most fascinating and very interesting to watch.

Among the great authors and poets it is seen that Keats had an insatiable love for beauty, Scott loved to tell a story, Coleridge loved to talk, Poe had a love for opium, Byron had the greatest love for himself, while Father Cardinal still loves his abbreviated form of tennis, badminton.

The baseball team suffered a severe blow when Jim Clark transferred to Illinois. Clark had a reputation as a pitcher of great promise, back where every kid is born with a baseball in his hand and feels disappointed when they have only one league champ in their city at the same time.

Bro. R. Crowley Is Recovering

The Very Rev. J. P. O'Mahoney, C. S. V., Provincial of the Clerics of St. Viator, returned recently from St. Louis, Missouri, where he visited Brother Richard Crowley, C. S. V., who was on the point of death in St. Mary's hospital of that city.

Brother Crowley, who had undergone an operation for ulcers of the stomach and then contracted double pneumonia, is well on the road to recovery and will soon resume his theological studies at Kendrick Seminary in St. Louis.

Honor Society Meets Today

Students eligible for the proposed Honor Society of the College will meet today in Marsile Hall at 12:30 o'clock for the purpose of ratifying a tentative constitution which will then be submitted to the College Council for its final approval. Dr. G. D. Kinzer, head of the physics department and faculty moderator of the proposed society, will preside at the meeting.

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Cooper verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. SELF-SACRIFICE DURING LENT

Sometimes one is inclined to believe that self-sacrifice, like mummifying the dead and making stained glass windows, has become a lost art. We, the so-called younger Catholic intelligentsia, are disposed to regard Lent as a bothersome burden that must be borne. Our sense of duty must be satisfied somehow so many of us, more through habit than piety, resolve to give up candy or not eat strawberry pie. If the fact is looked squarely in its ugly face it must be admitted that too many of us don't take Lent very seriously.

We, as Catholics, believe that this life is profitable only when it leads to our salvation. Lent is the season set aside by the Church to weigh our lives in the light of this principle and to do penance for our sins. If we carry our belief to its logical conclusion we can hardly take Lent lightly.

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass takes place every morning on the campus. If we do not take advantage of the opportunity for daily attendance at Mass now while we are in a Catholic atmosphere there will probably never come a time in our lives when we shall do so. Daily attendance at Mass is the finest Lenten devotion we can choose and if we recognize the tremendous merit to be gained we can hardly do otherwise than be present each morning.

ANNUAL ROUTINE

It has happened already, so these few words of ours can be of no avail. We do feel, however, that something should be said on a subject which has been a thorn in the scholastic life of the students for these many years.

Last week came the announcement from the college authorities that the Annual Essay Contest will be sponsored once more as a compulsory unit of the English curriculum. Again, as in past years, rules under which the game is to be played have been posted on all the bulletin boards. And again, as in past years, the students receive the announcement with antagonism and grumbling, with derision and contempt.

Experience is no teacher. The contest is thrown at the students with monotonous regularity. Any argument once offered in defense of the contest must today stand stripped of its cogency. We have been told that preparing the essay gives the student an insight into the intricacies of research work. In the name of all that promotes Higher Education! Do we not write papers, do we not study periodicals and reference books in every class in every semester of our collegiate careers? We have been told that we should be able to express in written words that which is in our mind. And how, may we ask, does the essay contest achieve this end? Are we shown the weakness of our efforts? Oh, no. We never have any idea of the faults or virtues of our work. No corrections. No attempt to aid in the development of style. No faint hint of whether the essay was good or poor. We write. We

The library wishes to thank the Very Rev. E. V. Cardinal, C. S. V., for a copy of Victor Heiser's "An American Doctor's Odyssey" which is one of the best sellers of the season. It is a personal history of the adventures of an American doctor whose chief work has been in health education and the eradication of disease. The first half of the book is devoted to his years of training, his work as a medical officer in the United States immigration service, and as director of public health in the Philippines. The second half records his work as a director of the International health division of the Rockefeller foundation. Teachers of the Biological and Social Sciences should find this book indispensable and students will find in it a combination of glamour, shrewd wisdom, fact, and fun. We advise one and all to read it.

"The Family Name" by Arnold Lunn presented to the library by Father Lareau of St. George is also worthy of mention.

Against a background of winter sports in Switzerland and the English lake district and of London society is told the story of the marriage of a rich Jew with the daughter of an impoverished English earl, with the resulting clash of minds and temperaments and family rides.

"This is a sound, objective kind of novel, revealing no trace of sentimentality or yearning. The best of the book is to be found in the nicely balanced, spirited conversations embracing the subject of racial and social and class antagonisms and conflicts. The writing is so chaste, the varied points of view so intelligently expressed, the story so honestly handled, and there are so many excellent touches—particularly in the discussions—that this little book stands out, as a minor novel of charm and distinction."

A book entitled "Vollstandiges worterbuch der franzosischen und deutschen sprache" by J. G. Haas will be of interest to German and French students. It is a complete dictionary of the French and German language. It was presented to the library by Father John Williams, C. S. V.

hear the names of the winners. There the contest begins and ends.

That the majority of the students plagiarize is a well-known fact. Consequently, their work is not deservizing, has, in fact, absolutely no value. That the honor which the writer of the winning essay receives is mere bauble makes any painstaking effort unrewarded.

But the game is never-ending. Annually, the students complain, annually the authorities are adamant. Without any attempt to improve the student's methods of research or style of writing, the authorities make entrance into the contest compulsory. The majority of the contestants will derive no benefit, and the college authorities will have only the satisfaction of reflecting that once more they have forced essays from the pens of unwilling writers.

Viator Defeats Western Profs By 47-38 Count

The Irish warriors of St. Viator racked up their third conference win of the season as they cracked out a 47 to 38 victory over the Leathernecks of Macomb Teachers College at Macomb on February 9.

The Mac-men jumped into an early lead on George Rogers' basket and were never headed at any point of the entire tilt. Viator held a 13 to 2 lead after five minutes of play and always managed to have a comfortable margin of victory. The Leathernecks started putting long shots over the Irish defense midway in the first half and trailed at intermission, 20 to 17. With the exception of one lone basket from mid court, all of the Viator buckets in the first half came from points directly underneath the hoop.

Ties Irish at 23-All.

In the early minutes of the second half the Leathernecks of Western tied the Irish at 23-all but Frank Straub connected for two field goals and a brace of free throws to give the Green Wave the lead again. Western threatened again with the score at 41 to 38, but Johnnie Burke, substituting at center for Monahan, dropped 3 consecutive shots from the charity line and Straub connected for his sixth field goal to sew up the game for the Irish.

Bach KO's Foe; Fields Wins

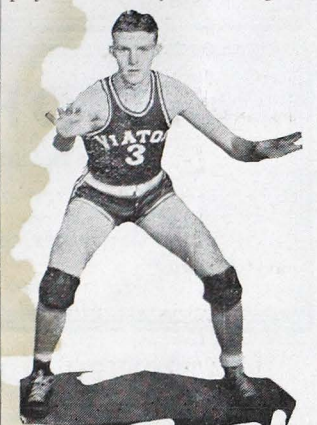

Two varsity boxers, J. Emmett Bach and Herbie Fields, won their fights last Thursday evening at the third Kankakee boxing show held in the local Knights of Columbus auditorium.

Bach, displaying some of the skill he flashed in his first local appearance, stopped Goldman Green, colored, of St. Charles after a round and a half. Bach fought a cautious first round and then caught Green flush on the bottom with a terrific right in the second round that sent him reeling to the floor.

Herbie Fields evened the score with Tony Franks, colored of Kankakee, when he gained the judges nod after a stirring three round battle.

Irish Nipped By Late Rally: Score; 37 - 34

With a thousand patrons in the grip of hysteria and the chips down, State Normal Red Birds came through in the final 35 seconds of play on February 11 to nip the Irish 37 to 34 in an Illinois Intercollegiate Conference battle almost unsurpassed for thrills.

FRANK STRAUB

It was the second hairline whipping the Red Birds had dealt Coach John McNamara's "hard luck" quintet this season. The score was 34 to 32 in favor of the Irish with the watch ticking away the last minute and five seconds of play when Kavanaugh popped up under the Normal basket for a "sleeper" to tie the score at 34-all.

Betourne's Try Fails

After the tipoff following Kavanaugh's basket, Normal wrestled the ball from Viator and Balding poised in the center of the court, pitched the ball unerringly in the basket, and it swished through the nets as though he had dropped it in several inches above the hoop. With that basket went the Irish's last hope of winning a game in which they had lead throughout.

Don Betourne took a daring one-handed shot in the last seconds of play that whirled in and out of the basket and another under the basket in which his aim was poor due to severe jostling by Normal guards. The 37th point was made after the final gun as Balding had been fouled by Rogers as the gun sounded.

Straub Collects 11 Points

Frank Straub, whose outstanding basket work and floor game kept the Irish in the van almost throughout, tossed in 5 successive gift shots late in the contest that apparently placed the game on the ice for the McNamara-men. In addition to his free throws, Straub tossed in 3 buckets from the field that gave him 11 points and scoring honors on the Viator side.

Viator pranced off to an early lead and was in front once during the first half 14 to 7. Normal's dead one-handed shooting narrowed the gap and shortly before the half the Red Birds deadlocked the count 18-all. Bud Monahan, playing a brilliant game at center, scored from the side shortly before the half ended and gave the Irish a 20 to 18 lead at the half.

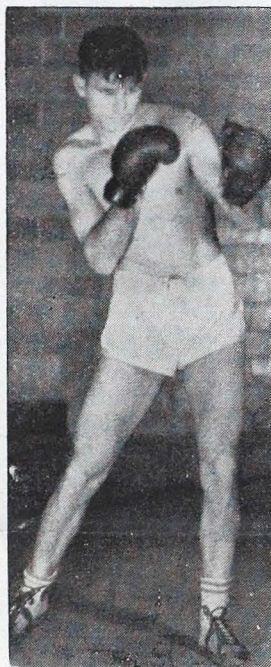

The Green Wave warriors managed to keep in front of the Red

Irish Pugilists Lose In Golden Glove Tourney

Representatives of the College boxing team met with four set backs in the Bloomington Golden Gloves Tournament, fought last week. Each member of the team had the misfortune to fight last year's champ, in the initial battles.

Herbie Fields dropped a three round decision to Jackie Sanders, a colored lad, who later won the division title. Fields led Sanders through the first two rounds and then coasted the third, expecting to fight again that night. The judges thought differently.

J. EMMETT BACH

Edmund Soucie, fighting in the 135 pound class, was handed a technical K. O. by Dale Huber. Huber also defeated Kalkowski two years ago, in the 147 pound division.

J. Emmet Bach also received a technical K. O. in the second round. Poli caught Bach with a left hook in a clinch late in the first round and before Bach was able to recuperate, the fight was stopped.

Captain Morgan was outpointed by Glenn Potter in a very closely contested battle, in the 160 pound class. Morgan opened a cut over Potter's eye that required the aid of a physician and a clamp to close after the fight.

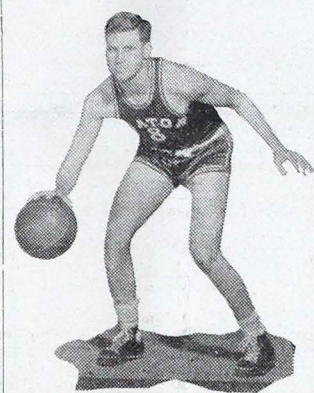

L. Zarza Calls For Swimmers

A call for swimming candidates was issued late last week by Coach Lou Zarza, director of physical education. Men interested in joining the swimming squad are requested to appear daily at four o'clock in the swimming pool.

Jack Boyle, '39, according to an announcement also made by Coach Zarza, will once again act as swimming team manager.

Carthage Beats Green Wave In Thrilling Game

The Green Wave warriors lost another tough basketball game on February 12 when a tall aggregation of basketeers from Carthage College stormed the Viator gymnasium and fashioned a stirring 38 to 35 triumph for themselves over Coach John McNamara's hard-luck quintet. The game was an Illinois Intercollegiate conference conflict and marked the fifth setback in league firing for the Irish, each of which has been almost by the narrowest possible margin.

Lead Changes Hands

The game nearly matched the Viator-Normal contest for sheer excitement, although this battle lacked some of the shine produced in the game the night previously. The lead changed hands almost beyond count during most of the second half, but the rangy Carthage crew pulled into the lead two minutes before the close of the game.

Carthage was in control of the lead during the entire first half, possessing a 20 to 17 margin as the teams left the floor for intermission. McVey, a rangy forward, garnered 6 field goals and a free throw, enough to give him scoring honors of the evening, while Frank Straub, continuing his sensational pace at the hoop, looped in a dozen markers.

Monahan Gets Jump

Bud Monahan, getting the jump on the taller Carthage center, dropped the ball through the nets to the extent of 8 points, but his banishment from the game on personals robbed his performance of some of its lustre. Babe Claeys, a substitute forward, played most of the game at Red McElligott's post and turned in an excellent performance, casting 3 goals and doing some commendable passing.

A sizeable crowd witnessed the game, the second 3-point conference loss for the Irish in the same number of nights. Although only 18 fouls were called between the two teams, the game was rough and tumble with near-serious collisions resulting.

Cagers Drop 6th League Tilt To Southern, 48-47

The Irish cagers lost another thrill-packed game last Saturday night as the Southern Profs of Carbondale managed to eke out a 48 to 47 victory in the last seconds of the game. Charlie Broadway, elongated Prof center, sank a free throw which broke the existing deadlock as the gun sounded ending the game. Rogers, Irish guard, had tied the count just previously by sinking a couple of free throws.

The Green Wave warriors started out in grand style and seemed certain of downing the Southern Profs when McElligott started the scoring off with two rapid free buckets. The Irish worked themselves into a 16-4 lead but only lead at the half by a 28-24 count.

Betourne Injured

Viator received its worst break of the evening when Don Betourne, hard-driving forward, was forced to leave the game because of a knee injury sustained in a scramble under Southern's basket. The Irish were leading by 8 points at the time but within two minutes Carbondale had crawled with one point of the Irish. A few minutes later Straub left the game on four personals.

The lead sea-sawed back and forth until Southern went ahead, 47-44, on fielders by Broadway and Fulton with but five minutes of playing time remaining. Southern attempted to freeze the ball but Monahan managed to break up the play and sank a beautiful side-court shot to bring the Irish with two points of tying the score. Rogers then sank two free throws awarded to him to tie the score. Broadway spoiled Irish hopes for victory when he duplicated Rogers feat a few seconds later.

Reserves Win

The Irish Reserves, playing their fifth game of the season, defeated the Classy Rockford Friars in an interesting tilt, 34-26. Sarich, O'Connor, Jenesky and Tortorello led the Reserves at the net while Kottman and McCoy paced the Friars. The victory gave the Reserves a clean slate for the season.

Rev. Father Harbauer, C. S. V., director of athletics, announced after the game Saturday evening that the next varsity game, the Charleston tilt, will be played in the Kankakee Armory.
