GLEE CLUB HEARD ON STATION WCFL

Miss Theresa Gray And Don Anderson Soloists

The Glee Club of St. Viator College gave a second broadcast over the Federation of Labor Station in Chicago, Sunday evening at eight o'clock February nineteenth. Its first appearance, as the Chorus with the Christmas Play, was so well received and there was such a large number of requests for a return broadcast that this engagement was made.

Since this latter appearance a large number of requests have been received for a third broadcast which will be arranged at some future time.

Popular Program

The numbers sung by the Glee Club, which was, as usual, under the direction of the conductor, Miss Harriet Gillette, were of the type most suited for such organizations. They included "Sylvia", "Trust In The Lord", "I Passed By Your Window", a selection from "Finlandia", "Danny Boy", and a solo rendition of the "Ave Maria" of Bach-Gounod. The program was opened by the chorus humming the "Dear Land of Home" and was closed in the same manner.

Fr. Maguire Speaks

During the course of the program which was announced by the Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., an appeal for the support of the Temple of Music to be erected at the 1933 World Fair Exhibition in Chicago was made by the president. Contributions, however small, will be welcomed by the committee in charge. They should be sent to Dr. Frederick Stock who is directing this most worthy task of securing sufficient funds to build the Temple of Music.

Negative Wins Radio Debate

Mr. Norbert Ellis and Mr. Joseph Mahoney, representing the freshmen of St. Viator College in a debate with the Freshmen of Chicago University over radio station WCFL, by an overwhelming vote won the decision. The subject of the debate was The restriction of incomes and inheritances to $50,000. The principle, not the amount was debated. The affirmative side of the debate was upheld by St. Viator College.

Audience Decision

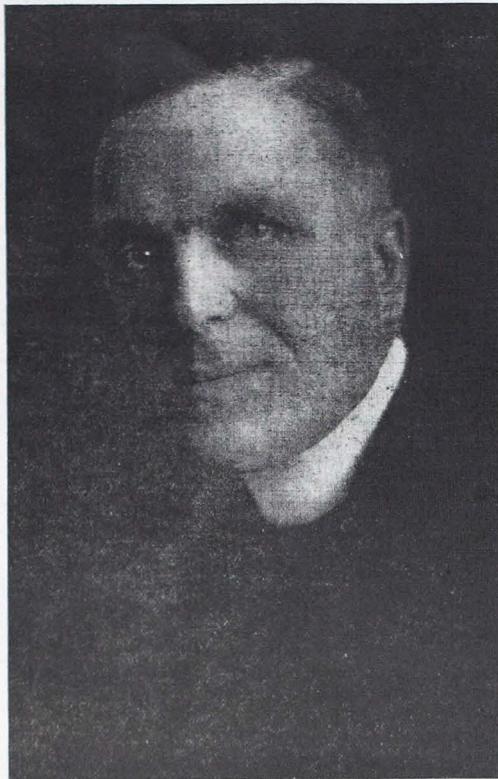

Of the one hundred and five letters received by WCFL one hundred and two votes were for the affirmative team of St. Viator. This is the largest number of votes on any of the radio debates broadcast this year.

The popularity of this type of broadcast is evidenced by the many requests for future appearances on the radio.

HOOVER COLLEGE CLUB PRESIDENT

John McGrath Elected New Secretary

In a special election held Monday, February thirteenth, Mr. Ralph E. Hoover, '33, Gary, Indiana, was elected president, and Mr. John McGrath, '33, Peoria, Illinois, was elected secretary of the College Club, official student organization of St. Viator College. His election to the highest office among the students is a tribute to the remarkable abilities of Mr. Hoover. For four years a member of the staff, and, in his Sophomore year, Editor of the VIATORIAN; Director of Publicity for the past two and a half years; President of the Senior class; for four years a brilliant member of the Bergin Debating society; possessed of an engaging personality that has made him the most outstanding figure on the campus, Mr. Hoover has distinguished himself above all others. The selection of these two Seniors to the high offices they now hold is considered a high compliment to the wisdom of the student body in the important task of choosing its leaders.

Freshmen Will Edit Next Issue

Norbert Ellis Named As Editor

It has become a tradition that each year the Freshman class of St. Viator be given the keys of the VIATORIAN offices, the good wishes of the regular staff and told to do their best in editing one issue of that publication. Since it is fundamentally a sound principle to discover talent by offering the opportunity for its exercise the custom is once more being followed, and the March fifteenth issue of the VIATORIAN will be the work of the Freshmen. It will be their aim to better the regular staff, largely composed of upperclassmen.

Ellis Editor

Mr. Norbert Ellis, Seneca, Illinois, has been appointed editor of the Freshman issue. A real scholar, unafraid of any task, however great, with the valuable gift of cooperation he has inspired admiration in upperclassmen and classmates alike. His appointment as editor insures the success of the issue. He has not yet completed the selection of his staff, but will do this very soon, so that the work of publication may begin promptly and be completed on the regular publishing date, the fifteenth of March.

Awaited With Interest

The Freshman issue creates a great deal of interest among upperclassmen who are eager to know exactly what the Freshmen may do in the way of newspaper work. The Freshman issue of last year was acclaimed by everyone as one of the best of the year. The regular features of the paper are particularly interesting in the hands of newcomers to the college whose observations on the upperclassmen, though often somewhat acrid, are nevertheless extremely valuable.

Brilliant Opening

Friday night's opening session will find six excellent teams meeting. The session will open with Fox Valley, Aurora, meeting St. Teresa of Decatur. St. Patrick's, Kankakee, will meet St. Joseph's of Cairo in the second game, with Spalding Institute of Peoria, defending Illinois champions, closing the session against Cathedral High of Springfield. The first round games will be continued on Saturday afternoon, and the quarter-finals will be held Saturday evening. The semi-finals will come up on Sunday afternoon, and the title will be determined in Sunday night's round.

Alumni Give Awards

At stake in the Tournament will be the Illinois state title, the Bishop's Trophy, and the right to represent Illinois in the National Catholic Tournament to be held in Chicago later in the month. Besides the Bishop's Trophy, which is a revolving award given by the Most Rev. Eernard J. Sheil, D. D., Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago and Viator alumnus, will be first and second place awards donated by the Rev. T. E. Shea of Pontiac, also a Viator alumnus and an enthusiastic Tournament supporter.

"Brick" Young Popular Referee To Officiate

One of the most competent and popular of referees in the middlewest is "Brick" Young, sports editor of the Bloomington Pantagraph. His popularity has constantly grown. His influence in athletic circles is very great.

Mr. Young has refereed a number of St. Viator games this year. His services will be available for the final title game of the Illinois State Catholic High School tournament. His selection is a happy choice, for he is respected everywhere as an excellent and impartial referee.

VIATOR WELCOMES YOU

Tournament guests, the students of St. Viator are happy and proud to be your hosts. We extend to you our hearty welcome and offer our services to help make your short visit thoroughly pleasant and enjoyable. We are justly proud and happy to entertain you, because we recognize in you the highest type of high school sportsmanship—the essence of future collegiate competition. We have always looked forward to the State Catholic Tournament as a time when we could accord our visiting guests the highest service and the best attention possible. This year we again assure our guests the same wholehearted attention and service that has marked other tournaments held at St. Viator College.

LENT: SEASON OF SACRIFICE

The lesson of purification through sacrifice that has lent power to every masterpiece of art in the history of man's intellectual development was taught with greatest force in the life of the Savior of mankind. By His example He showed that the only way in which the heights of true greatness may be reached is self-sacrifice. He taught the leaders of men the necessity for self mastery before attempting the direction of others. He prepared for his great mission by spending forty days in prayer and fasting in the desert. He withstood the temptations of Satan offering all the treasures and kingdoms of the world if He would but call him master. Then, fortified with the mighty strength of self-mastery, He went forth to bring comfort to the downtrodden with the promise of heavenly joy, the reward of sacrifice.

Each year the Church for forty days wears the purple robe of penance. On Ash Wednesday her children are signed with the cross of ashes and reminded of their final end—"dust thou art and into dust thou shall return". She exhorts them to make sacrifices in the little things of life so that the dross of materialism will not mar the pure gold of their souls.

The period of Lent is one of contemplation and introspection as well as of sacrifice. College students realize more fully the greatness of the mission, life. Through sacrifice the purple of mortification and penance becomes the symbol of royal dignity—of a Savior risen from the dead, triumphant over the foe which has lowered the standards of every other king. They learn one of the great lessons of life—sacrifice. They are prepared for the fulfillment of their life's mission; they feel the truth in the words of the poet, Scott, when he says:

"The rose is sweetest washed with morning dew,
 And love is loveliest when embalmed with tears".

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Students of the College enjoyed a conge on Wednesday, February 22nd, the birthday of the first President of the United States. Everyone but the debaters seemed to be making the most of a holiday, but that group was overwhelmed with the work incident upon their entry last Friday in the Middlewest Championship Debate Tournament at Manchester, Indiana.

Don Hickey attended the Chicago performance of "The Student Prince" while the Glee Club was perpetrating its broadcast a week ago Sunday. Is that loyalty in him who has so faithfully accompanied on the piano every practice session of the Club, we ask you, Don, is it? It's alright though—many would have done the same if they had had the opportunity.

A prominent member of the Freshman class, one of the inveterate radio debaters, was highly incensed when, because the opponents from Chicago University and his own colleague spoke overtime, his speech was shortened by two very succinct and important paragraphs. Such are the trials and tribulations of radio stars, eh, Joe? The letters received by station WCFL to date have, with two exceptions, all been votes for the Bergin Debating Society.

The number of letters complimenting the "excellent soprano voice" of Miss Theresa Gray heard in the broadcast of February nineteenth should earn for her the title of the "Jessica Dragonette" of St. Viator College—that's about the highest tribute we could pay her—being inveterate fans of that lyric soprano who brightens all our Friday evenings.

The lovely tenor voice who, in the midst of the same broadcast, suggested, sotto voce, that the next number on the program would be a "bat-on solo, by Miss Harriet Gillette" is hereby nominated for a stroll on the "Street of Forgotten Men".

In the column to the left we have formally welcomed all you tournament basketeers. But we have one regret with regard to your entertainment. You very probably won't hear our Glee Club. We ourselves are a very humble member, but just the same it's rather good. And saddest of all, you can't hear the stringed trio composed of the three most accomplished musicians on the campus—artists, each of them. But we hope you have a good time even if you don't have the opportunity of hearing these two great organizations.

This Bergin Debating Society sometimes is troublesome to the well ordered routine of our excellent staff. Although it keeps us supplied with many a welcome column telling of its successes, nevertheless, it does take away a goodly portion of our staff. For instance, at this very moment, we are deprived of the services of Messrs. Hoover, Nolan, Middleton, and our assistant editor, Mr. J. Hugh Burns, away on the aforementioned Tournament Tour.

The basketball team really hit its stride in the game with Normal at Bloomington. Their defeat of the strong Shurtleff, Bradley and Illinois Wesleyan teams justified our opinion of the high calibre basketball always characteristic of Viator teams. The final home game with Bradley Tech—our most bitter rival—was the best of the season. Our Indian friends of the Peoria tribe are worthy opponents, indeed. Passant, the Bradley TECH rates ace high with us among our Little Nineteen exchanges.

We thank the staff of the SKY-SCRAPER, Mundelein College, for their friendly recognition of the merits of our publication. The Sky-scraper is one of our favorite exchanges—we especially approve the work of the art editor. We have also enjoyed the Christmas number of the CLEPSYDRA very much. All the charm of the loveliest of seasons was caught in poetry and prose by the contributors of that particular issue.

While on the subject of exchanges we will express our high regard for the respective newspapers of De Paul University, Loyola University, and Dayton University.

We regret very much the omission of Mr. Richard Schneider's name as author of the first discussion of "Politics"—"Why I Would Not Like To Enter Them". It is a masterly treatment of the subject from one of the outstanding first year men.

In the next issue you will enjoy the result of the journalistic efforts of our Freshmen friends under the editorship of Norbert Ellis. We assure you a most interesting edition.

The ceremony of Religious Clothing which took place in the chapel of the Congregation de Notre Dame, Montreal, Canada on the twenty-third of February was performed for Sister Suzanne Marie Cote, a student at the college two years ago who has joined the Congregation of Notre Dame sisters.

How, tempus fugit . . . here it is the deadline again and I have to sit down and grind out a couple of reams of this trash for you morose readers . . . Lots of things have happened since last time . . . but only about one-fourth of them are fit to print . . . the tournament ought to provide a few choice bits for us . . . Doc, the old Meany, has been on his toes ever since his return to school a week ago, getting ready for the prep stars . . . incidentally, a word of advice to the high school boys . . . if you ever go to college stay out of journalism . . . and if you have any ambition toward being a columnist drown them now! . . . I, too, was once an innocent youth with ideas and inspirations . . . that was before I took to scribbling this stuff . . . once in those happy day now gone forever I, too, had friends with whom I could pass the time of day in a pleasant fashion . . . now I have to go about snooping for bits of scandal . . . snatching at a stray word, a brief fragment of conversation . . . building a story up out of them . . . and what do I get for it? . . . veiled (and not so veiled) threats . . . abuse . . . Oh, the futility of it all . . . Guess that platform didn't go over so well with the electorate last Monday . . . anyhow I must have eighteen friends . . . or else Hoover has eighteen enemies . . . and there was one vote that the judges couldn't account for . . . maybe I ought to contest the election . . . The fighting men of Viator have taken to putting jigsaw puzzles together . . . it's a very instructive pastime . . . Isn't it a pity that that little Shea boy has to work so hard every evening in preparation for the tournament . . . He doesn't even have time to go to parties . . . when he has a date for them . . . but Bill Fleming, the third corridor's contribution to the hilarity of Roy Hall, was the good angel . . . he subbed for Dickie and had a grand time . . .

The Degnan received a Valentine from Kank that read as follows:
 I want you for my Valentine' . . . Well, she's got him, all right . . . And how . . . In case any of youse guys might want to take a young lady to dinner in the big town to the north some day, Jack Cronin can give you some valuable information as to where a good table de hote can be obtained for, say, the paltry sum of one buck . . . By the way, Jack didn't do his crooning act over WCFL although he accompanied the Gleeeful Glee-ers to Chi . . . Our Chief Sanitary Inspector of the second, "Bing" McNally, has gone in for expressing his vocal talents on a large scale, too . . . Oh, well, two hours is two hours, eh, Mac? . . . "Poot-waddle" is the distinctive new nickname Jim Hunt acquired at the Rosary College formal . . . call him that . . . he likes it . . . Wes has acquired competition in his pursuit of that elusive young lady known as Sue . . . it seems there is a fellow in Kankakee . . .

Bud O'Mara has written a waltz, a langorous scintillating (this word used with special permission of the copyright owners) thing that will undoubtedly take its place among the great classics . . . all the campus poets are stirring their gray cells trying to fit words to it now . . . J. Hugh was going to get Bud a date for last Sabbath eve, but the latter gentleman declined to be compromised . . . guess he doesn't think much of J. H.'s taste . . . Congrats to Doc Ellis on his radio debut . . . I'll bet they were listening in at St. Frances . . . No kidding, Doc, you were really good . . . That telegram and letter from Winona notwithstanding . . . "Snake" was really worried up in Chi after the De Paul game . . . It seems the aforesaid "Poot-waddle" was supposed to appear at the gym with Snake's Tux right after the game but due to some unforeseen circumstance he was late and Snooky was left sitting pantless down in the dressing room when the rest of the Viatorians departed . . . Incidentally that game in Chi resembled a Viator homecoming in many respects . . . Glimpsed among others Vince Morrissey of the class of '32, Bill Todd, "Oc" O'Donnell, the great Carney of Manteno fame, "Abhoo" Weber with the same plug of Horseshoe that he had at graduation, McNaughton who is soon leaving for Sarasota with the Red Sox, the tallest member of the Flynn family, and PUNCHY Noonan who "graduated" at the semester . . . Rue and Mac have at this writing completely recovered from that wedding they attended recently . . . however they are still talking about it and threatening to expose each other's actions there . . . we may have a good story soon if we can get them to talking more . . . we feel it our duty to expose the goings-on of the College Club president-elect . . . he and his cohorts returned from the debating trip at an unseemly hour and proceeded to rout some young

"Chesterfields Satisfy"

WHEN smokers keep buying the same cigarette day after day . . . it's a pretty good sign that they're getting what they want . . . mildness, better taste—a smoke that's always the same.

So we're going right on making Chesterfields just as we always have . . . selecting choice, ripe tobaccos . . . ageing them . . . blending and cross-blending them . . . making them into cigarettes in the most scientific ways that are known.

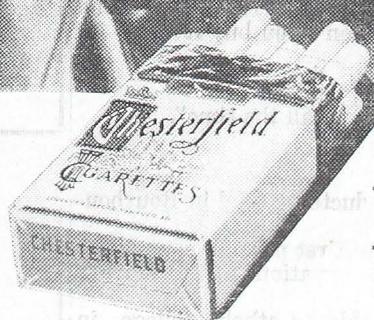

As long as we do these things we know that smokers will continue to say, "They Satisfy". For that's what people are saying about Chesterfields.

If you smoke, why not find out about them? A package or two will tell you the whole story.

GRETA GARBO SENDS REGRETS—Will be unable to attend Tournament. Garbo left Hollywood Sunday night to journey to Bourbonnais, where she was invited as guest of honor at the State Basketball Tournament, to be held at St. Viator College. But after a brief stay in Bradley, Miss Garbo told reporters of the Viatorian that she would return immediately to Hollywood—her exact words to the Department were: "Ay tanked, Ay go home now."

To add to the lustre of the tournament, the rival captains of the two teams playing in the finals will meet at Tiddleywinks between the halves. The match will be judged by none other than Mahatma Ghandi. Mr. Ghandi had had a previous engagement to visit a Children's Home in New York, but the far-reaching *tournament official, Mr. Meany, took Ghandi away from the babies.

*Ask any of the boys from the refectory.

The tournament this year offers another novelty. It has been rumored that crap shooting among the Trinity players has resulted in the loss of their uniforms, and that they will appear on the floor in the Tuxedos of the Bergin Debating Society.

"There's still some dew on these flowers you've brought me, Jack", she said sweetly. "Yeah", says Jack, "but I'm going to pay it tomorrow". But when Jack offered her the ring he had bought for her, she refused it. "What's the matter", asks Jack, "is there another fellow?" "Yes", says she. "Who is he?" asks Jack. "Why" says she, "do you intend to harm him?" "Naw", says Jack, "I want to sell him the ring".

Student: "Well Jim, how are you getting along in the world?"

Alumnus: "Oh, fine. I haven't got a job, but I can marry anybody I please".

Stude: "Then why don't you get married?"

Alumnus: "Well, y'see, I don't please anybody."

Herb complained that he wasn't feeling any better—in fact was worse. The nurse gave him some more medicine, and asked him if he drank hot water one hour before breakfast, as she had told him to do. And this is what Hoover said—quote: "Well, I did the best I could, but I just couldn't keep it up for more than ten minutes.

Now don't come round asking where he got the hot water one hour before breakfast.

"Say, Joe", Yelled Nolan from next door, "what are you opening that box with?"

"With a hammer", replied Joe, "what did you think I was opening it with, a prayer?"

Little things that start big riots—"That's not a bad suit you have on, George, why don't you buy it?"

She. "You've been drinking again, Jim".

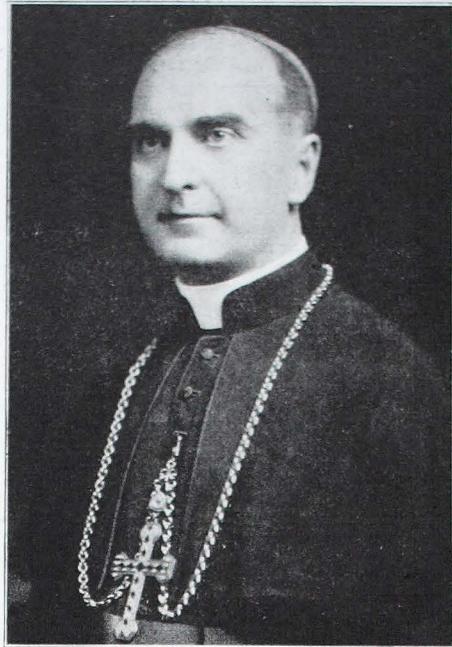

Jim: "Yes, dear, but I can't eat all the time".

Strong Contenders In Title Race

SECOND GAME AGAINST NORMAL TEACHERS VICTORY; 23-26

Laffey Leads In Viator Scoring; Fitzgerald, Normal Star; Krauklis Working Well In Second Big Game

Playing their second game against the Teachers from Illinois State Normal the Irish of Saint Viator went out and won handily from the Profs by a score of 26 to 23 to even up for the heart breaking defeat by a score of 25 to 24 that they had suffered earlier in the season. From the very first sounding of the whistle the fans knew that the Viatorians had the stronger team. The Irish clicked on both the offense and the defense in a way that would put a professional outfit to shame. Each play meant the start of another basket and the manner in which the Saints worked showed them to be working as a unit again after several disjointed attempts in past games.

Laffey Stars

Laffey walked away with all of the honors from both teams. Pete worked through the Teachers defense every time that the Irish got their hands on the ball and on the defense he kept the rest of the Fighting Irish quintet on their feet. Besides his fine work on the defensive he found time to drop in four baskets and also to make good on two attempts on free throws out of three tries. Krauklis showed the fans that his work in the De Paul game was not a flash in the pan and dropped in a basket from the free throw line and also worked sweetly with the unit of Viatorian offense and defense. Harding and Baker worked wonders on the defense and time and time again stopped threatening attempts of the Profs to take the game out of the hands of the Irish.

The Teachers were not able to measure up to the standard of playing as set by the pace setting Irish. They had to be content with doing all of their basket dropping from the middle of the floor due to the strong defense set up by the Corcoranmen. Fitzgerald was the star of the Teachers outfit and was able to set down three baskets and two free throws in the score book before he was taken out of the game with an injured knee. The Profs made nine free throws out of twelve tries. The Viatorians were able to make but four of their charity tosses out of eleven attempts. Manager Meany accompanied the team to Normal as his first trip since his return from the Hospital after undergoing an operation.

SPORT-SHORTS

With Spring in the offing, the would be diamond stars are seen tossing "that apple" all over the Campus. Tom Whalen, who did some pitching for the Academy in former years, is out limbering up the arm for a big season, with Winterhalter as his protege. Tom is a "lefty" of no mean ability, and big things are expected of him as a moundsman this year.

The basketball championship of the class league is already decided with the Frosh squad taking honors, due to their recent victory over the Juniors, by a 30 to 20 score. The Frosh have five wins and no defeats; the Seniors are second with three wins and two defeats; the Juniors are in third position with three wins and three losses; and the Jinxed Sophs are in the last place with no wins and five defeats. Now for a battle between the Frosh and that picked squad from the Study Hall.

The Independents won a hard fought game from the St. Rose C. Y. O. team recently by a 17-16 score. St. Rose is one of the strongest contenders in the C. Y. O. and the entire Independent squad showed up well against them. This was the tenth victory for the Roy Hall team. They have only one loss registered against them and that by Bradley. The next foe of the Independent squad is the St. Patrick five, also of the C. Y. O. which will appear here against the locals next Tuesday evening as a preliminary to the Viator-Bradley game.

We have quite a time dodging the "shot" and discus" which is being hurled about daily in the vicinity of the gymnasium by those two stalwarts, Flynn and Abney. And just watch Red Flynn taking those hurdles some day—he means business. Abney must have a path worn about the gym—he circles it several times daily in his sprints. These two might form a sound foundation for a track team.

Well, George Fleming has finally been eliminated from a pool tournament, and that in the opening round of play. At present, Leon Winterhalter is fighting it out with Dexter and Gibbons for the Straight Pool Championship.

With the coming of Spring we will soon bid Basketball goodbye, and once more take to the bat and indoor ball. Like to take a crack at a league ball once, but these guys break enough bats in indoor ball, and so we will have to be content with that. Anyway, half of you fellows can't even hit an eight or ten inch ball.

When Father Kelly is seen scanning that baseball diamond, one may be sure that the season is not far off, and of late he has cast some eager, longing glances at the plot of ground he knows and likes so well,—the baseball diamond. In his years of coaching here, Father Kelly has turned out some fine ball players, many of whom reached the major leagues. Among the more recent of his scholars who have made good, are "Mike" Delaney and McNaughton, both pitchers, and Jimmy Dalrymple, an infielder. "Bud" Clancy, who graduated some eight or nine years ago, is playing first base for the Brooklyn team of the National league. Delaney and McNaughton are on the Boston squad in the American league, and Dalrymple is playing in the Minor Leagues somewhere in the East.

THIRTEEN TEAMS TO BATTLE IT OUT FOR I. S. C. TOURNEY CROWN

ST. VIATOR LOSES TO DE PAUL U.

Playing one of the best games of their 1933 schedule and working like a perfect machine the Viatorians were unable to tally up enough points to defeat the Blue Demons of De Paul University of Chicago in their second meeting of the year. Although the score was 26 to 23 in favor of the Chicagoans this score does not tell of the work that was done by the Corcoranmen. From the very first whistle the Irish team went into action and kept clicking till the end of the game but in the final moments of the game the Kellymen showed their streak of miraculous basket shooting display to put them ahead as the final whistle blew.

Red Harding of the Saints had his evening in Chicago that evening not only by reason of scoring four baskets and a free throw but also by virtue of the wonderful guarding that kept the fans yelling throughout the whole contest. The De Paulians went to town with their free throws in the second half and during the whole game they garnered ten single points on charity tosses out of a possible total of seventeen attempts.

The Viatorians themselves were able to mark up three out of seven tosses. Doody did most of the basket tossing for the Demons with three baskets, and a free toss and was the backbone of the team with his guarding. His team mate Linsky also scored the same number of points. The much heralded ace of the Chicago team was held down to a single free throw by the Irish.

Krauklis, a freshman on this year's squad surprised the fans in this game by dropping in two baskets and also by the way in which he handled the ball during the time he was in the game. After his work in this game perhaps Coach Corcoran will see more chances to play him in the two remaining games.

Westray was not able to get going in this game as he was taken out of the game on fouls before he was able to warm up the hands that have dropped many a winning basket through the hoop. Laffey was too busy guarding his man to pay much attention to the scoring end of the game and could get but one basket which marked the opening of the game and was the first point scored.

In the past several years, the Illinois State Catholic Basketball Tourney has been primarily a bitter struggle between two downstate teams; Spalding of Peoria, and Trinity of Bloomington. But this year will be a different story. The thirteen teams entered in this year's meet promise to make this tourney the closest matched event of its kind ever to be held here at St. Viator. Although there are favorites this year just as in the past, the records of all teams entered are enviable ones, and it appears impossible to attempt to point out an "under-dog" from among the contesting squads.

Acquin, Corpus Christi, Rouff
Acquin High School of Freeport, Illinois boasts a fine record to date. They have ten straight victories to their credit, and have not, as yet, lost a single game. In most of their games they have won by tremendous scores, and from all reports, they intend to, and probably will, go very far in the coming tournament. Corpus Christi, who always presents a fine squad of fighting boys, also has an enviable record for the season. They also have won all eleven of their victories by very large scores, and have lost but one game, and that to Brimfield by several points margin. Rouff Academy of Jacksonville, a strong contender in all tournaments in past years, is out to cop this time. Of the twenty-one games they have played, eighteen are in the win column. Among their victims was Spalding of Peoria, whom they defeated by a rather large margin. If season records mean anything, Rouff has a fine chance to place in that finals bracket.

Cathedral, Moline, Cairo, Trinity
Cathedral High School of Belleville has won twelve of its sixteen games to date. Although we have little hope on these boys, their record stands and speaks for itself, and they will make plenty of trouble for Trinity whom they meet in their first game next Saturday. St. Mary's of Moline, who advanced far in the tournament last year, is boasting another strong outfit this year and hope to go just a little bit farther in seeking the hardwood laurels. To date, they have won ten games and lost four. St. Joseph's of Cairo, Illinois, will come here with one of the best season's records among all thirteen squads. The southern five boasts fifteen victories, and only two losses in the "red" column. And from Bloomington, comes a miniature "Green Wave"—the Trinity lads. They have gone through a very difficult schedule, but have come out with some brilliant victories, having defeated a strong Spalding five twice, Bloomington High once, and U. High of Normal once. Their record to date lists nine wins against four defeats. With those two wins over Spalding, it appears that the Bloomington boys will come here favorites over the group from Peoria.

St. Pats, Fox Valley, St. Theresa
Puff Romary will bring his St. Pat's boys to the tournament next Friday evening, when, in their first game, they will meet St. Josephs of Cairo. Their record is not, on a par with that of some of the other contenders, but we can expect big things from Puff's boys nevertheless. Fox Valley of Aurora might also be listed among the favorites to cop. They already have the scalps of

DEBATE TEAM IN LARGE TOURNEY

On Friday morning at the early hour of five the debating teams of St. Viator arose and prepared for their advance on the Manchester tournament which began that day. The company included the crack affirmative team composed of John H. Burns, Raymond Wenthe, Ralph Hoover, and the negative team composed of Robert Nolan, Norbert Ellis and Gil Middleton. Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., debating coach accompanied his two teams and acted as judge for several of the debates held during the course of the tournament. The magnitude of the tournament is attested by the fact that there were eighty one teams entered.

Affirmative

The affirmative team was on the forum at eight o'clock Friday morning. Their first opponent was Augustana, Rock Island. The debate was heated despite the early hour. It ended in a victory for the opposing team. Somewhat chastened by their defeat they redoubled their efforts against Butlery of Indianapolis, Indiana and won the decision. The following morning the affirmative, seldom at their best so early in the morning, again suffered defeat—this time at the hands and gestures of Purdue University, LaFayette, Indiana. Again chastened, with the drug of sleep once more removed from their senses they put on the breastplate of outraged justice and met the foe, McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., and vanquished it. The moral of this: even a debater could see it: the early bird wins the debate decisions.

Negative

The negative possessed a plan of their own, and seldom finding one of their opponents felt the need of one in a debate. So they were wont to present it, and found themselves taking over the work of the Affirmative, much to their amazement. Their first debate was with Wilmington Normal College, Ohio. This debate they won easily. Meeting the affirmative of Purdue University, they were defeated. The following three debates with Toledo University, Toledo, Ohio; Bowling Green and Manchester, Indiana; were a succession of Waterloos for the negative.

There was no decision as to who won the tournament. The number of teams entered was so very large and their time so limited that the judges, representing the faculties of almost all the colleges and universities entered, could not ascertain who was entitled to be called the winner. The tournament was a splendid drama of intercollegiate thought and served the purpose of bringing together the best of Middlewest higher education.

DAY-HOPPING

Basketball activities of the study hall have been rudely pushed out of the lime light in favor of a bridge tournament. Ripstra, who incidentally had his hair bobbed, is supervising the affair. Favorites of the tourney are Ryan and Crowley, and Snow and Ripstra with even odds on the latter pair.

It wouldn't be such a dull idea if the winners of the study hall tourney should challenge the champions of Roy Hall for the bridge supremacy of the school.

to represent the farmers in their fight for bigger and better catalogues. O'Connell maintained order at the large mass meeting however, being mistaken for one of the agriculturists, he was politely told to go home and "milk the cows".

It won't be many moons before the league baseball activities will commence. Last fall the day hops made a miserable showing. However, prospects look promising for two classy teams from the study hall.

And while the tournaments are the rage, why not a jig-saw puzzle tourney with tea and cookies served after every hour, the contestants being allowed five hours for each puzzle.

Thanks to Ralph Hoover and Mr. Allen of the Kankakee News, the Independent squad has been receiving commendable praise in that paper, which, we believe, they justly deserve, for the efforts put forth and the fine record they have established on the hardwood.

STUDENTS TEACH IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Students of education who, to fulfill state requirements for secondary school teachers, do practice teaching in the local schools are rather numerous this year. The one student who is completing his work in this line in the college is John McGrath, '33. Mr. McGrath has been an outstanding Latin scholar since he first distinguished himself in that language during his high school days spent at Spalding Institute, Peoria, Illinois. He is now doing practice teaching under Father Sullivan in the Caesar class, 04. Mr. Ralph Hoover, '33, distinguished debater, is in charge of Freshman Public Speaking on Tuesdays with Fr. Williams on Saturday.

Coeds At Convent

Miss Genevieve Adams, '35, has charge of the Fourth graders at the Notre Dame Convent where Miss Agnes Stelter, '35, is teaching English and Miss Ruth Arrington holds forth on History in the high school department. Miss Alice Ryan, '36, is teaching the sixth grade pupils in the village school.

THIRTEEN TEAMS—

Spalding and Fenwick high in their victory belt this season, and can easily duplicate this work in the coming contest. Fox Valley will oppose St. Theresa in their first game in the tourney. St. Theresa of Decatur will find it tough going in their first game against the Valley five, but upsets of any or all kinds are probable in the coming event.

Spalding, St. Joe's, Springfield

Spalding of Peoria who has always played at least up to the finals since the tournament has been held here, comes this year not the favorite that it was in previous years, but nevertheless, a team to be feared at all times. The Peorians will meet Cathedral High of Springfield in their first game. We have not the records of either of these teams for the season, but it is certain that Cathedral will keep their opponents busy in that game to come. St. Joseph of Rock Island is the thirteenth and final entry in the tournament. They have played but nine games this season so far, and have won four of them. They will meet stiff opposition in their first opponent Saturday afternoon.

Well, there you have the entries. All strong contenders, and all possibilities to carry home that Championship cup.
