Viatorian Banquet Held Thursday Eve.

The annual Viatorian Banquet was held in the College refectory Thursday evening, May 29. All who have written for publication in the paper during the past year were in attendance, and proved themselves to be as able as teachers as they are as wielders of the errant typewriter. The youngsters of the staff to whom this treat has been promised all year if they would only burn the well known pot of poleum in the interests of The Cause showed the effects of a year's fasting. Despite the presence of several debaters and a faculty member or two the superfluous verbiage was mainly limited to attaching a Please to requests for "seconds." A sufficient testimony to the quality of the cuisine is the fact that the chef satisfied in one evening, at one sitting the divergent tastes of some score of young men.

Hayden Wins Essay Contest

Mr. James Hayden, 32, of Bloomington, Illinois, was adjudged the winner of the Essay Contest recently conducted by the English Department of the College. Miss Frances M. Clancy, 32, of Kankakee, Illinois, received second honors. The prize winning essays, of the two Sophomores underwent quite a process of elimination before they were finally selected for the awards. Over one hundred essays were submitted upon the subject of 'The Vatican Treaty' and all of them gave evidence of much thought and preparation.

Mr. Hayden's treatment of the subject was very logical and orderly and the introduction of his own personal views made his essay most interesting. Miss Clancy's essay was excellent in its make-up and the judges had a difficult task in deciding the winner. The three judges, Rev. W.J. Bryan, C.S.V. Professor of Apologetics, Bro. Emmett M. Walsh, C.S.V. of the Academy Faculty, and Mr. J. Allen Nolan of the Department of Speech did not know the names of the winners until after they had cast their votes upon the numbered essays. The two winners are to be congratulated upon their success.

Class Elections Are Held

The elections of officers for the various classes for the coming school year has tossed our old friend Politics back among us again. The oncoming Senior Class has selected Lloyd O. Warne to guide it through its final year. Mr. Warne is so well known to the students of St. Viator College as an executive that another review of his accomplishments would be superfluous. As Vice President, they have elected Mr. Robert Tucker. Patrick Cleary will wield the pen as Secretary and hold check over the accounts of the new Treasurer, Lawrence Peter Christman. Joseph Logan will represent his class before the Advisory Board in the office of Delegate.

The Juniors have entrusted themselves to the leadership of Herbert Sher. Herb is well known and liked over the whole campus. Paul O'Malley is the new Vice President, while James Hayden and Clarence Romney endeavor to keep separate the twin offices of Secretary and Treasurer. Don Anderson will be the Junior Advisory Board Delegate.

The Sophomores chose Gill Middleton to succeed Phil Mackey as their leader. Mr. Middleton is well known on the campus for his leadership in class and student activity. Francis Cassidy is the Vice President and Ed Gorman the new Treasurer. A spirited race for the Secretaryship forced rebalancing in which Ed Hunt won over Ray Wen. The Edward Custer will be the class spokesman before the College Club Advisory Board.

Father O'Mahoney Conducts Novena

The Very Rev. J.P. O'Mahoney, Provincial of the Clerics of St. Viator in the United States, conducted a novena to the Little Flower from May 10 to May 15th, at St. John's Beachman's Church in Chicago. The priest at St. John's secured a special relic of the Saint for veneration.

LAST DANCE BIG SUCCESS

Large Crowd Attends

The greater part of the student body attended the last social function of the year on Friday evening, May 16th, when the Juniors and the Seniors held their annual Spring dance in the Gold Room of the Kankakee Hotel. All who danced to the strains of Ray Wolff's Orchestra were very much pleased with the manner in which the whole affair was conducted.

Much credit for the success of this affair must be given to Paul Mills of the Senior Class and Kenneth Clothier of the Junior Class. These two men arranged all the details and spent much valuable time in assuring a pleasant evening for all.

The patrons and the patronesses for this dance were Prof. and Mrs. Clarence J. Kennedy, Prof. and Mrs. Claude D. Ganger, Hon. and Mrs. Henry F. Ruel, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Farmer.

Because of the great amount of enjoyment the student body has received from the dances this year, it is thought that there will be many such entertainments next year.

Viator Delegates At Press Meeting Warne Speaks

The eighth annual convention of the Illinois College Press Association was held in Bloomington on Saturday, May 10, under the auspices of Illinois Wesleyan University. The Convention was well attended, almost all of the twenty-four member schools sending delegations.

The morning sessions were given over to conferences between editors of similar departments on the various College publications of the state. Many questions of mutual interest were discussed, chief among which were the discussions concerning editorial matter and the controversy concerning the splitting of the Little Nineteen.

At a noon dinner held at the Maplewood Country Club, George Taubenack, Sports Editor of the Daily Illini, spoke to the delegates on the ethics and purposes of the editorial page. Jacob T. Hystriouck, Editor of the Pantagraph, awarded the prizes to the outstanding college papers of the year. The Tech of Bradley was awarded Class A first prize, with the Decaturian of James Milkin securing second. In Class B the Papyrus published by the students of Greenville College, took first and second place was awarded to the Rambler.

During the business session held in the afternoon bids for the 1931 Convention were received from Shurtleff, Charleston, and Macomb. The coming meet was finally awarded to Shurtleff College of Alton, Illinois, and Mr. W. Jackson of Shurtleff was elected to the presidency of the association, succeeding Edw. Hahn of Illinois Wesleyan. Mr. J. Trapp of Charleston Normal was elected to the vice presidency to succeed Newel Dailey of Augustana. Following the business session the delegates were entertained in Full Hall Normal.

The delegation from the Viatorian, consisting of Mr. Warne and Mr. Hoover, took a very active part in both the morning and afternoon sessions.

Francis B. Carroll Elected New College Club President; Succeeds Lloyd O. Warne

Holy Name Society to Name New Officers

The Holy Name Society held a meeting the fore part of this week for the purpose of nominating candidates for office in the Society. It will be necessary to elect a new president and a new secretary as the two students who now hold these offices will both be graduated with this year's class. Mr. Raymond Sprague has been the able president of this association for two years while Mr. Thomas Doyle has been the secretary for one year. Both of these men have filled their positions well and it will be a hard task to replace them.

House Campaign Progressing

More Books Distributed

Very Rev. J.W.R. Maguire, C.S.V., President of the College, has been in Ottawa and Chicago on the past three Sundays in the interests of the House Campaign now being conducted by the College and he reports that he has been quite successful in distributing many books of tickets. While in Chicago, Father Maguire spoke at the Church of the Presentation and at St. Charles.

Labor Heads Help

Several of the officers of the American Federation of Labor in Chicago have offered their services for the Campaign and have taken it upon themselves to distribute a quantity of the books and to secure donations. These men have organized teams for this purpose and their assistance will be very valuable.

Clubwomen Assist

Miss William A. Sauer, of Chicago, gave a luncheon for several prominent clubwomen at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago on Saturday, May 17th, with the intention of securing further aid for the House Campaign. Father Maguire was the speaker of the afternoon and gave a brief account of his purpose in launching this drive for funds for the College. His talk was enthusiastically received and those present gave evidence of their support by subscribing for several books.

Noted Instructor Again at Viator

The return of Father Bergin has secured a valuable addition to the college faculty. As the founder of the debating society that bears his name, as an alumnus of the college as one of its former teachers and as its president in 1922, Father Bergin is well known to most Viator students. For some time past he has been conducting a class in Apologetics at the University of Illinois. At present he is teaching the same subject here on Mondays and Saturdays, and devoting the remainder of his time to his duties at the University. He is extended a most cordial welcome by the student body through the columns of The Viatorian.

Four Members of Class of '31, and Three of Class of '32 Make Clean Sweep of All Offices

Francis B. Carroll of Chicago, Illinois, was elected as the new President of the College Club last Thursday, May 5th, when the annual election of officers was held in the College Club rooms. Mr. Carroll will succeed Mr. Warne, who has so ably fulfilled the duties in the year just past. Mr. Carroll defeated Don Anderson, also of Chicago.

Kenneth Clothier, nosed out Joseph Logan in a close race for the vice-presidency while Martin Toohill beat Charles Clifford for the position of treasurer. A three-cornered race developed in the competition for the position of secretary. Mr. Robert Tucker emerging victorious over William Todd and Paul O'Malley. Burke Monahan defeated Patrick Cleary for delegate to the College Council and Herb Shea won over Vincent Morrissey for the position of alternate. Clarence Romney running without opposition for the office of alternate to the President as Ex Officio Member of the College Council was of course, easily returned, winning receiving a large complimentary vote.

Many Votes Cast

Interest in the election was high and the vote was especially heavy, almost one hundred ballots being cast. The men nominated were all men of proven ability, there being little difference between candidates. In consequence we feel that the College Club may expect a full year of useful activity.

Mr. Carroll the new President is a member of the class of '31. He is known on the campus both as an athlete and as a scholar. He is a man who understands Viator men and Viatorian customs and therefore is well fitted for the position of leadership to which he has been elected.

Mr. Carroll has an able lieutenant in the person of Mr. Clothier, who like himself is of the class of '31. Since coming here three years ago, Mr. Clothier has won for himself an enviable record as an athlete and as a leader of the student body. His class recognizing his worth a year ago elected him to its presidency, a position he has filled worthily.

Toohill Holds Purse

One of the greatest trusts in the power of anyone to place in the abilities of another is to charge him with the keeping of the mutual funds. The office of Treasurer to which Mr. Toohill has been elected is indicative of the confidence of the student body in his ability and integrity. Marty is a member of the class of '32, whose President he has been for the past year.

To Mr. Tucker of the oncoming Senior Class will be entrusted the books of the Club. Mr. Tucker too is an old son of Viator, being in his third year here.

As its representative in the College Council, the governing board of the institution, the Club has selected Mr. Monahan Furke, who has only been

AN APPRECIATION.

Within a very few weeks another graduation exercise will be held at Viator and another group of young men will transfer their allegiance to the ranks of the Alumni. Perhaps because we are Freshmen we do not fully appreciate the significance of this great event in their lives, but we must say that we realize the fact that we are going to be minus some very fine friends when we return to this campus next fall. Like all good Freshmen are supposed to do, we have admired and appreciated the friendship of the members of the Senior Class all during our short time here, and we have found that they are more than is required of dignified Seniors. They have taught us the value of friendship and they have shown us the path that we are to follow.

They have never allowed themselves to snub our humble attempts at conversation and neither have they been severe in their treatment of us. It has indeed been a pleasure to associate with a Class that is composed of excellent scholars, mannerly gentlemen, and famous athletes, and it is our one great desire that we may be able to come up to the standard set by them.

We are not going to imitate Deans and graduation speakers by prophesying of the great success that will come to each member of this year's Senior Class because we have not the slightest doubt that each will reach the goal set by him. We only hope that some day it may again be our privilege to know those who are to be the clergymen and the business men of tomorrow.

THE ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Commendation is the word which may, in all justice, be applied to the efforts of the participants in the Oratorical Contest recently held at St. Viator College. All of the speeches dealt with a topic vital to every American—the Constitution of the United States. Each speech was prepared by the speaker himself—and well prepared!

The content of each speech was very well fitted to the subject. The Constitution and its relation to American youth was logically dealt with, although the speaker admitted his viewpoint to be illogical as it conflicted with certain theological principles. This admission merely strengthened the discussion.

The Constitution and Constitutional Guarantees was excellently handled, its author winning first place. The Constitutional guarantee of religious liberty was stressed. By a dramatic comparison of the religious situation of Russia with that of the United States the speaker powerfully emphasized this point.

This contest deserves more than mere mention because of the sparsity of the number of contestants. Approximately one hundred and fifty students are numbered upon the registrar's books at St. Viator. Of this number, only six possessed the grit and the courage to get to work to prepare a real treatise on this subject of the Constitution. Speech is more important in America to day than it ever has been in the history of the world. Good salesmanship, a modern requisite demands perfected speech. This contest offered you an opportunity for development in this art. Did you take advantage of it? If not, why not? You are not the perfect salesman, perchance, are you? If you are, why didn't you compete in a contest like this one? Too much work? You're not a true Viatorian if you fail when some task like this faces you. For next year let's resolve to enter the Oratorical Contest and to do our best for ourselves and for our Alma Mater! Perhaps we might be able to gain recognition in the national contest.

Alumni Notes.

Francis C. Cleary, High School, 21, recently sailed for the Hawaiian Islands and China in the interests of his employers, the Richard Hudnut Corporation. Mr. Cleary has traveled extensively for this company during the past few years. In 1927 he was in Asia, in 1928 he visited the West Indies and Central America and in 1929 he traveled through Ecuador, Bolivia and Columbia in South America.

The Methe Wolf Company of Chicago has announced the appointment of Mr. John A. Monahan '04 as a special sales representative of their company.

An informal meeting of three prominent Alumni was held in the office of the President of the College on April 25th when Fathers T. E. Shea of Peoria, J. P. Farrell of Bloomington and James Fitzgerald of Womung, Illinois visited the College.

The Trinity High School baseball team of Bloomington, Illinois, coached by Father J. P. Farrell, 23, boasts of winning twenty-four consecutive ball games during the past three seasons. Father Farrell will be remembered as a pitcher of note during his college days.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception at Waukegan, Illinois, which has been built through the efforts of Rev. Francis J. Shea, 15, was dedicated with elaborate ceremonies on Sunday, May 11th by His Eminence George Cardinal Mundelein.

Rev. Joseph Jansen, Academy 21, sang his first Solenn High Mass on Sunday, May 11th in the Church of the Precious Blood, Western Avenue and Congress Street, Chicago.

Father Jansen was born in Nyamegen, Holland in 1902. He came to Chicago in 1911 and in 1917 he entered the Academy here. He took his philosophy at St. Norbert's College at West De Pere, Wis., and his theology at St. Francis Seminary, St. Francis, Wis. He received minor orders on June 11th, 1928, subdiaconate on June 14th, 1929, and deaconate September 23rd, 1929. He was ordained to the holy priesthood on Wednesday, May 7th, in St. Francis Cathedral, Green Bay, Wis., consistorially.

Father Jansen said Mass at the College on Saturday, May 10th and imparted his blessing upon the student body.

Mr. Leo Dee, 26, will be ordained priest in St. Mary's Cathedral at Peoria on Monday, June 30th. Bishop Elmer Schlagermann, who will be enthroned on June 24th, will perform the consecration ceremonies. Mr. Dee received his theology at St. Paul's in Minnesota. His many friends, especially his former classmates, join with the faculty and student body in wishing him a fruitful career in his chosen field.

OBITUARY

We extend our sympathies to Prof. and Mrs. Henri J. Deolung in the recent loss of their nineteen months old son, Tommy. The little child died Sunday night, May 11th, in St. Mary's Hospital in Kankakee after a short illness. The funeral was held Tuesday at Evanston, Illinois. Burial was in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Campus Briefs.

You will please have to excuse it if you should happen to see any Freshmen sitting in the shade of a lonely tree with pencil and paper in hand. No, they're not writing poetry—just fulfilling English assignments. With this wonderful Spring weather, you can just imagine how the finished products will look. We pity the poor professor who has to read them.

Golf according to our eminent President is "a hoof and mouth disease." If this be so, then there is quite an epidemic around here. The students are not the only sufferers—but we won't mention any names. Didn't we see some of the faculty dressed in white knickerbockers all set for a big afternoon? We are hoping for a speedy recovery.

Speaking of golf—Jav Watson found a pair of short pants somewhere and decided to try the game. He wasn't satisfied with plowing up the football field, so he paid a dollar to dub his way around a real course. When he returned he had the nerve to claim a 9x. Don't let him fool you as I happened to be with him. (This isn't breaking my promise, is it, Jav?)

Believe it or not—Cedric Gibbons claims that he has never been off his feet. One Wood, after being discharged from a hospital, played six successive games of basketball for dear old Clinton High. Ed Hunt will sing any song on the market for a mere cigarette. Ralph Hoover admits that he is a brilliant, smart, intelligent, gifted genius. Pete Veitoskae was seen at breakfast the other morning. Mooney bought some cigarettes at last. And Culkins did not get a letter from Chatsworth last Tuesday.

The main discussion—the burning topic about the campus at present concerns the final exams. Hamilton, Christman, and Curnoy are so excited that they have been giving up two of their customary eighteen hours of sleep trying to find a way to escape the approach of this bugaboo.

By the way, our Seniors are walking about our campus one would really think that they were in deep thought. However, we can assure the readers of this column that they are in mere silent meditation.

The Corporation of Brown and Mills will cease to exist on June 4th, 1930. The whole student body is invited to attend a farewell get-together in the B and M's pretentious lodgings. Amusements of all kinds will be had and all stock that is left over will be given to the student body in return for their hearty and generous patronage throughout the scholastic year.

In a recent Incipient Philosophers' Convention held on the Second Corridor, Mr. James Hayden of Bloomington, Illinois, was elected President of the 1930-31 Class of Incipient Philosophers. Congratulations, Jim!

George McGuire, famous Irish dare devil, has been chosen inspector of the second corridor. Someone may ask, "Inspector of what?" We can only answer—General Inspector.

Eddie O'Neil, Captain of the Champion Indoor Football team, wishes to use this column to thank the members and hearty cohorts of his team. Captain O'Neil states that he expects to have a bigger and better season next year.

The occupants of 204 wish to proclaim "Aboo" Weber, the playboy of the Second. If anyone wishes enlightenment on the subject, let him see Peter L. N. Christman and he will endeavor to explain "Aboo's" playfulness.

THE CRITIQUE

May 12th, 1930

Dear Editor

At this early date there has already been some campus chatter concerning the 1930 football season and the games scheduled so far. Now the dope is that Viator will have a well organized team in the 1930 Little Nineteen championship race, if present indications have any bearing upon the subject. Now, why wouldn't it be possible for the students to start a little "whispering campaign" this summer about the merits of Viator's night football games? This publicity wouldn't cost anything and would be a real boost to the athletic association. Why wouldn't it also be possible to erect a small signboard in front of Marsile Hall telling about the 1930 schedule? Such a piece of advertising wouldn't cost much and would be a big help in telling the world about Viator. Wouldn't it be great if every one got out and boosted 1930 football for Viator this summer? Then the team would know that they have some real backing and would be able to put up a better fight against their opponents. Well Ed, do you suppose that such a scheme would do any good? Let's have some more campus chatter about it.

Yours truly

AN OBSERVER

May 10th 1930

Dear Editor

I have always thought that every man had his favorite sport but while walking about the campus this spring I noted that several of the boys weren't doing anything in particular. Evidently there is a great need for some sport to keep such boys busy. On registration day next September why wouldn't it be possible to inquire as to just what sports each student likes? Then a regular schedule could be drafted and a round of sports, both indoor and outdoor, could be played all during the scholastic year. True a good beginning has been made in the Senior basketball and baseball leagues but there are some boys who are not interested in either of these sports. I do not believe that it is fair to allow just a few to use the big gym when everyone has a right to its use. It is the duty of the College to see that each student should receive his share of a physical as well as a mental education. The time is ripe to embark upon a complete program of intra-mural sports. Let's begin right now to think this over.

Yours truly

JUST A FROSH

Dear Editor

After viewing crowds at the various athletic contests of the year it seems that St. Viator College stands in urgent need of a publicity department. After having lived within one hundred miles of the institution for eighteen years I had heard of the place only twice—once as a name in a summary of Little Nineteen sports and once as the conqueror of Illinois Wesleyan—through the medium of their publication. I had no idea of the location, size or advantages offered by the College. Of Bradlev Wesleyan Millikin even Wheaton and Augustana I had heard much—principally, I believe, because they did not commit their sports to the mercies of the various news services alone. If one of the aforementioned schools had a big game coming up we heard of it—and we received not only pregame write-ups, but pre-season stories with outlook and forecasts not only covering the Conference as a whole but the supplying school in particular. The stories were mimeographed and consequently inexpensive. If we choose to use them well and good if we did not the school lost only a few cents—four or five at the most. Newspapers are often pressed for

Oratorical Contest Won by Keckish

On the evening of May 23 the annual Oratorical Contest of St. Viator College was held in the College Club rooms. Walter Keckish of Whiting, Indiana, a Junior in the College of Arts and Letters won first honors. Speaking in true oratorical fashion and with a remarkable polish of expression he well deserved the honors which he won. He has the much coveted ability to appeal to the emotions of audiences. The subject of his speech was 'Constitutional Guarantees' the speaker paying particular attention to the Bill of Rights. Mr. Keckish drew a striking contrast between the miserable state of Soviet Russia which governs the people rather than being an instrument of government and the freedom which exists in the United States, and is guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

John Hundman of Bloomington, Illinois and a Freshman in the College of Arts was awarded second honors. Mr. Hundman spoke on the Constitution and the Supreme Court. He has a pleasant quiet voice and gives the impression of speaking to the individual rather than to an audience. Mr. Thomas Doyle of Fort Wayne, Indiana, a Senior in the Commercial school gave a very concise speech dealing with the defects of the Constitution which consists in having a government too centralized which as a consequence loses touch with the individual. Eugene DesLaurens of Kankakee, another Freshman explained the ideals of American youth gained through contact with the Constitution. By granting privileges and prohibiting others from encroaching upon these privileges and by reducing the number of actual prohibitions to a minimum the Constitution has won the respect of our young men and women. Ralph Hoover of Hoopeston, Illinois, a debater of merit gave a logical and concise speech dealing with the restrictions placed upon freedom of press in this country. A noticeable factor in Mr. Hoover's delivery was his perfect ease and naturalness of speech and gesture. The last speaker of the evening was Mr. William Gibbons of Minonk, Illinois, also a Freshman. He gave an admirable account of himself while dealing with a particularly difficult subject for oratory—The Frame of the Constitution.

We were privileged to have with us as judges three local members of the bar. They were the Honorable Anker Jensen, Thomas A. Sawyer and Victor Cardoso.

A large crowd composed chiefly of students attended the contest and was provided with an evening of enlightenment and pleasure. These contests afford an excellent opportunity for the development of speaking ability and are to be given every encouragement.

fillers and are always glad to use canned stuff sports in particular. A very concrete example of the inefficiency of which I speak was the attendance at the football games of last fall and the Homecoming game in particular. A high school in our section of the state experimented with night football widely advertising the fact through the medium which I advocate. They were not exceptionally well known, their opposition was negligible and the population of the town is about six thousand. The attendance more than equalled the population—and I mean paid attendance. Viator tried night football—a college eleven—the opposing team was De Paul, widely known and respected. We are located close to a city of twenty thousand inhabitants and in a well populated district, we are playing our homecoming game and there were no counter attractions. I am noted for my

Class of '33 Scores in All School Events Have Done Their Share for Viator

In looking over the accomplishments of the past year it is very evident that the Freshman Class has been more than well represented in all scholastic and campus activities. On the athletic field the Freshmen have made a fair better showing than classes of previous Frosh. The following constitutes a general review on the subjects in which they have been most interested.

SPORTS

On the gridiron four fighting representatives came to the front for sweaters. They were Francis Cassidy, Edward Hunt, William Gibbons and Vincent Mooney.

The class was also honored with their quota of cagers. The letter men in this activity were Francis Cassidy, Jerome Holscher, Ralph Kari and James Laffey.

The swimming team consisted of five men, two of which were members of the Freshman Class. Ken Vaillencourt and Dan O'Connor were the two fledgling water dogs.

The Senior League basketball championship was won by Jim Hunt's Broken Diums. This team was composed entirely of Freshmen.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

The class has also shouldered their share of work in the publication of The Viatorian. The two hard working students who have helped to make this paper a success are Ralph Hoover and Gill Middleton.

Although the debating team was composed of veterans who possessed quite a bit of experience in forensic ability, the Freshmen managed to gain one place on the team. Ralph Hoover was the representative in this activity.

Aside from these extracurricular activities, the Freshmen Class has made an excellent showing in scholastic achievements. The names of the five Frosh who succeeded in making the Honor Roll for the first semester were Kenneth Bushman, Carl Lampe, Paul LaMontagne, Gill Middleton and Kenneth Vaillencourt.

At the present time the Freshmen are holding their own on the baseball field. The names of the following men have already appeared in the various lineups: James Hunt, James Laffey, Phil Mackey, Vincent Mooney, Robert Pombert and Oliver Woods. The Freshmen comprise three of the four members of the pitching staff.

In summing up the results of the Freshman activities for 1929-1930, it can be plainly seen that this class has lived up to it not excelled all past traditions of active Freshman classes. With the above summary as an example it will not be necessary to foretell of the accomplishments of the Class of '33 for the coming three years.

Memorial Day Observed

In order that the student body of the institution might more fittingly keep Memorial Day, the Rev. Father Maguire, C. S. V. President of St. Viator College, arranged a program of observance for the day. The services opened with a Solemn High Mass sung on the porch of Marsile Hall. The address of the day was given by Brother Raymond M. Boyesen, an orator of great ability. A firing squad from Company L of Kankakee fired a salute over the rows of white crosses, each of which denoted a man given from St. Viator to the service of his country, and a bugler sounded Taps.

The following ten answers have all been contributed by members of the Class of 1933.

Questions: What do you intend to do this summer?

Are you coming back to Viator next fall?

Hart Bassana, Kinsman, Illinois

I intend to work on the hard road down at Chatworth this summer and near Dwight, Illinois this coming summer. Yes, I'll probably be back to Viator next fall.

Charles A. Culkins, Chatsworth, Ill.

I intend to go back to the old farm down at Chatworth this summer and help my dad. As for coming back to Viator next fall that's already answered. I wouldn't miss that meeting on the corner of Court and Schuyler next registration day for anything.

Herbert C. Feuerborn, Effingham, Ill.

No doubt this summer will be spent at hard labor in order to provide sufficient funds to carry on my schooling. Whether or not I will return to Viator next fall is a question still unanswered. If I go any place at all it will be to Viator's.

Eugene Gibson, Effingham, Ill.

It would not be possible to place a summary of my proposed actions for this summer in such a short space. Two months of hard work with a public utility company and a month's trip through the West will occupy most of my vacation. The longer one goes to Viator, the better he likes it, and as a result I will probably return next fall.

Edward W. Gorman, Manteno, Ill.

Geed but this is an embarrassing question to answer. For to tell the truth I might not do anything this summer. However, I am contemplating going back to the farm and working for my father. In this way I will be able to build up my physique for the coming year's strenuous work at Viator. Yes, I intend to return to Viator next fall because I rather like the environment. You see my home is the next town north.

Robert Hull, Burnside, Ill.

My vacation job for the coming summer is banking. At this noble work I hope to collect enough capital (not samples) to pay for my schooling the following year. It is undecided as yet whether I will continue my schooling or not but if I do I think that I will return to 'dear old Viator'.

Alvin F. Lahr, Chicago, Ill.

What do I intend to do this summer? I've given much consideration to the subject and I've solved it completely. Summer school will take up most of my time and the balance shall be days of leisure. Sorry as I am to say it I'll not be back to Viator next fall. I intend to secure my future knowledge at the Armour Technical Institute in Chicago.

Edwin Long, Wilmington, Ill.

I shall probably engage in hard labor at the beginning of this summer. After a few weeks of this kind of labor I'll take up my annual job of being a cashier at some of the respectable race tracks. The money that I receive from this job will of course help me to finish my college education. When one goes to Viator even for only a few months, he is sure of returning the following fall.

Hipolito Monserrate, Porto Rico

I had intended to go home this summer but realizing that too much money would be spent, I decided to stay with my brother in Chicago. In this way I can work and save enough money to come back to Viator next fall.

LESSON ONE

Perhaps the easiest, surest and most effective way to make an enemy is to antagonize a policeman. This process requires but little effort and affords both amusement and satisfaction to the thrill seeker.

The first step depends largely upon the time and the conditions. Choose a time when the policeman, on whom you intend to perpetrate this little joke is standing in the center of the intersection of a very busy corner. When the officer signals for the north and south bound traffic to move gently ignore the signal by crossing from east to west and politely tip your hat as you whiz past him. While the policeman is giving you a detailed and eloquent description of yourself and your type in general, think of page four in your family album and laugh loudly. Most likely the officer will open his mouth in surprise at this outburst. Then take advantage of the situation. Thrust a lighted loaded cigar into his mouth, lean back in a restful condition (parking your feet on the dashboard) and wait for results. If nothing goes wrong the explosion should occur as the flat-foot is laboriously reading the front license plate. The ensuing cloud of smoke will be your signal to set the car in a forward motion, thus adding injury to insult. At this stage of the affair act in the following manner: leap from the car, run back to the injured policeman and in a commanding voice demand an apology from him. From then on you may be sure that you have at least one enemy in this world.

As a natural outcome of the preceding event you will receive an excellent opportunity to make yourself an enemy of yourself. Do not let the fact that you must appear before a police magistrate affect your determined spirit. Be nonchalant, produce a Murad and ask the judge for a match. Do not become discouraged if you are reprimanded for contempt of court but act to the following procedure: light the Murad, draw deeply and blow smoke into the magistrate's face. Shake the ashes down the guard's neck, drop the cigarette upon the floor and order the police captain to step on it. Strange events will follow but they will only help you to attain your purpose and to act as a proof to the fact that you have been successful in making your self an enemy of yourself.

One of the best and most befitting ways of bringing a career of this kind to its conclusion is to openly defy the Dean upon your return to school at the termination of your prison sojourn. Enter his office with a bottle of gin in your right hand and a sack of peanuts in your left hand. Take a drink, but be sure to offer His Honor one first. While the Dean is in the very act of expelling you from the institution, attain the climax by pouring the contents of the bottle upon the highly varnished floor of his office.

Taking all things into consideration, you will find the entire process simple and easy to follow. We recommend this process because of the inspiring fact that the desired results follow the actions in perfect sequence. Furthermore we guarantee that if the directions are closely followed just once you will never forget either the directions or the results.

Vincent Mooney, Gibson City, Ill.

No kidding. I had an offer from the Prundage Carnival Company to go with their show this summer as a boxer. But I think that I'll stick close to the farm until the hay fever gets me, then I'll probably have to go North for a while. If I come through this trying ordeal all right I will undoubtedly come back to Viator next fall all set for a big year.

VIATORIANA

Forword—If you can't laugh at the jokes of the age, laugh at the age of the jokes

It was one of those cold, raw November days that the East knows so well. A Roman pageant was being given near New York. On the second day an elderly but enthusiastic maiden lady hied herself over from the nearby town where she was staying to "view the works."

As she approached the scene of activity, she encountered one of the outposts of the pageant, tall, skinny, rawboned countryman, bare armed, clad only in a tunic of flimsy muslin.

"Oh, sir," cried the lady, clasping her hands in an ecstasy of enthusiasm as she addressed the blue-lipped, shivering Roman, "Are you Appius Claudius?"

"'Appy as Claudius'" responded the man, his teeth fairly chattering, "No, Mam, I'm un'appy as 'ell."

"Lot's wife had nothing on me," said the convict as he turned to a pile of stone.

"That can't be right"

Chapter 12

A Glimpse Into the Crystal

In some one of his choice "Operas" the premier philosopher of mediaeval scholasticism is said to have made the casual remark that women are not at all strong on ratiocination. And the star performer for the Hellenic high lights is credited with a statement even more impressive. Somewhere or other in his biological survey he arrives at the conclusion that women have not even a scull. Other ancient savants who were not at all lacking in cerebral development corroborate this assertion by similar remarks deprecating toward the weaker vessel. In fact one hindoo ascetic is credited with circulating a rumor that the first man asked his Creator to take back the companion given him because one week of her was more than he could stand. Whether such rumors are true or not is not for us to say, but they at least lead up to a remark we will here discuss. A few days ago the ring leaders of this Freshman number came up with an address like this. Now listen here. Isn't there some way in which you can end up that crazy story this time. The way it has been dragging out one would think it was written by an old woman. Now this just goes to show the depth of ignorance into which the average college man can fall—that they could even conceive of a Russian novel finishing itself in a few odd chapters. Why anyone in the slightest way acquainted with the nature of Russian literature would at once recognize the absurdity of such a remark. Finishing a Russian novel in less than two volumes is like draining the ocean with a tea-spoon. It is of course beyond the realms of even purely metaphysical possibility. Nevertheless, though such a course is not open to us, it does not necessarily follow that all other expedients are likewise withdrawn. We do not propose to leave the reader in total ignorance concerning the fate of Ivan Ivan—that imperturbable hero of the chivalry. Put on the contrary, we have ingeniously devised a classical method by which the entire panorama of contemplating Ivan's colorful career may be revealed to us with all the glamour, splendor and eclat that such summary glimpses naturally convey. The occult and mystical device that we are having recourse to in order to present in vivid flashes Ivan's wayward and checkered career is none other than the ancient cult of crystal gazing, trained in the accoutrements of the East Indian Fakir. We make bold to address the portentous crystal in which Ivan Ivan's destiny lies revealed before us.

Our first glimpse presents an enshrouded glass which of course represents the nothingness out of which Ivan originated. Slowly however the clouded crystal clarifies and the dispiriting enshroudings form themselves into letters spelling out the moral of the story. Those who have studied the underlying current of thought which motivates the action of the characters will have already arrived at the realization that it smacks of fatalism. We make no bones of the matter. It is determinism pure and simple without affection or dissimulation. And the moral of our tale is simply this: "that every man who kicks against fate will get it in the end."

Another glimpse of the crystal reveals Ivan in his infancy. What a splendid little babe he is, quite like young Hercules, himself in the very act of choking the serpent. He hangs and sways on his nurse's superstitious like young Tarzan of the grapes reaching out for a choice bunch of mulberries. A gleeful almost dissipated look suffuses his face, like that of a young inebriate, at the height of his first spree, and enjoying it immensely. Now his mother takes up the infant prodigy and carries him to the bathroom (Censor here please). There upon immersing him in the water she discovers to her surprise that he floats—with consummate unconcern, he paddles lazily around on the surface of the water—and then his mother realizes the great truth—that Ivan is 99.44/100 per cent genius—and that he will ever keep his head up among the highest in the turbulent struggle of life.

The crystal once more clouds itself and then opening again reveals another picture—Ivan in childhood. What a bouncing battling boy he is. His eyes peer out like a meditative codfish in the act of contemplating infinity. He has a kind face. (You know what kind). And his chin seems to have given up the struggle halfway down—though nature has certainly been generous enough with locomotive appendages. His mother has just caught him in the pantry. "Ivan," she says, "why is it that you always eat my doughnuts after coming home from school?" Well, you know. Mother, the ingenious boy replies, "a home run is never good unless you touch the plate." Mother and son both laugh embrace each other fondly and then the picture fades.

The next picture is of Ivan at college. Alone he sits in his room and like the average college student pores intently over his books. He reads for a few minutes then covers up his head and thinks profoundly. During these moments he confesses his brain becomes as a burning cauldron. Ideas in profusion flash and seethe in his mind and chain themselves up to such an extent that Ivan advances far beyond the knowledge conveyed by his author. Now he reads a few lines more and repeats the process. It is thus, Ivan declares, that we should always study. If we cannot go beyond the reasoning advanced by the author, then science indeed shall make no progress. Weighty words and old reading, the innate genius of the lad. But let us inspect the books before him. On the desk lies "No matter never mind" by Davy Hume. Let us hope the lad is not corrupted by such skeptical speculations. On the bed are a few novels. She stoops to crank her by Ford and "A Little Greek" being an autobiography of Aristotle. In his hand Ivan holds that infamous study of civilization "The Rise and Fall of a Roaming Vampire" by P. Joyce Hopkins. "Read Joyce and rejoice," murmurs Ivan as he reads a few lines more of the work, and then snuffing the candle and covering up his head once more continues his studying.

Still another view gives us Ivan at the height of his fame as a tennis idol. With what reckless abandon and amazing audacity he sends the white pellet skimming over the net, and swerving into a dark corner of the court. Every eye looks with adoration upon that grunt figure as with unrelenting tenacity he wears the French invaders into a state of complete exhaustion. It is on record that no man has been able to last out a set with Ivan at the maddening pace he sets for them. A man without extraordinary physical stamina is doomed to inevitable and disgraceful failure. Only a week ago he drove Cochet to such an extremity of exhaustion that he collapsed on the court. This glimpse reveals Ivan as the undisputed master of the tennis world.

And now romance enters into Ivan's life. It is at the Grand Palace of exotic Spain Ivan as a guest of the Prince of Castile stands at a remote corner of the ballroom, languidly leaning on a marble pillar much after the manner of the Apollo Sauroctonus and indifferently surveys the lightly dancing

Scholarship Offered to Viator Student

St. Viator's College students interested in aeronautics will have an opportunity to compete for four scholarships with a total tuition value of $7,100 offered by W. L. Boeing, an outstanding figure in American aviation. Notice of the establishment of these scholarships which are effective at the Boeing School of Aeronautics at Oakland, California, has been received by the administrative officials of St. Viator College.

The first award, the W. L. Boeing Master Pilot Ground School and Flying Scholarship, is a nine months course covering 203 hours of flying and 122 hours of ground school instruction. Second award is the Boeing Master Mechanic course consisting of nine months of instruction. The third award is the Boeing Master Pilot Ground School course with nine months of instruction and the fourth award is the Boeing Private Pilot course requiring from two to four months of ground and flight instruction.

Any undergraduate student including the 1930 graduating class is eligible as a candidate.

Candidates must have maintained scholastic standing to classify them in the upper one third of their class for the entire period of their enrollment. The candidates must write an essay on one of the following subjects: "Aviation's Contribution to Internationalism," "The Development of Air Transportation and its Possibilities," "The Development of Safety Features on Established Air Transport Lines."

The essays which must reach the Boeing School by June 9 will be judged by a National Committee Award composed of prominent educators and leaders in the aeronautical industry.

The Boeing School of Aeronautics, associated with the Boeing aeronautical companies including the Boeing Airplane Company at Seattle and the Boeing System operators of the Seattle, Los Angeles and San Francisco-Chicago air mail express and passenger routes.

Full details of the Boeing scholarship competition may be obtained from the administrative offices or from the Boeing School of Aeronautics, Oakland Airport, Oakland, California.

Couples suddenly the dancers disperse, the lights turn to a garish red, and forth unto the floor comes a fugitive arrayed in a costume of old Castile, swaying lightly to soft music, and whirling around as if dancing upon the clouds. Ivan's eyes light up, his face takes on the animation of extreme excitement and he repeats to himself the words, "Lo! She doth teach the candle to burn bright. See! how she hangs upon the cheek of night—as a rare jewel in an Ethiop's ear." Then, unconscious of all that goes on about him and oblivious of his friends, he steps unto the floor to concert with his faithful partner in rendering the dance. He will not soon forget the beauty of the scene as those two young figures executed with perfect grace the intricacies of the Argentine Tango.

Trip DeKalb 17 to 7

The DeKalb Teachers were the fourth straight victim to fall before the onslaught of the slugging Viator team on Wednesday, May 7th when the Pedagogues were completely humiliated by a 17 to 7 score. Phil Mackey, the Galesburg speed ball artist, started his first Little Nineteen game and gave the fans a good exhibition of the art of pitching. Phil fanned six of the visitors and contributed to the large score by collecting a triple and a single. The Viatorians were able to aggregate 19 hits while the Teachers were held to 7.

Weber started the fireworks in the first inning by slamming out a long triple, and crossed the rubber when Laffey singled to left. From then on there was but little doubt as to which was the better team. Romary duplicated Weber's act in the fourth by stopping on third after a long hit. The high lights of the game came in the seventh inning when Mackey tripled. Woods hit for the circuit and Weber planted the ball in deep center field for four bases.

The locals seemed to be having a great deal of fun by making the poor outfielders sweat all during the game. Numerous long hits and flies were poked out to the fence at regular intervals.

Although DeKalb came with the reputation of being an undefeated team and a strong contender for the championship their playing was very erratic and four marks were put in the error column against them. Their first pitcher, Thompson, lasted until the first out of the fourth inning when he was relieved by Martin. The right fielder, Things, didn't go so well with Mr. Martin and he was replaced in the fifth by Pace, who finished the game.

After the Viatorians had a large margin stowed away, McAllister gave two Frosh infielders a chance to show their wares by inserting them into the game. Jim Hunt went in for Todd at second and Hart Bassana took Romary's place at the hot corner. In the eighth, Bill Hamilton went in for Pombert in left field.

McAllister Attends Little 19 Meet

Coach Sam McAllister attended the track and field meet of the Little Nineteen schools at Bradley Field in Peoria on May 25th. A conference was also held for the various coaches at which many problems and grievances were aired. Bradley won the twentieth annual games with a total of 33 points. Viator was not entered in the meet this year.

Viatormen Beat Elmhurst 7-4

Todd Allows Three Hits

Viator opened their home season with an easy victory over Elmhurst College 7 to 4 on May 1st. The game was not as hard fought as the score would indicate for Todd only allowed three hits while his teammates collected ten. However, it was a costly victory insofar as Pombert, Elvard, the flashy little second baseman, wrenched his knee sliding into second base after his third hit of the game.

Viator scored four runs in the first inning. Elvard singled to left. Wood fanned. Weber doubled to left. Elvard pulling up at third. Laffey singled to left scoring Elvard. Weber hitting third. The umpire allowed Weber to score when the Elmhurst catcher left his box. Carney walked. Romary singled to center scoring Laffey. Carney tried to score on a short over throw but was out at the plate. Romary taking second. Pombert singled to left scoring Romary. Ahearn walked. Todd was thrown out by the pitcher.

The Irish scored two more runs in the second. Elvard singled to right and stole second. Wood doubled to right scoring Elvard and went to third on a wild pitch. Haas made a nice catch of Weber's foul but Wood scored after the catch. Laffey and Carney grounded to short.

Elmhurst scored two runs in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Hamilton scored the final run of the game for Viator in the eighth after he had taken Elvard's place. Tommy Art Ahearn caught a fine game and succeeded in working Elmhurst's two pitchers for three passes.

Viator Batsmen Pound Out Win Over Wheaton

The boys from Bourbonnais notched up their second home victory of the 1930 diamond season on Saturday, May 31st when they tripped the nine from Wheaton College by an 8 to 1 score. The Saints routed the visitors 11 to 9 and gave them some pointers on the fine parts of the game by executing two neat double plays. The Todd Wood-Weber combination secured both of these. Todd playing second in the place of the injured Elvard, started the fireworks both times by scooping hot bouncers up from the dusty diamond. Bob Pombert, former Academy pitcher, made ace worked hard all through the game and deserved the win.

Although Orvis, Wheaton's pitcher, was a little wild at times, his team mates put up a better fight than the box score would indicate. Evans and Anderson, Wheatonite outfielders, were each able to trip Pombert for two hits while only two of their aggregation went hitless.

Pete Christmas supplanted Ahearn at the backstop position while the latter exalted in the sun field. Laffey and Carney, both former Chicago Cubs, high school stars, carefully watched the other outfield positions. Weber, Laffey and Todd connected for two hits apiece while Pombert was the only Viatorian who was unable to sock the pill. Romary and Christmas bombarded Orvis for two successive doubles in the eighth.

Award Senior League Medals

Jim Hunt's Broken Drums, champions of the Intramural League in basketball, are the recipients of the emblems of their prowess—engraved silver basketballs—which make excellent watch charms. The members of the team are J. Hunt, Ray Wenthe, Hart Bassana, Phil Mackey, Vincent Mooney and Francis Larkin. Werner Salg received the medal for free throws, and Jim Hunt had the additional honor of receiving the high point medal.

Rain Spoils Another Game

For the second time this season the weather has forced the Irish to cancel a regularly scheduled contest. This time it was with Coach Art Hill's Wesleyan Titans at Bloomington. The locals were aching for a chance to break even with the Methodists and were much disappointed when wet grounds prevented them from doing so. Because the end of the season is but a few days off, there will be no attempt made to play off this game.

Todd Tosses Irish to Win No. Five

Second Home Win of the Season

Bill Todd, the red headed pitching ace of the Irish hurling corps, with three straight victories to his credit, landed the McAllistermen to a win over Illinois College of Jacksonville on the local diamond Thursday, May 5th by handing the western Illinois men a 6 to 3 defeat. This defeat will evidently put a crimp in the hopes of the Illinois outfit for the championship. It was the fifth straight home victory for the locals and they played like major leaguers to avenge the defeat which they suffered at the hands of the Jacksonville nine on April 23rd. Todd allowed but five size bingles while his teammates collected seven off of the slants of Newkirk, the star of the visitors. Carney, Laffey and Bassana each pushed out a nice double while Romary did the long range hitting with a triple to deep right in the eighth.

The old bewiskered hidden ball trick worked to perfection in the ninth by the Viator lads when Romary caught Lisdutch napping off of third base after having, quietly received the ball from Todd. The play was executed so rapidly that it took the crowd a full minute to dope out just what had happened. Todd had got himself into a bad hole by filling the bases, and with the clean up man at bat he decided to put the game on ice by co-operating with Romary to end the affray. Oh boys! how that crowd did cheer. Even the umpire got all excited and congratulated Todd and Romary on the effectiveness of their slight of hand performance.

Schuster and Newkirk were the heavy hitters for the visitors, each tapping Todd for a triple. Sharp, the second baseman, rapped out a double in the seventh. Their infield did not perform so smoothly, as the three errors in the box score will show.

It can be truthfully said that the game was the best played here so far this season.

Bradley Leads Pack

As this issue of The Viatorian goes to press, Bradley was leading the race for the Little Nineteen baseball championship. To date the Hilltoppers have but one defeat chalked up against them, and Viator administered that one. Coach Robertson's crew will have to score a win over both Viator and St. Normal before they can officially claim their fourth consecutive title of the season. The Viator board of strategy intends to put a crimp in Bradley's plans, though. The standing of the first seven teams, as of Saturday, May 24th, was as follows:

| TEAM | W | L | Pct |

| Bradley | 5 | 1 | .833 |
| Millikin | 4 | 2 | .666 |

Irish Gain Sweet Revenge on Blue

Touch Hankins for 12 Runs — 12 Hits

The McAllister men salted down their third home victory in less than a week when they romped over the strong Millikan University nine on Monday, May 5th by handing them a 12 to 3 wallop. The Celts will avenge the 3 to 1 defeat which the Millikinites dealt out to them in Decatur on April 20th. The Viatorians punished the union at all stages of the game and gave their visitors plenty of work to do. Bill Todd, the versatile pitching ace, did the mound work for the locals and allowed his opponents but four hits, all of which were measly singles. He fanned five men while Hankins, the Millikin twirler, could only send three men back to the bench empty handed. Todd also blasted the age old tradition that pitchers are not supposed to be hitters by piling out a triple and a double in five trips to the plate. Woods, Weber and Romary also succeeded in socking out two hits apiece. The latter two, each with a triple and a single, took terrific clouts at the ball. Jim Hunt, the speedy little Frosh infielder, made his debut as a college pill pounder when he was placed into the shoes of the injured Elvard. He filled the position like a veteran and in five trips to plate he was passed twice, slid out once, sacrificed once and doubled to deep left once. Tommy Ahearn, peppy Soph catcher, did a fine job of the afternoon's receiving and added two tallies to the Viator total. Bob Pombert also came through with a pretty double.

The Millikinites were rather erratic, nine errors being chalked up against them. Hankins, their pitcher, got into some very difficult holes from which he had a hard time untangling himself. His support was very poor all through the game. Tarro, the Blue's catcher, accounted for four of the visitor's hits while Charlie Smith, their diminutive outfielder, scored two of their three hits. The whole Viator nine functioned very nicely, the infield being especially well oiled.

BRADLEY DEFEATED

Irish Win 3 to 2

Dan Dauntless of Alger fame in his prime days couldn't have put a more thrilling finish to a closely contested ball game than did Bill Hamilton when he scored the winning run in the ninth for dear old Viator on Monday May 12th at Peoria the stronghold of Bradley. The score was tied two all when Bill stepped to the plate and connected for a single. Carney followed with a long blow to deep left which should have been a single but Hamilton by virtue of his smart base running rounded third and dashed home while Mason was holding the ball. This was too much for the Hiltoppers and they just couldn't score a run in their half of the ninth. It was Bradley's first conference defeat of the season and Viator's sixth win.

Bill Todd outpitched Captain Furey in the great hurlers duel and secured one of the nine hits that put the skids under the Peorians. Bradley was held to five bingles all of which were well scattered. Pombert playing center field twisted his knee in the first inning and was replaced by Pete Christman who gave a mighty good account of himself in strange territory. Tommy Ahearn had a big day at the stick with a circuit clout and two doubles to his credit. Carney was next in line with two hits one of which was a double. The whole team played a whale of a game with no errors marked against them—a rather nice record compared with Bradley's five fumbles.

Captain Furey although he was tapped with regularity succeeded in whiffing ten of the Viatorians. No one of the Bradley crew was able to collect more than one hit off of Todd and only one of them drew a free ticket to first. The River City boys played loose ball all during the game.

Bradley opened the game with a run in the first and added another in the third. In the sixth Laffey socked one to the infield and reached first when the shortstop juggled the ball. Then along came Mickey Ahearn and smacked out a homer to tie the count. From then on the Irish were the masters of the situation. In the ninth Hamilton and Carney pulled their famous act to give the lead to St. Viator.

Titans Upset

Viator 7 to 2

Locals Get but 2 Hits

Wee Willie Meehan the ace of Coach Art Hills Wesleyan pitching staff had one of his Scotch spells Saturday day, May 10th and allowed Coach Sam McAllister's boys but two hits in a 7 to 2 win for the Titans. The Bloomingtonians touched Pombert for two triples and seven singles. The defeat ruined Viator's high hopes for their sixth straight victory and likewise put a crimp into their championship hopes.

Old Man Haid Luck forced the Irish to present a patched lineup for this important game and it was not possible for them to work with their usual precision. Bassana played second for the injured David Laffey was brought in from center field to take the place of Woods who injured his shoulder in the Illinois College game. Bill Todd the versatile pitcher was sent to left while Tommy Ahearn patrolled center field for Laffey. Even with all the changing the Bourbonnais gang fought desperately to save their cause but could not connect with Meehan's slants while they were at bat.

Cunev scored the first run of the game in the initial inning when he looped around the bases on two wild pitches and an error. Meehan then tightened down and only allowed Weber to tease him twice during the rest of the game. In the third the big Irish first baseman put a single down the third base line, and in the seventh he crashed out his second home run of the season. Just as Weber was crossing home plate after his circuit clout and while the fans were loudly cheering him the Bradley factory whistles began to toot in celebration of the long hit. Cunev made a circus catch in the fifth when he nipped what would have been a triple by throwing himself forward in time to catch the ball.

Hanold and Williams were the Wesleyan boys who collected triples off of Pombert. Appleton Burrow and Williams each contributed singles to the cause.

Glimpse 'O Games

O'Neil Wins

Championship

By the grace of God and the mighty stick of Joseph Francis Logan, borrowed for the occasion the invincible O'Neil juggernaut rolled to victory in a highly dramatic fifth inning in which they snatched an apparently hopeless victory from Marty Toohill's gang of apple knockers, and clinched the Intramural title. The champions—O'Neil, Warden Hayden, Watson, Wenthe, Morrissey, Mills, Hoover, Tucker and Monahan—are considering a barnstorming tour of this county and Fort Wayne.

Toohill and Donaghue split whatever consolation there is in taking second place between them. It is rumored that Ed Hunt and John McGrath also had teams entered in the race although to date they have not been found.

The ball exhibited was good, bad and indifferent. So were the games. McGrath held Donaghue to 21 while another 1312 affair threatened to go on like the little brook forever. As for the character of the individual play—dunt esk Eddie O'Neil's immortal fast inning in which he set up an all time record of eight errors will live as long as Clothier's home run after the ball had been returned to the infield. Joe Logan hit seven homers. Gill Middleton hit his back sliding into first base and Sprague caught a ball. Hack Fucker fanned three times in one game and Wenthe and Hoover invented a hidden ball trick for baseball when they both caught the same fly. So it could go on for hours—but the important thing was realized—the season was a big success and everyone had his picture taken—even Ed Hunt.

Diamond Dust

Did you realize that the Champs have a left handed battery that eight hits were broken that the umpires were pretty good or awfully bad according to where you stood or that the Minonk Express played with every team in the league a number of big league scouts were snooping around or maybe they were villagers but anyhow they were around girls couldn't play this game then good sense wouldn't let them some of the men can't play it either and it isn't because their horse sense won't let them we won't pick an all star because we only weight one fifty but of course you would have been on it had there been one.

Much Interest Shown in Tennis

Quite a bit of interest in the grand old game of tennis has been shown this year about the campus. Every day there are some ten or twelve boys out on the courts plying the little white ball back and forth. Among the devotees of this sport are Buster Brockman, Pat Clancy, Gene Gibson, Buck Fieberborn, Red Graham, Burke Monahan, Jay Watson, Al Furlong, Johnny McGrath, Alvin Lahr and Bob Hull. It is hoped that by next year St. Viator will be able to enter a net team in the Little Nineteen race.

VIATOR LOSES

HECTIC GAME

Coach C. E. Horton's State Normal nine squeezed a one run victory over Sam McAllister's entry at Normal on May 22nd in one of the wildest games ever played in a Little Nineteen diamond. For three hours and twelve minutes the rival teams took turns in socking the apple, then Normal made one final effort and captured the contest in the tenth. The final score was 15 to 14. As the shades of night began to encompass Felmev Field, an exhausted crowd slowly wended its way home to talk over the thrills and spills of one of the queerest games ever played.

It was a bad day on the pitches and outfielders, both sections being given a real workout. Three Normalite and three Viatorian pitchers saw service on the mound and all six of them were tapped with tiresome regularity. The game was really a series of contrasts for it contained some excellent and some very bad baseball. At times the pitching and fielding was superb and at other times it looked like the brand exhibited at a Sunday school picnic. Some of the plays could very easily have been staged in the Yankee Stadium while others would not have been worthy of being pulled off in the bountiful assortment of strikeouts, walks and hits. In fact the two teams tried hard to accomplish all that is in the baseball handbook, and quite a few things that are not in the handbook.

The Teachers took to Mackey in the first and McAllister was forced to give Mooney his baptism of fire in the second inning. Mooney lasted till the end of the seventh when the Red Birds scored six runs, then Bill Todd came in to take up the burden. In the tenth, after Viator had been unable to score, Todd walked Rowe and allowed Shiner to single. Both moved up a peg when Todd balked and then Anderson the Teachers' third sacker squeezed Rowe across the plate with the winning run. Although the Irish outbit the Pedagogues 18 to 16 they could not get up enough energy to make the final plunge. Much credit must be given to them though, for their dogged fight for a comeback all through the game. Bill Hamilton had a big day scoring four runs and getting four hits. Weber hit two triples and a single in six trips to the plate. Except for the pitch ers every man on the Viator team was able to place his name in the hits column. Edward's brilliant fielding was one of the big features of the game.

Bill Bryant, lanky felty of the Normal pitching staff was touched for twelve bingles in seven innings and was forced to take to the showers after a Irish bombardment in the first of the eighth. Sullivan, another portside finished the eighth after yielding a triple and two singles. Shiner succeeded Sullivan and was touched for two hits in the ninth and one in the tenth. Mulera and Leonard each limbedast out three hits for their alma mater. Capt. Ryan of the Red Birds made a sensational catch of David's long drive in the sixth after a fast and long run.

DePaul Bows

Before Iris

Locals Stage Rally

Bill Todd was in rare form last Sunday, May 17th, when the green Viator was hoisted over the blue DePaul by virtue of a 3 to 2 win. Todd was steady all during the game, stringing out five of the Chicagoans and suug but two free trips to first. was given superb support by his teammates who pounded out nine safe hits one of which was a long triple over center fielder's head by Laffey. In the face of a high wind and a light drizzle there was but one error committed the locals. In the eighth a sure cat was driven over Carney's head by sudden gust of wind.

De Paul was leading 1 to 0 when the Irish came to bat in their half the seventh. Then the story changed. Ahearn singled, Romary walked, a Christman singled O'Connor, on a mound for De Paul, became rattled and threw the first ball to Todd rattled wide and wild. Ahearn and Romary scored and Christman stole third. Todd smacked one to the infield, but Christman was out stealing home. Todd went second when Hamilton sacrificed. David next man up also singled. A Todd came across the plate with the third Viator run of the inning. Laffey failed to duplicate his triple of the first inning and skied out to the center fielder.

The Viatoris coaxed seven hits of Todd but most of these were well scattered. Hair and Grogan were the only two able to score for De Paul. Dea, their shortstop, received a blow on the end of the finger in the third inning when he was hit by a foul ball. He was replaced by Nolan.

David was back in the lineup after being on the bench with a wrench knee and played a fine game in his position. Pombert and Woods were in the game both being on the injured list. Christman and Hamilton filled their places to perfection.

Bud Clancy Has Big Day at Bat

In a recent game with the New York Yankees John W. (Bud) Clancy 23 Chicago White Sox first baseman poked out two home runs a triple, and a single in five times at bat. Clancy has been going great this year and has been daily showing Manager Donke Bush that he can be considered as a formidable aspirant for the job of Art (The Great) Shives. The student are eagerly watching each day's box score for further notes on Clancy's hitting.

Father Maguire in Washington

Very Rev. J. W. R. Maguire, C. S. V., president of the College, attended a meeting of the advisory board of the college of Liberal Arts of the United States on Tuesday May 13th, in Washington, D. C. This association was formed recently in Chicago for the purpose of conducting a nation wide drive for endowments for the member colleges, and a committee of fifteen was organized to perfect an organization for the proposed drive. This committee to report their findings to the association sometime next January. Father Maguire is the only Catholic member of it.

New Church Dedicated

On Sunday May 18th Cardinal Muniken dedicated the new church of Our Lady of Mercy in Cicero with very impressive ceremonies. The church was built largely through the efforts of Mr. William Griffin, its pastor, and loyal friend of the College. Until recently the Viatorians have assisted this parish on Sundays.

DEPAUL RALLIES TO WIN

The last away from home trip of the season proved to be very disastrous for the Viatorian diamonders when the highly touted De Paul nine copped the return game of the series 8 to 7, in Chicago on May 27th. The locals were sitting pretty at the first of the ninth with a 7 to 2 lead and were confident that they had hung up another victory over the Chicagoans but the Demons, decided otherwise. In their half of the final inning they garnered six runs on six hits one error one man getting hit with a pitched ball and a base on balls. It actually seemed as if the De Paul team collected a whole seasons supply of breaks in one game while the Irish received more than their share of the seasons allotment of errors at one time—seven.

Bill Todd pitched a wonderful game up until the last of the ninth,—before that fatal inning he had allowed but five scattered hits and had struck out six rival batsmen. His teammates had pushed out eleven bingles under his generalship and had besides the other two triples scored five runs in one inning the sixth. In that glorious stanza Carney singled for his first hit of the day after Webber had fanned. Woods hit safely and sent Carney to third. Woods then stole second and Romary doubled to left. Two runs came in. Ahearn brought Romary in with a long safe hit. Todd next man up reached first on Deas error and then stole second. Hamilton singled and Ahearn and Todd crossed the rubber.

The DePaulians played good ball all during the game but saved their final efforts till the ninth. O'Connor the same gentleman who was defeated on the local field whiffed six men and gave but two free tickets to first. Lauritus Bodie Bellucci and Ascher each tapped Todd for two hits. The two errors of Dea the shortstop were the only man on the victors score sheet.

Evaded with three safeties and Laffey with two were the heavy hitters for the Bourbonnais Irish. These two players and Romary succeeded in getting a double apiece off of O'Connor's tosses.

By a series of coincidents both teams got eleven hits, and no man on either team succeeded in scoring more than one run. The game was another one of those proofs of that old adage that the game is never won until the last man is out in the ninth.

Varsity Rained Out at Elmhurst

The Viator baseball nine made a round trip to Elmhurst Wednesday May 14th only to have the scheduled game rained out. The locals had hoped to chalk up another victory over the Northern Illinois boys and felt quite disappointed when they were forced to return without it. Vince Mooney, the young Gibson City Freshman was slated to make his Little Nineteen debut. Owing to the heavy schedule of the Irish it is thought that there will be no attempt made to play off the game.

Dear Students:

Even the severest critics of modern young men and women admit their initiative, self-reliance, and competence. They can do things and do them remarkably well. They have learned to lead as captains of their athletics teams, as editors of papers and year-books, and as presidents of their classes and heads of their student organizations.

And the friends of modern young men and women have believed that these admitted good qualities can be turned to leadership for God and religion.

You, who have followed the work of the Sodality and the S. S. C. during the past years, know that back of that movement has been one implicit trust, a trust in ability, natural leadership, and real unselfishness of American young people. On that trust was founded the belief that, given a chance, they would want to be leaders in their religion as they are in other things.

While the Sodality and the S. S. C. aimed to create that spirit of leadership within the school, they also aimed through annual Conventions to make this religious leadership national in scope.

Undoubtedly these Conventions are splendid manifestations of national student religious leadership. When 1,500 or 2,000 of the country's finest Catholic young men and women come together, talk religion for three days, plan for Catholic action, and insist on the importance of personal holiness, the effect must inevitably be felt, not only in the schools represented, but throughout the whole of Catholic education.

More than that, the effect will eventually be felt on the communities into which these student leaders will in later life go to carry on the Catholic leadership they have learned during student days.

So, as the student leaders gather in Chicago this summer, their Convention is bound to be of immense importance.

First, it is a tribute of trust in the students themselves. It says implicitly, "We who are responsible for the Sodality and the S. S. C. believe that you students can lead in religion quite as competently as you can lead in athletics, journalism or social life."

Again it will have important consequences for the individual schools when next year the leaders come back with news of the Convention, with plans and methods they have learned there, and in increased appreciation of the value of their Catholic education. The spiritual organizations of the school cannot but leap forward to new life under their leadership and inspiration.

Finally, because of the Convention, hundreds of young men and women will have taken active part in a great Catholic enterprise, learned to talk and plan religious activity, will have met religious leaders from all over the country, and have felt a new pride in the greatness of their Church.

We count largely on the effects of the Convention. And we count on your presence to help make it a success. How very welcome you will be when we all clasp hands at the Palmer House, Chicago, June 20, 21, and 22.

mathematical deficiencies, but even I could have counted the crowd. What was the matter? The home town paper had no idea that college football was being tried in Illinois—and for the edification of those about to wise-crack, I shall tell you that they maintain a full leased wire United Press printer-telegraph service and print more sport news in one day than the local rags use in a week. The Chicago papers are always glad to use Little Nineteen matter, particularly the Herald and Examiner, yet when they wanted a pre-season forecast, they had to beg for it.

I realize that the Conference is under a great handicap because of its size, that St. Viator is just another name among twenty-three others. It may be that the proposed split of the Conference will remedy that—it certainly will make a less complicated race for the fan to follow, but until that day, can't we do something to let the world outside Kankakee and Bloomington and Fort Wayne know that some other Catholic college besides Notre Dame exists, play games and wins a majority of them?

Clean Sweep of All Offices

back with us one year, has won for himself a large place in the esteem of every man on the campus, sufficient proof of which is the dignity and importance of the office to which he has been raised. As his alternate, he will have Herb Shea, a fellow classmate of two years residence.

Mr. Romary, the only unopposed man on the ballot, is of the class of '32. He is a well known figure on the campus, and a star in football, basketball and baseball.

The outgoing President, Mr. Warne, is one of the most popular men on the campus. A man of unusual ability, he has headed almost every important activity on the campus—President of the College Club, Managing editor of the Viatorian, Debater, and chairman of every committee or whatnot that has been formed. To him is due the credit for every success of the Club in the past year, and despite its strong slate of new officers, the Club will feel his loss keenly.

Change in Exam Dates.

The dates for the semester examinations have recently been changed by the Dean of Studies. It was originally planned to hold the exams on May 29th, 30th, 31st, June 1st and 2nd, but owing to the intervention of Ascension Thursday, Decoration Day, and Sunday it was decided to give these days preference. According to the new schedule, the exams will be held May 31st, June 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th.

THE SALOON HELPED HIM

"If any man here," shouted the temperance speaker, "can name an honest business that has been helped by the saloon, I will spend the rest of my life working for the liquor people."

A man in the audience arose. "I consider my business an honest one," he said, "and it has undoubtedly been helped by the saloon."

"What is your business?" yelled the orator.

"I sir," responded the man, "am an undertaker."
